Mrs. C. A. Jacques, 35, Portland pedestrian, was killed at an intersection by an automobile.

Robert L. Nelson, 38, and Mildred Alberta Shoeman, 27, both of Portland, died Sunday night when their automobile crashed into an Oregon City street car at Jennings Lodge.

Edward N. Hodges, 44, sand and gravel company operator, and John Struffler, 47, both of Newberg, drowned in the Willamette river when their boat overturned.

R. M. Hlatt, Baker lumber worker, was killed today by a rolling log near Sparta.

Albany Man Shot

An unidentified transient, about 20 years old, died of exposure and under-nourishment in a building where he had taken refuge at Rowena.

Clarence Miller, Albany, was shot in the hip by a deer hunting companion near Lacombe Sunday.

William S. Clark, Lacombe, was arrested on a charge of hunting out of season and warrants were issued for Miller and Earl Cunningham, State Trooper Clay Taylor said.

Tom Goracke, Junction City, was injured possibly fatally in an automobile accident near Corvallis today.

Life in China Is Told by Shreves

AUMSVILLE—Rev. and Mrs. Harry Shreves, missionaries recently returned from China and who gave illustrated lectures at the Wesleyan church Sunday night, were greeted with an appreciative audience.

Mrs. Shreves gave interesting descriptions of her experience with a big war bombers were dropping bombs.

She gave graphic descriptions of funerals and weddings, and stated that Chinese marriages are rarely happy because of the disappointment of the couple who had never seen each other until after the wedding.

She showed and modeled a number of articles of clothing worn by the Chinese.

Rev. Shreves gave an interesting talk on "And Who Is My Neighbor?" Both missionaries told of their great love and interest for the worthy, needy Chinese people.

Marching Mountain's Damage Already Totals Half Million

As occasional small landslides continued on Los Angeles' famed "moving mountain," geologists expressed the opinion that three million additional tons of earth that had been slipping had stopped. Rehabilitation of high speed Riverside drive, gateway to populous suburbs, was reported to be impossible because there is, according to engineers, the ever-present danger of starting new landslides. City authorities said part or all of the damaged Dayton avenue might have to be abandoned. Photo shows part of the huge landslide as it covered the highway.—LIN photo.

Honor for Linn County's Oldest Native Born Resident Apparently Goes to W. T. Cochran of Albany

ALBANY—Three Linn county residents have laid claim recently to being the oldest native born Linn resident, but according to latest reports, the honor goes to W. T. Cochran of Albany. The other two contestants are J. J. Putnam and Austin A. Hulbert.

Cochran was born near Brownsville on the donation land claim of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Cochran, in 1851. Cochran, although past 86, is still active, drives his automobile, and looks after his own business transactions. Most of his active life was spent on a farm.

With the exception of one year spent in eastern Oregon and four years in Ashland, Cochran has been a resident of Linn county all his life. During 1870-71 he attended Oregon State college.

Hulbert was born in the Orleans neighborhood in 1853, and Putnam was born in 1854 a few miles east of Harrisburg. Both are now residents of Albany.

Local Dog Is Best 'Spotter'

Bengal Lancer Wins Honor Exposition Winds up Successful Run

The first Lions Kennel club dog show, held in the armory on Saturday and Sunday was pronounced a complete success by officials of the organization.

Around 2000 visitors viewed the 200 purebred dogs on display, and over a hundred breeders were represented. It was estimated that dogs exhibited were worth $50,000.

The sensational white standard poodle, Champion Knight of Piperscroft of Blaken, owned by E. E. Ferguson of Van Nuys, Calif., was chosen best of all dogs in the show by J. G. Murphy, the official judge.

Irish Setter is High

A local dog, Bengal Lancer, the Irish setter owned by William S. Walsh of Gervais finished his championship in a blaze of glory, going best sporting dog in the show and second best dog in the entire show.

Other dogs to compete in the final judging were: American and Canadian champion Welsh terrier Galen Maltoise of Maru owned by Walter Kendall of Portland; Chih Kwo, a Pekinese owned by Mrs. Grace Siegel of Seattle as best toy; the St. Bernard, Lady Juno, owned by P. A. King of Salem as best working dog; the Afghan hound, Champion Barberry Hill Dolly, owned by Mr. Jack Oakie of Van Nuys, Calif., as best hound.

Harry Willett was director of the show. Mrs. Norma Perry of Portland was show secretary.

DAR Preparing Historical Data

WOODBURN—Belle Passal chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution was entertained at the home of Miss Carrie Waterbury Friday afternoon.

A Christmas program and exchange of gifts were enjoyed. Miss Mary Mattley and Miss Esther Hettinger were in charge of the program. Miss Hettinger gave a Christmas reading.

The members of the chapter are gathering data to write a history of Belle Passal, for which their chapter was named, and taking pictures of interesting landmarks in the vicinity which, with a picture of the members, will be included in the DAR magazine. The February issue of which will be entirely devoted to Oregon.

A box of gifts was packed to send to Angel Island, which is the custom of the chapter each year.

Refreshments were served by the hostess with Miss Hettinger and Miss Mattley presiding at the table.

The next meeting will be held at the farm home of Mrs. H. F. Butterfield January 7.

Bazaar Occupies School Attention

TURNER—Turner high school is busy preparing for its bazaar to be given with various concessions next Friday afternoon and evening at the school house. A few of the community clubs will also have booths. The manual training class promises a good exhibit.

The domestic science girls will serve cafeteria supper from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock.

The 4H clubs will have a hot dog booth. Members of the dramatic club will put on a play, "O What a Family," with a cast of eight members, to be given about 7:45 p.m. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the school orchestra.
