

Governor Declares Intention to Protect Men Who Wish to Work

Will Bolster Local Action

Martin Avows He Will Step in When Other Means Fail to Suffice

Men who wish to work will be aided to that end by Governor Charles H. Martin, who yesterday declared he had determined upon a definite policy of protecting these laborers, regardless of their labor affiliations.

Follows Coquette Action

Governor Martin's policy was announced following his action Tuesday night in directing Charles P. Bray, superintendent of state police, to send his operatives into Coquette, to protect approximately 750 AFL employees of the Smith Wood Products Construction company.

"I received requests from local authorities, prominent citizens, the chamber of commerce and the owners of the plant to intervene. It was reported that the sheriff was not protecting the men who are working and permitted the strikers to trespass on the limited parking space on the company's property in an effort to hinder the workers from entering the plant and to block the highway adjacent to the plant."

Warns Local Officers

Governor Martin said he had warned the state police to keep the highway open and had warned the sheriff that he expected him to maintain law and order.

Pipe Company Is Moving 'Factory'

The American Concrete & Steel Pipe company has begun moving the last of its pipe-laying equipment out of the city in expectation of acceptance by the city council early next month of the 16-mile, $647,985 Salem-Stayton gravity pipeline. It was reported at the city water offices yesterday. Seven trucks have been shipped to Los Angeles and two to Tacoma. Concrete pipe making equipment was shipped to Utah early in the summer.

Water Manager Cuyler Van Patten commended the pipe company on its thoroughness both in constructing the line and in cleaning up the right of way after backfilling the trenches. He said no property owner had registered a complaint regarding the condition in which the right of way had been left.

The water commission probably will receive recommendations from the city's consulting engineers regarding acceptance of the big contract job at the commission's meeting next Friday night. If the commission approves the acceptance, it will be forwarded to the city council for final action the following Monday night.

Bounty on Silver May End Dec. 31

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—(AP)—How much the treasury will pay for domestically-mined silver after Dec. 31 may depend in part on the willingness of other nations to cooperate with this country effecting world stability of silver values.

President Roosevelt's proclamation fixing the price for domestic silver at 77.57 cents an ounce will expire at the end of this year, coincident with expiration of the London silver agreement.

Treasury officials said today continuation of the 77.57-cent domestic silver price and negotiation of a new international silver understanding are closely related problems.

It is expected the treasury will continue to pay some bounty price for the product of domestic silver mines, but authorities said the amount may depend partially on assurances regarding future world silver prices.

The present domestic price is about 33 cents above the world price.
