

Monmouth's New Building for 1937 to Date Totals $306,000

Remodeling Adds $4314

Actual Construction Work Still Greater as all not on Record

MONMOUTH—According to information tabulated from building permits by the city recorder, Mrs. O'Rourke, the total of new building construction in Monmouth in 1937, to date, is $306,000. Reconstruction and rebuilding investments totaled $4,314. There is considerable more of this than the records show as a lot of individual remodeling was done which did not get on the record.

Dugdale Speaker
R. E. Dugdale, new city superintendent of Portland schools, addressed students and faculty of Oregon Normal school, at convocation this week.

He stated, in part, that teachers by demonstration of their work, should "sell" education to the public. The worth of education must be an actual realization to the public, else the public cannot estimate its cost in terms of its real evaluation.

"Slats" Gill Speaker
The Luncheon club was entertained Tuesday noon with a talk on basketball by A. T. "Slats" Gill, coach of that sport at Oregon State college. He stressed the importance of self control as a primary requisite for beginning players, and one which must be exercised continuously as he goes from the lower to higher playing brackets.

He discussed the rule situation, explaining that basketball officials have more difficulty than those of other sports because rule distinctions are less sharply defined.

Friends Honor Joe Tetherows

Occasion Is 50th Wedding Anniversary; Dinner Party Is Held

MONMOUTH—Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tetherow of the Elkins section near Monmouth, observed the golden wedding anniversary of the Tetherows November 10, with appropriate recognition. Mrs. Tetherow was Miss Lillie Sebring of Dallas. They were married November 10, 1887, 50 years ago, by Rev. Preston Holman at his farm home near here.

The affair was a double wedding, the other couple being Miss Martha Rife and Hugh Williams, both of Airlie. Miss Rife was a cousin of Miss Sebring. Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams passed on some years ago.

Tetherow, "Joe" to everyone in Polk county, was born near Buena Vista on his grandfather George McLaughlin's donation land claim. He is descended on both sides of his family from early Oregon pioneers. His father owned the land in the Elkins section on which Joe and Mrs. Tetherow have lived for 45 years of their married life.

Former Road Supervisor
For many years he divided his time between farming and serving Polk county as a road supervisor. He has many vivid memories of actual pioneer life, with its hardships and obstacles, and he typifies hearteningly the cheerful disposition with faith in the future of man and country that made Oregon grow and progress.

The Tetherows have one son, Carl, a representative of the Creamery-Package company at Los Angeles. Their anniversary was occasion Wednesday night for a dinner party at Monmouth hotel. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Tetherow, Monmouth, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, sr., and Mrs. Margaret LeFurgy of Salem.

Public Invited to Enjoy St. Luke's Annual Bazaar

WOODBURN—St. Luke's Catholic parish will hold its annual bazaar in the community hall Sunday, November 14. A chicken dinner will be served from 12 until 2 o'clock by the women of the parish and in the afternoon various games and other amusements will be enjoyed. The general public is invited.

Whole Town Stages Get-Together In Observance of Education Week

With M. R. Thompson as Speaker

MONMOUTH—A splendidly cooperative spirit was manifest Wednesday at the high school gymnasium, when pupils, teachers, parents and friends of the training school of Oregon Normal, and Monmouth high school, collaborated in a get-together, no-host and informal, to observe education week. Women of the American Legion auxiliary of Monmouth served coffee. More than 200 parents were present.

James Gentle, presiding, introduced Principal M. R. Thompson who gave an inspirational talk using as his theme Lincoln's Gettysburg address. He referred back to that historic occurrence; to the activity of Horace Mann, nationally known educator who 100 years ago secured legislative aid in support of state normal schools for the first time in the history of this country. He pointed out that the work of education has gone forward a long way since then, but it is unfinished.

Musical vocal numbers were presented by a girls' high school trio: Dolores Bracken, Lillian Kutz and Edna June Yarnall; a violin trio by Connie Riddell, Margaret Gentle and Nancy Jane Miller, and choros singing led by Miss Blanche Cohen were featured. A group of training school primary tots gave musical selections.

Five training school boys: Robert Crook, Frank Smith, John Lorence, Oscar Christensen, jr., and Bob Lorence, all officers of their student body, gave talks. Mrs. E. A. Stebbins, president of the Civic club, reported that two Campfire organizations have been started here; and that "Elephant Boy," a movie, is being presented under auspices of the Civic club at Ross theatre this weekend.

Owing to the Thanksgiving holiday coming on the fourth Thursday of the month, it was decided to hold the social night Thursday, November 18. It will be a parcel sale and everyone is requested to bring a wrapped gift with the value marked on the outside. These parcels will be sold at the marked price and the proceeds will go toward the purchase of the lot for the new hall. There will be games and refreshments. The public is invited.

SIX INCHES SNOW ON TOP SANTIAM
MT. ANGEL—Bill Dehler of Prineville arrived at Mt. Angel Thursday night for a short stay. He made the trip by way of the North Santiam highway and reported six inches of snow on top of the divide, with the snow still falling. He states the highway is unsurpassed for scenic beauty and shows the fine results of the work of the CCC boys. Except for the narrow road between Detroit and Mill City, the road is in fine condition and much to be preferred to the Wapanitla cut-off.

