Campbell to Speak—Ralph H. Campbell, assistant attorney general and chairman of the committee on legal affairs and interpretation of the interstate conference, is to be the guest speaker at the WPA adult education class in the problems of democracy Monday night at the old high school. This class meets also Thursday nights. The subject of Mr. Campbell's address is "The Place of Unemployment Compensation in the Social Security Program." Everyone interested is invited to attend this lecture as well as the regular meetings of the class. The course is one of many offered through the cooperation of the Salem schools and the state department of education.

Meal Work Course—Beginning next Monday, November 29, there will be offered five nights a week an adult education course in meal working. Space has been obtained in the auto shops building at the old high school in which to hold this class. However, the first meeting of the class will be in room 1-A of the old high school. Instruction will be provided in fancy iron work, sheet metal work and electric arc welding. Adults who are interested in this type of instruction for improving their own business or hobby are invited to enroll. The course is designed to serve as vocational training.

Dances Planned—The Salem Elks lodge is planning a series of "night club idea" dancing parties to be held in the lodge temple during the winter months. The first of the series will be next Saturday, December 4, starting at 10 o'clock. There will be entertainment and refreshments in true night club style with tables grouped about the dance floor. Harry Westley's orchestra will provide music. The affairs are to be informal and members and their invited guests are asked to reserve their tables at the temple.

Hewitts Grandparents—Dr. and Mrs. Roy R. Hewitt of Salem became grandparents for the first time Saturday when a son was born in Portland to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hewitt, both of whom are former Salem young people. Ronald Hewitt, a graduate of Willamette university, is probation officer for the court of domestic relations in Portland. Mrs. Hewitt was Miss Ida McNeil.

Chauffeurs Apply—More than 1000 applications for 1938 chauffeur licenses had been received by the state department up to noon Saturday. These applications must be filed by December 31. Records show that there are more than 28,000 licensed chauffeurs in Oregon.

Mrs. Bronson Better—After submitting to the second major operation at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland this month, Mrs. Blanche S. Bronson is recovering satisfactorily.

PASSING

THE SETTING SUN

Life, when you stop to think of it, is a good deal like the passing of a day. The sun rises, it reaches its high noon, and descends to its setting. It is our privilege and our duty to make the setting of one's life restful and peaceful, as we hope our own will be.

Afghan Hounds and Other Rare Dogs Entered in Show Scheduled Here on Friday and Saturday of Coming Week

Dogs from all the western states and British Columbia will be brought to Salem next weekend for the dog show at the army, being given under the sponsorship of the Lions Kennel club.

Virtually every popular breed will be represented in the show, and over 200 entries have already been listed; several are imported from Germany and England.

Three of the most outstanding dogs to be brought here are Chief Allen of Idaho, Patrick the Giant, and Brutus Junior of Forbes, bloodhounds from the office of the sheriff of King County, Wash. This breed of dog is seldom seen at shows, but with their long ears, sunken eyes and loose folds of skin under the chin will prove to be a popular attraction at this show.

A string of Afghan hounds, owned by Mrs. Jack Oakie is also listed among the entries at the Lions club show. The Afghan hound is a clownish looking dog with long pointed nose but with long silky hair on the rest of the head and body. The long, thin tail which curves up over the back and a silky topknot give him a rakish look.

Several white poodles, those dogs which so often used to be the stars at the dog and pony shows, are listed as entrants in the show. J. G. Murphy, internationally known judge from St. Paul, Minn., will be official for all breeds at the show. The Lions charity fund will benefit from proceeds of the show which will be held both Saturday and Sunday of next week.

Republican Group Will Hear Debate

Compulsory Arbitration by NLRB Will Be Topic at WU Dec. 7

Whether or not the National Labor Relations board should be empowered to enforce arbitration of industrial disputes will be the question discussed by Edwin Minneman and Aldus Smith, Willamette university debaters, at the next meeting of the Marion County Republican club in the Marion hotel Tuesday, December 7, at 8 p. m.

The debaters, coached by Prof. Herbert Rahe, will discuss the problem pro and con and remain for a period of discussion, according to Robert E. Jones, president of the Marion county group.

Harold Pruitt, state president of the Republican club, will also be present and will outline his plan for formulation of a set of working principles for the party by constituent clubs. Programs put forward by the various clubs will later be coordinated by a state committee and adopted as the club's official program at a convention to be called at a convenient date, Pruitt said.

Wade Assigned as Mass Prosecutor

Governor Charles H. Martin yesterday assigned the attorney general's office to take charge of the prosecutions of Sheriff E. T. Mass, his son, Howard, deputy sheriff, and Jessie Paddock, tax collector, all of Clackamas county, who are under indictments charging larceny of public funds.

The assignment was made at the request of District Attorney Fred H. Miller of Clackamas county.

Francis T. Wade, assistant attorney general, will be assigned to handle the cases, Attorney General Van Winkle said.

Pleas of the three defendants will be received in the Clackamas county circuit court Monday.
