

Start Building Deep Sea Fishing Boats at Lebanon

Each 53-Foot Craft Requires 11,000 Feet of Lumber Which Is Hauled From Coos Region

O. H. and Gerald Briggs and F. F. Neely Erecting Frame at Crandall Mill; Plans Call for Assembly on Willamette River

LEBANON—O. H. Briggs, his son Gerald and F. F. Neely are erecting two deep sea fishing boats, each of 53 foot length, 14 foot beam and 6 foot depth. Each boat requires 11,000 feet of lumber which is Port Orford cedar and fir planking, hauled from Millington, six miles south of Marshfield.

The boats cannot be transported either over the state highways or railroads to deep water, so the builders will frame them here at the Crandall mill and assemble them on the Willamette river at Albany from where they will go to Portland, Astoria and on to Coos Bay where they will be launched for sea fishing. The boats will probably be completed by the first of the year.

CAN PEOPLE REALLY TELL THE DIFFERENCE IN CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS?

The Best Answer is This . . .

Camels are the Largest-Selling cigarette in America

Year in and year out, Camel pays millions more for finer tobaccos. And smokers do appreciate the added pleasure this means to them!

Camel's use of choicer, costlier tobaccos has been the subject of much discussion. The question has often been raised as to whether or not people could tell the difference.

The way smokers feel gives the answer! Camels are the largest-selling cigarette in America . . . of the world.

If you are not a Camel smoker, perhaps you, too, would enjoy a cigarette with a richer, cooler taste. Turn, then, to Camels. Put them to the severest test—smoke them steadily. As you enjoy Camels, you'll realize how true it is that there is no substitute for costlier tobaccos.

Costlier Tobaccos in a Matchless Blend

Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic. Skillful blending brings out the full flavor of these choice tobaccos.

EVELYN CHANDLER, figure skater: "What an asset good digestion is! I smoke Camels during meals and after. They do help to keep my digestion in order."

GENE SARAZEN, golf champion: "I've walked, I guess, thousands of miles around golf courses with Camels. They never throw my nerves out of tune."

JOANNA DE TUSCAN, fencing champion: "I enjoy smoking so much—and I find that with Camels I can smoke often. Camels don't give me ragged nerves."

FRED McDANIEL, Texas rancher: "Me and Camels have been getting along mighty fine now for over 15 years. I never saw the beat of Camels for tastiness."

OTIS BARTON, underwater explorer: "After a dive in the 'bathysphere'—or any time I'm tired—I smoke a Camel. I get a 'lift' with a Camel."

MRS. JOHN W. JOCKEFELLER, JR., society aviatrix: "I prefer Camels for steady smoking. I smoke as many as I please—they don't get on my nerves."

HERB LEWIS, Detroit ice hockey star: "I go for Camels in a big way. After an exhausting game—extra periods and all—they give me a 'lift.'"

IRENE SHERWOOD, shopper: "Noon-time is one of my busiest times. That's why 'for digestion's sake'—smoke Camels! means so much to me."

SID WETZEL, tunnel engineer: "I work in the face of danger. My sentiments are—'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!' Camels don't frazzle my nerves."

MRS. VINCENT MURRAY, homemaker: "Believe me, I appreciate how mild Camels are! Camels don't have any 'cigarette' after-taste."

RAY WINTERS, radio announcer: "Camels suit me! And that goes for my throat especially. Can't remember when Camels ever scratched my throat."