Bill Dehler owns the 44 cattle ranch at Prineville and is a breeder of purebred Herefords.

Mrs. John Kehoe returned to her home in Portland Thursday after a three-day visit here with her sister, Mrs. Louis Schaecher. Robert Welton, jr., left for Eugene where he is employed Thursday after spending a few days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Welton.

Disaster Plays No Favorites

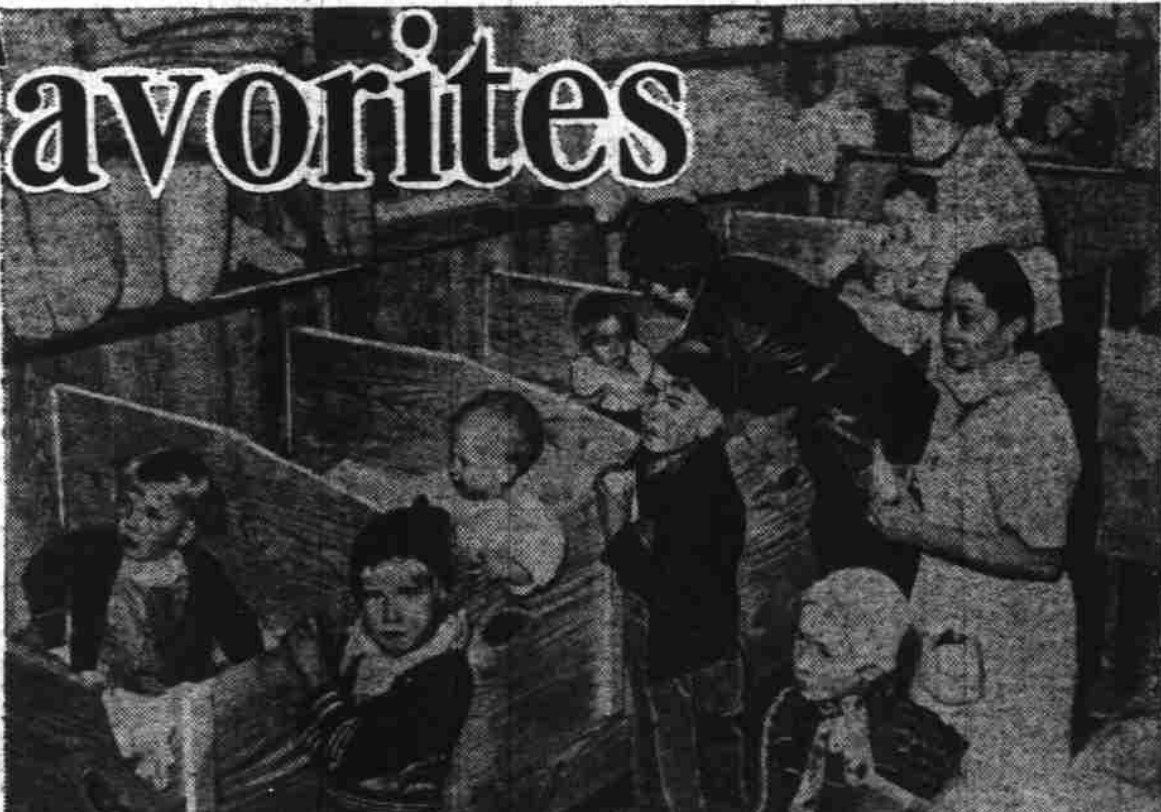

Records of 56 years of relief work by the American Red Cross show no community is immune to catastrophe—whether flood, fire, epidemic, highway accident, drowning or other hazard. The Red Cross always stands ready to help. So join for your own sake!

FLOODS ROSE TO DANGEROUS HEIGHTS in many cities as well as in rural areas in the Ohio-Mississippi valleys in 1937. Red Cross rescued and fed a million and a half people in 182 counties in 12 states

DEATH TOLL from motor accidents continues to mount. Red Cross has Emergency First Aid Stations on nation's highways where trained first aid can be given injured

EXHIBITION BINS in a fair grounds auditorium made good beds for babies homeless during the floods. Red Cross nurses watched over the babies' health

DURING the flood emergency the Red Cross was baker, grocer, milk man and landlord for thousands of families

OTHER THOUSANDS, flood-marooned in their homes in 1937, relied upon Red Cross food packages which were carried to them by boat

DEATHS from accidents in the home and on the farm outnumber deaths from motor injuries. Red Cross, through an educational campaign, seeks to combat these hazards to life

SEVEN THOUSAND lives are lost each year in drowning accidents. Red Cross teaches life saving methods, to safeguard bathers and resuscitate the drowning

PREVENTION OF EPIDEMICS often is a Red Cross duty. Influenza, meningitis and pneumonia were curbed during the flood aftermath; 300 emergency hospitals were set up by Red Cross, 3,600 nurses were on duty

TORNADOES are disasters of most frequent occurrence—floods are second

CHILDREN HOUSED with their families in Red Cross tent colonies were given toys and recreation was provided by other children through Junior Red Cross
