Bend Judge Is Assigned Here

Jurist Duffy Will Hear Four Law Trials; to Set Dates Later

Judge T. E. J. Duffy of Bend was assigned by the supreme court yesterday to preside over four Marion county circuit court law trials from which Judge L. H. McMahan has been disqualified. The cases are the accident action of McElroy vs. Pimm, libel suit of Roseman vs. Putnam and two accident cases entitled Nendel vs. Meyers.

Court Clerk Harlan Judd immediately wrote to Judge Duffy notifying of the cases to be tried and requesting the cases to be tried as to dates on which he could be here. Judge Earl C. Latourette of Oregon City, who was to have presided over these matters, found it necessary to return to his own circuit after earlier trials had consumed more time than originally docketed.

Toyland Opens Today at Miller's Store

Christmas season's annual invitation is sounded today by Miller's store. Toyland, in the basement, new decorated in cream with red and black trimmings, is open for the younger generation's inspection. Dozens of doll buggies, doll beds, sewing kits, stoves, cleaning sets and other articles are there to delight the little girls. The small boy will find mechanical toys, tractors, trucks equipped with snow plows, gyroplanes and the Dick Tracy fingerprinting outfits. Miller's management has a gay little gift for each small child visiting Toyland today.

Governor Martin Boys'll Be Boys, Even Law Enforcers

Asks Farm Relief Immediate Relief Remedy for Wheat Mart Ills Is Speech's Plea

LAGRANDE, Ore., Dec. 3.—(P)—Governor Charles H. Martin, in an address prepared for delivery to-night before the Eastern Oregon Wheat league, pleaded for immediate government aid for agriculture.

Endorsing the proposed federal crop control program, the governor criticized those who "deplore the proposed governmental aid to agriculture which . . . is for the general welfare of the country."

He said these critics "are either arguing from ignorance or from an anti-farm prejudice."

"The prosperity of the Pacific northwest wheat grower in the long run is going to depend upon assistance from the national government in placing northwest wheat on the world market at prices which will move a reasonable amount of the wheat regardless of the changing level of domestic prices," he said.

He scored those who contend that crop control takes food from the hungry, asserting "the theory of reasonable crop control program is to reduce the production of food and fiber crops, but of regulating production."

Trio Cases Come To Judge Nelson

SILVERTON—Three cases, including one brought on change of venue from Salem justice court, came before Justice of the Peace Alf O. Nelson today.

One of the cases, from Salem was the drunken driving charge against Willis Wallace, who pleaded not guilty. Trial was set for December 22.

In the assault and battery charges against W. J. Davenport and preferred by Richard Keifer, Davenport pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $10 and costs. The case grew out of a fracas on the highway between Monitor and Silverton earlier this week, which fight in turn developed from an automobile wreck the previous day.

In the third case here today, Henry Vollner, accused of reckless driving in a complaint sworn by W. J. Davenport, Vollner denied guilt and will have a trial set for December 22.

William J. Small estate; report of T. G. Ferrer, administrator, of sale of real property to L. A. Smith for $400.

E. B. Quincy estate; order approving semi-annual account of United States National bank of Portland, executor, showing $5835.92 received and $2158.86 paid out.

Tax Payments Beat Deadline

Sheriff's Office Reporting Heavy Response Under Double Incentive

The impending December 15 deadline on final payment of 1937 taxes and the new state mandatory foreclosure law are proving a double incentive to taxpayers who are behind in meeting levies against their property, T. J. Brabec, chief deputy in charge of Sheriff A. C. Burk's tax department, reported yesterday.

"Payments have been running from $2000 to $7000 a day for the last two or three weeks and are on the increase daily," Brabec said. "I think it is largely due to the delinquency law and threat of foreclosure after the first of the year."

Half Have Paid—Tax payments will come within the December 15 deadline if they are in the mails under postmark before midnight of that day, Brabec said.

At least one-half of the more than 2500 delinquent taxpayers whom the sheriff's office attempted to notify by mail in mid-October have since paid up enough of their taxes to avoid the threat of foreclosure, Brabec said. The remainder will find their properties subject to foreclosure by the county after January 2.

Quarterly Pay Allowed—The new tax law as of 1937 permits a taxpayer to pay one-quarter each year on back taxes after the original half of the oldest delinquent tax has been paid. In addition the current year's taxes must be paid in full.

Whenever two quarters of the oldest delinquent tax on a property goes unpaid, foreclosure becomes mandatory upon the county.

Ask Support for Banking Measure

State Treasurer Rufus Holman, sent letters Friday to Oregon's delegation in congress urging support of the O'Mahoney bill now before congress amending the federal banking act of 1935 authorizing payment of interest upon demand deposits of public funds of a state or any subdivision thereof.

"Since the present prohibition as to payment of interest upon demand deposits of public funds causes considerable loss in revenue to all of the states and their subdivisions and since many of the subdivisions in Oregon have not been receiving any interest on their deposited funds, I am asking that you support the proposed amendments," Holman wrote.

Hoogerhyde Trial Set December 13

Salem Youth Faces Charge of Hit and Run; 22 Witnesses Called

Clairene Leroy Hoogerhyde, 22, will go on trial of a hit-run, fatal-accident charge before Circuit Judge Earl C. Latourette at Oregon City on Saturday, December 13, District Attorney Lyle J. Page announced yesterday. Judge Latourette has set aside three days on his docket for the trial, which will be on charges growing out of the death of two children, women after they were struck by an automobile allegedly driven by Hoogerhyde at 17th and State streets here in October.

25 Witnesses Will Go—Page said the state would take at least 25 witnesses to Oregon City for the trial. The fact that each will receive mileage fees in addition to witness fees will run the cost of the trial to a fairly large figure, Page predicted.

Hoogerhyde remains in the county jail here in lieu of posting the $1000 bail set by Judge L. H. McMahan. His trial will be the first arising here under the hit-run accident law as amended by the legislature early this year, it is believed.

Eastman Proposes New Primary Law

A so-called "open primary" for Oregon is proposed in a preliminary initiative petition filed in the state department yesterday by Elbert Eastman of Portland.

Under the proposed new law all candidates for political office, regardless of party affiliation, would file for the primary election. Registered voters would be entitled to vote for one candidate for each office.

The names of the two candidates for each office receiving the highest vote at the primary election would appear on the general election ballot.

Under Eastman's proposal would be restricted to two for each office.
