Police to Utilize KSLM, Emergency Broadcast Description of Offender, or Warning to Public, Plan

Designed for emergency service in the interest of public safety and welfare, a new hookup from the city police station to radio station KSLM has been installed, it was announced Wednesday by H. B. Read, proprietor of the radio station.

The hookup will be such that if at any time the police have an emergency announcement to broadcast, it will take priority over whatever regular programs are on the air, Mr. Read explained.

In case of such an incident as the recent fatal hit-and-run traffic accident, the police will immediately broadcast a description of the offending car and request public cooperation in locating the offender. Jail breaks or other occurrences in which the public may cooperate, or any general warnings to the public, if advisable, will be handled similarly.

The innovation was suggested by Mr. Read as one likely to be of public benefit.

Answer Is Filed To Milgrim Suit

Local Firm Declared Only One Registered; Denies Plaintiff Injured

Defending against the suit of H. Milgrim & Bros. to restrain Max Schlesinger, Saul Bloomberg and Sol Schlesinger from using the name "Milgrim" to designate their Court street store here, the defendants yesterday answered that the name was registered in Marion county to no other than themselves. Their advertising has always made it plain that the "Milgrim" store is entirely Salem-owned and operated, the defendants state.

The answer further declares the defendants' after plaintiffs had demanded their desist from use of the name in dispute offered and are still willing to publish advertisements stating they have no connection with the plaintiff corporation and do not deal in its merchandise.

The complaint was based on plaintiffs' allegation that the defendants were infringing on its name and good will and the claims that this good will extended to Salem through the medium of customers who were accustomed to buying goods bearing plaintiff's name from a Portland department store.

The answer alleges that any good will of the name Milgrim in Salem trading area is directly the result of defendants' conduct and especially of their advertising and the operation of their establishment here.

The two bands will play together but will engage in separate drills.

War Relics Seen In Store Window

Collection Owned by Late Dr. W. Carlton Smith Exhibited Today

An interesting collection of World War relics from the 91st division is now on display in Miller's window. The exhibit is arranged as a courtesy to Judge Jacob Kanzer who will be the guest speaker at the Armistice Day exercises here today. This display was the property of the late Dr. W. Carlton Smith who was assigned to the 363rd field hospital company of the 316th sanitary train, 91st division during the war. He was promoted to Captain in November, 1917 and took the 363rd field hospital company to France, as acting commanding officer in July, 1918. Dr. Smith was the first commander of the Salem post of the American Legion and also a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Reserve Officers association.

In this collection there is a story of the flag which was first displayed at the first Armistice at Audenard, Belgium; an old trench coat, the property of Dr. Roy D. Byrd; a book of all general orders; letters to Mrs. Smith and official pictures of the 91st division. The 91st division was a combat division during the World War and served in the Meuse-Argonne engagement and also during the Lys-Scheldt drive in Belgium. Among the prominent men of Salem and vicinity who served in the 91st division are Douglas McKay, Roy Ohmart, Dr. Roy Byrd, Dr. D. R. Ross, Carl Gabrielson, Mike Walker of Independence, Orville Wegner, R. V. Hickether, O. D. Adams and Jerrold Owen.

Muscular Rheumatic Pains

It takes more than "just a salve" to draw them out. It takes a "counter-irritant" like good old Musterole—nothing, warming, penetrating and helpful in drawing out the heat, congestion and pain when rubbed on the aching spots.
Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness generally yield promptly. Better than the old-fashioned mustard plaster, Musterole has been used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong.

Hearsay

"I heard someone say . . ."

Not so long ago, people depended upon tales of returned travelers for their information about distant lands. Even when true, these tales were frequently misunderstood and misquoted. Often they were tall tales to begin with . . . There was no way to check up on these stories, no agency devoted to the accurate reporting of what really happened around the world.

Today journalism of integrity is an authoritative source on which to base stories, judgments and opinions. Furthermore, the published story can be referred to and reread in its unchangeable form.

Such journalism requires great care in its compilation, for it must withstand the strong light of publication.

During a half century of development The Associated Press has adhered closely to an ideal of journalistic integrity. That is the reason why newspapers of today can bring to their readers truthful and unbiased reports of what is happening all over the world.
