Farmers' Union News

LIBERTY—The Liberty local of the Farmers' union met Tuesday night. Ronald Jones, state Farmer's union vice president, talked on the benefits of cooperation among the farmers and the desirability of farmers controlling crop production themselves rather than by the government. He told also of the success of vegetable growers in maintaining price of their produce on the Portland market.

Trial Is Held in Tourist Camp

Fearing mob reprisals if the trial of Vandy Lee Mathews, 19-year-old Negro accused of assault and rape, were held in ordinary fashion, authorities spirited the youth away to a picnic grove near New Philadelphia, O., where Judge E. E. Lindsay heard the case. The youth was given three to 30 years. When Mathews was arrested, crowds marched on three jails in Tuscarawas county seeking him, but he had been removed to Cleveland for safety.

State President Visits Auxiliary

Mt. Angel Unit Will Offer Navy Plate to Aid Library Fund

MT. ANGEL—Mrs. Otella Mardis, state president of the American Legion Auxiliary, and Mrs. Bill Hines of Dallas, were special guests of the Mt. Angel post and unit at a 7 o'clock buffet supper at the city hall Tuesday night.

At a business meeting of the Auxiliary held later, Mrs. Mardis gave a vivid account of her trip to New York and the national Legion convention. She touched on the Legion program for the coming year and noted some of the changes made.

Miss Theresa Dehler, Americanism chairman, gave a report on the "Constitution Tree" planting ceremony here in which the Auxiliary participated.

To Offer Navy Plate
Members of the Auxiliary agreed to put a navy plate as a prize for a contest to raise funds for the local public library, founded by the organization a few years ago.

With the help of the other organizations of the town, the library has grown surprisingly and now numbers 500 volumes. It is still housed in St. Mary's school but has been moved to a larger room.

Students at Oregon Normal School Paid $7558.87 From NYA Funds With 86 Women, 59 Men Securing Money

MONMOUTH—The importance of the National Youth Administration student aid here is evidenced by figures released in the annual summary, disclosing that the total sum expended in Monmouth was $7,558.87 going to students of Oregon Normal school.

First year students earned $3,248.86 and second-year students earned $4,310.01. Eighty-six women students and 59 men secured this aid, a total of 145 out of a total cumulative enrollment of 567 for the entire year.

Illustrating the quality of students taking advantage of this aid, the NYA students achieving the honor roll for one term was 26.9 per cent; and for two terms 13.79 per cent; and for three terms 4.14 per cent.

The physical education department was the heaviest user of NYA time, utilizing $2,171.36 of the fund. The psychology and training school departments drew more than $1000 each. Most of the other work done with NYA assistance was stenographic.
