Record Enrollment Looms; Emphasis on Athletics new Coach's Plan

MT. ANGEL—Athletics will receive special emphasis at Mt. Angel college and seminary during the coming school year. Classes open on September 23, with registration on September 21 and 22, and Francis Cogan of Eugene, new athletic coach, will be at hand to supervise all sports and recreational activities.

Physical fitness of students will receive special attention and the coach will be exempt from all classroom work to enable him to devote full time to his own department. Cogan has an enviable coaching record and MAC's Fighting Angels look forward to an interesting year in the field of sports.

Emma Archibald Last Rites Held

Well-Known Woman Long Resident at Tangent, Aided Farm Home

ALBANY—Funeral service for Mrs. Emma Louise Archibald, 78, who died at her home on Route 1, Tangent, Wednesday, were held from the Fortinier funeral home Friday afternoon. Dr. T. D. Yarnes, pastor of the Methodist church, in charge of the services. Burial was in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Archibald was one of the best known women in Linn and Benton counties, for many years being prominent in temperance movement work, and for the past 17 years president of the Linn county WCTU. She was a tireless worker.

To Mrs. Archibald is also due the location of the Children's farm home located on the Albany-Corvallis highway. It was a dream of hers to have such an institution and when the home appeared a possibility, Mrs. Archibald made practically a house-to-house canvass in order to have the home located in this district. Plans called specifically for the location of the buildings to be in the district, which donated the greatest funds. Through the efforts of Mrs. Archibald this district raised most money and the farm home was located here. During the 15 years of the home's existence hardly a week passed that she did not call on the children and their guardians.

Mrs. Archibald belonged to the Methodist church and was a member of Ladies of the GAR. Born in Whiteside county, Ill., March 26, 1859, Mrs. Archibald spent 15 years there. In 1874 she came to central Oregon. In 1902 she came to the valley and had made her home for 35 years near Tangent.

On July 26, 1886, she was married to John Archibald at Corvallis. Mr. Archibald died Dec. 11, 1935. Surviving is a son, L. L. Langdon, of Twin Falls, Ida., a former marriage; a daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Shearer of Tangent, one sister, Mrs. C. E. Rollins of Portland, ten grandchildren and three great grandchildren.
