

Ira A. Phelps, 70, Dies, Rites Today

Well Known Linn Man Was Albany Native Active in Work

LEBANON — Funeral services for Ira A. Phelps, 70, well known Linn county man, who died at his home in the Bahke apartments August 31, will be read at the Harry C. Howe funeral home Thursday and interment will be in Lebanon.

Mr. Phelps was born in Albany May 9, 1867 and spent most of his life in the northwest where he has been active in business and civic affairs. He was for several years in newspaper work and held a clerical position in Mill City. He brought in the first engine to Salem at the completion of the road running to that point. During the World War he was in charge of the Lebanon telephone office. He was in business for a number of years in Medford where he was united in marriage with Effie Tice, who, with one son Francis, Phelps of Lebanon survives him. One son Earle passed away in 1912.

Besides his widow and son he is survived by two grand children, Loris and Bruce and Phelps of Lebanon and Bruce and R. C. Phelps of Heppner, N. S. Phelps of Kelso, Wash.; L. W. Phelps of Oakland, Calif.; and one sister, Mrs. Will Hill of Heppner.

Mail, Care of Bay Bridge, Delivered Valley Busy at Hop Harvesting

Dan W. Smith of Missouri gets his mail in a big way! A $75,000.00 postage box and the screeching siren of highway patrol officers recently contributed to the delivery of a letter addressed to Dan W. Smith, Missouri license No. 386. Toll collectors on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge received the letter August 23 and for four days scrutinized license plates of every automobile that passed over the span. Highway patrol officers spotted the car and gave chase.—H.N. photo.

All Areas now Reporting Picking, Mt. Angel Crop Has Mold

MT. ANGEL—From the standpoint of the picker the hop harvest in this vicinity seems a good one. Growers generally are paying $1.50 per hundred for picking which nets the average picker a fair day's wage in spite of poor hops.

Growers however are lamenting conditions, both as to prices and condition of the hops. Late hops are still conceded to be fairly free of mold but many early hops are so moldy that whole yards are left standing. One grower had the added expense of "dumping" his hops because of extreme moldiness after they were brought to the hophouse for drying. The excessive mold had not been apparent while the hops were still on the vine.

AURORA—Hop picking in this vicinity began last week. The heavy rain and the heavy damage in the yards, due to the heavy crop of hops. Wires and posts had to be repaired in many of the yards. Only one yard was reported badly damaged.

HAZEL GREEN—Fred Haslebacker, Albert and Edward Haslebacker and E. J. Montandon began picking hops last Thursday. The hops are an excellent quality. Alois Duda will begin picking soon.

AIRLIE — Hop picking has been in full swing at the M. E. Branch yard this past week. Early hops were finished Saturday morning, the work in the late hops beginning Monday morning.

TALBOT—Hop picking has begun in the late hops in this locality. Pickers are scarce here.

WALDO HILLS—Hop picking has commenced at the Hau, Judd and Kaiser-Brunner yards here.

ELDRIDGE — Albert Girod began picking his late hops Tuesday.

JEFFERSON—Picking of early hops began Thursday morning in the Thelissen & Grenz hop yard across the Santiam river. Picking of late hops on the McKee ranch one and one half miles northwest of here was expected to begin Monday, September 8.

52d Anniversary Observed, Albany

ALBANY—Mr. and Mrs. Franz H. Pfeiffer of Albany celebrated the fifty-second anniversary of their wedding day Sunday at their summer home at Cascadia. It was also Mr. Pfeiffer's birthday. The Pfeiffers were married in Albany in 1875, and with the exception of a year spent in eastern Oregon and in Portland have resided in Albany since that time.

Guests Sunday included Dr. and Mrs. D. V. Polling, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woods, Dr. and Mrs. Stark, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hough, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Junkin, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Flood, and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Taylor.

Major Oliver S. Olson was in command of the train which carried the Woodburn company and Howitzer company, 162nd infantry of Silverton, Co. 116th Medical regiment of Lebanon, and Co. D, 186th infantry of Oregon City.

Liberty Host to Oregon Fox Meet

LIBERTY—One of the series of summer schools each year by the Oregon Fox Breeders' association was held here last Friday and Saturday.

The first day was devoted to the problems of mink growers, the first school for mink growers ever held in Oregon. Speakers on the day's program were: Michael Deeder of the Seattle Fur Exchange; Hugh Crooker of Oregon City spoke on "Why All Growers should belong to the Association;" Charles Garfield, editor of the Fur Journal in Seattle, on "Fashion and Fads in Furs;" Robert Watt of Bay City spoke on the feeding and breeding of mink and Robert Woods, president of the Puget Sound association talked on caring for mink.

Saturday discussion pertained to the raising and marketing of foxes. Harold Potts of Coquille discussed the tariff on fox pelts. He stated that the importation of pelts from Norway is increasing rapidly despite the fact that there is supposed to be a 50 per cent tariff in effect at present.

Eugene Finlay of Jefferson, president of the Oregon association, spoke on fox care and Archie Gardner of Oregon State college told of the college experimental farm and its work.

Points brought out were that mink is a coming Oregon industry, that mink farms are rapidly increasing and many fox farmers are taking over the raising of mink as a sideline. The market for fox and mink pelts is good.
