Informal Reception to Follow Concert

The year's first program to be given by the Salem Philharmonic orchestra will be presented at the new high school auditorium on Wednesday night, December 1. Although a third of the players are new this year, their work is said to be excellent and a very fine program has been developed under the direction of Edouard Hurlimann.
One of the highlights of the program will be the playing of the "Surprise Symphony" by Joseph Haydn, one of the first composers to experiment with the values of musical instruments and their relationship to one another, thus establishing the basis of modern orchestration.
As another feature of the program, Edouard Hurlimann will play a violin solo "Ciaccona" and will be accompanied by John Emmel.
Following the program an informal public reception will be held in the school gymnasium to honor the new director and the members of the orchestra. The social committee is headed by Mrs. Karl Beck, Mrs. Breymen Boise, Mrs. Clifford Brown, Mrs. Walter Dry, Mrs. B. O. Schucking, Mrs. E. M. Page and Mrs. Charles Robertson.

The regular meeting of the Business & Professional Women's club will be held at the Argo on Tuesday, November 23, at 6:30. The program of September was postponed and will be followed out at this time. The meeting will be under the research committee with Mrs. Ethel Parr, chairman, presiding. The topic is "Let's Get Acquainted With Our Town." William McGilchrist, jr., will speak on "Salem Yesterday and Tomorrow."

Guest night will be observed by members of the Salem Junior Woman's club Monday night at the clubhouse at 8 p. m. Miss Ila Hoffer will sing several numbers and a speaker has been arranged. Supper will be served later in the evening with the following serving on the committee, Mrs. Ray Kahler, chairman, Miss Loretta Rhoten, Miss Dorothy Cornelius and Miss Clara Zuber.

Members of the RCKT club met at the home of Mrs. A. A. Waller on Thursday with Mrs. Roy Wassam assisting, and Mrs. Richard Erickson as a special guest. Chrysanthemums were used as decorations. ## Style - Smiles - - - by Gretchen

"It looks lovely on you, dear—of course, I have to have something more youthful." There's a slight dig implied somewhere but it's hard for us to figure it out because we're pretty much carried away with both gowns, aren't you? The sophisticated one at the left wears black wool, which in itself is now sophisticated for evening. Draped into a veritable knot at the waist causing folds to fall into a panel; the gown's only embellishment, a diagonally flowing, wide band of velvet. Ivory damask satin on the right with fullness concentrated below the moulded hips and high in the bodice. (Copyright 1937, Esquire Features, Inc.)

Picture This Lovely Watercolor on a Wall of Your Home

BAHAMA TORNADO by WINSLOW HOMER, America's greatest watercolorist

WINSLOW HOMER is America's foremost watercolorist and one of the greatest watercolorists of all time. Before Homer, American painters had concerned themselves with imitating Europeans. Homer was the first really talented American painter to give himself to the painting of life about him. Ignoring the European tradition, he travelled to American scenes such as the Adirondacks, Maine, Florida, the Bahamas, painting everything from the humble life of a New England fisherman to the primitive life of the Negroes in Key West... Typical of his best dramatic mood is this beautiful free watercolor, the Bahama Tornado, in the Metropolitan Museum, exhibiting how Homer loved to depict nature in her violent moods.

A Panorama of Art

The pictures are distributed in groups of four, one set each, covering succeeding periods in the history of art. The series of 48 gives you a priceless panorama of the history of art from the golden age of the Italian Renaissance to contemporary America—a valuable background for understanding art today. Each print is about 11 by 14 inches.

Art Appreciation Lessons FREE

Each group of four pictures includes an illustrated Lesson in Art Appreciation, by Bernard Myers, Ph.D., of the Fine Arts Department of New York University. These are written in a delightfully informal style that makes art seem real and artistic human. They tell you simply why some pictures are such great favorites, and why you ought to like some of those you think you don't. There are more than 200 helpful illustrations.

CONVENIENT PORTFOLIO FREE

Every one of these paintings is important. You will want them all as a sort of private collection of your own. A specially designed Collectors Portfolio, bound in soft brown and large enough to hold all the pictures and the lessons, is presented free to all who secure the entire set of 48 paintings. (A charge of 15 cents is made if ordered by mail.) Here the Portfolio Certificate in each booklet envelope.

To know great art is an important part of living. You could not do a finer thing for yourself and your children than to start collecting these Famous Paintings today!
