Tea Compliments
Mrs. Towler
Thursday

One of the most charming affairs of the autumn season was the formal tea for which Mrs. George A. White was hostess at her home on West-Lettelle street yesterday afternoon in compliance to Mrs. Harry Hunt Towler who has recently moved to the capital to make her home with Lt. Col. Towler, U. S. A. Her tea was assigned duty here with the national guard and was previously stationed at Manila.

A large number of Salem matrons and maids were bidden to meet Mrs. Towler between 3:30 and 5:30 o'clock. Miss Henriette White greeted the guests at the door. Mrs. White and Mrs. Towler received informally in the drawing room.

Mingling with the guests in the living rooms were Mrs. Kenneth Rowntree, Mrs. Thomas Everett May, Mrs. Clifton Irwin, Mrs. William L. Phillips, and Mrs. Jerrold Owen.

Presiding at the tea urns the first hour were Mrs. Charles Robertson, sr. and Mrs. Reuben P. Boise. Pouring the last hour were Mrs. Daniel J. Fry, jr., and Mrs. Homer Goulet, sr. Assisting in the serving were Mrs. Richard Kriese, Mrs. Clarence Hamilton, Mrs. Carl G. Collins, Mrs. Homer Goulet, jr., Miss Dorothea Corey and Miss Margaret Simms.

The tea table arranged by Mrs. Victor R. Griggs was exquisite with a low centerpiece of grapes encircled with button chrysanthemums in white pottery.

Two colonial ladies holding bouquets of chrysanthemums were arranged behind the centerpiece. The buffet was set all in crystal with a dish of grapes and tapers burning in crystal candelabra. Large bouquets of gladioli, zinnias and chrysanthemums were arranged in the living room.

Union Veterans Hold
Masquerade Party

Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War and their auxiliary met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Robbins on North Liberty street on Tuesday night for social meeting. Halloween decorations of crepe paper were arranged in the rooms, refreshments were in the holiday motif.

Guests arrived in costume and did not unmask for an hour or more. Some were so successfully disguised that they were not recognized until masks were removed. The best costume was voted on and Mrs. Margaret Fessenden won. Second place was a tie between Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Perrine, L. P. Bennett was the most active. E. T. Prescott made a very successful witch.

Dinner Party Given
To Sorting Crew

A no-host dinner was enjoyed by the sorting crew of Reid Murdoch and Company on Tuesday night at the cannery. Mrs. Neva Leighty, the floor lady, presented a large decorated cake to the assembled guests and received a set of pottery. E. W. Southwick, foreman, was presented with a bill-fold.
