Route Changes Outlined as Ordinance Passed, Franchise Granted

opinion of Alderman Goodenough, and upheld by several other members of the council, the city has no legal right to compel such a carrier to carry liability insurance, or its counterpart.

The new bus ordinance, as passed by the council last night provides:

1. Establishing of hours of labor for the drivers of buses.
2. Providing for establishment of bus routes.
3. Requiring of owners and operators to carry liability insurance, or file a bond in lieu thereof.
4. Requiring safety inspection of equipment by the chief of police.
5. Providing for the surrender and cancellation of bus franchises granted by ordinance.
6. Repealing all ordinances in conflict, except bus franchise ordinances.
7. Providing penalties for violations of the ordinance.

A new attempt was made by the council last night to pull its finances out of the dilemma into which they were thrown when the state audit for 1936 reprimanded the council for overdrawing of accounts in excess of budgeted amounts.

The council last night moved to have the city recorder compile a list of bills that cannot now be paid and submit them to the city attorney with a request for his opinion as to whether the city is authorized to make transfers from the city treasury, based on the $14,000 anticipated from Marion county due to the city from interest and fines on delinquent taxes.

As amended by Alderman Fred A. Williams, and passed by the council, the money when received from the county, will be added to the general fund and the different funds will be reimbursed to such an extent as will bring them within the balance of the budget.

A resolution, introduced by Alderman David O'Hara, and passed by the council, combining funds that are now, and that may hereafter be credited to the Lien Foreclosure fund and Property Sales fund, into a fund to be known as the Lien Foreclosure fund.

Impending Legion Events Announced

Important county and district American Legion meetings coming in the next two weeks were announced at last night's session of Capital post No. 9.

Friday night of this week the Marion county council will be entertained by the Statyon post and new officers will be elected. Sam Yoder of Silverton is the retiring president and Harry Wilson of the same city is secretary.

A district Legion conference will be conducted at McMinnville Friday, December 17, with C. E. "Boss" Palmateer, department commander, of Salem, in charge.

Work of the Sons of the American Legion was stressed last night at the post meeting and at a father and son banquet attended by 160 men and boys earlier in the evening. Al Greenwalt, national Sons committeeman, of Portland, outlined the organization's program.

Robert Neal Recovering From Collision Injuries

SILVERTON—Robert Neal is reported as recovering satisfactorily from slight bruises and cuts received last week when his bicycle collided with an automobile driven by Miss Marie Bolme on East Oak street. The boy was knocked unconscious by the impact. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Neal.

"The psychological moment is near and we believe when the fever breaks a settlement will come and with it a financial collapse of the IWA (CIO woodworkers' organization)."

Ben T. Osborne, executive secretary of the Oregon State Federation of Labor and AFL leader, said "No police protection will be required" at the Inman-Poulsen plant if it should reopen under the CIO. He said peaceful picketing would continue, however.

H. B. Duser, Inman-Poulsen president, said the governor was making "a sincere effort to solve a problem which sooner or later must be met."

"A majority of the men at the Inman-Poulsen plant petitioned the national labor relations board for an election," he said. "The board refused the same. I believe the governor has shown the way out for Portland operations."

lating that picketing would be continued at the Plylock corporation plant at St. Johns.

The agreement, accepted by the CIO group with the reservation, provided that neither AFL nor CIO should picket operating mills and that status quo be maintained. The committee reiterated that the AFL boycott on CIO lumber would be maintained.

An AFL proposal that CIO woodworkers return to the federation was before the IWA executive committee today.

The convention voted to submit to the membership a proposal to transfer headquarters from Seattle to Portland.

An attempt to bar a representative of a communist paper was defeated after an hour and a half of debate.

Republicans Swat Mileage Measure

the regular session beginning in January.

Upon the assumption similar action would be taken to provide "mileage" again for the regular session, Representative Taber (R, N. Y.) assailed the measure as "throwing the doors wide open without legislative authority" to permit members of congress to collect double mileage from the government, even though they remain in Washington over the Christmas recess.

Together with Fish (R, N. Y.) and Bacon (R, N. Y.), Taber seized the occasion to comment bitingly upon the special session's lack of accomplishments to date. Fish said the "new deal team is back upon its own one-year line, evidently, with no plans, or plays." Bacon asserted it did not become the house to "adjourn just before Christmas, having in mind the thousands for whom it will be a sad Christmas."

cooperating with those allotments.

Meanwhile, Senator Schwellenbach (D-Wash.) told the senate if it wished to heed Senator Borah (R-Ida) and feed and clothe the poor with farm surpluses it must prepare for a public outlay of $8,175,224,000 between now and June, 1939.

Administration leaders apparently had nominated the westerner to match the oratorical fury Borah unleashed last Friday. At that time the "Lion of Idaho" denounced crop control as "national suicide" and called on the government to "spend a billion dollars in buying excess produce for the needy."

"The slum dweller in New York doesn't want a bale of cotton, he wants a shirt—and the poor southerner doesn't want a sack of corn, he wants pork chops," Schwellenbach said.

Eckerlen Charged With Liquor Sale

The complaint charges Eckerlen with unlawfully and wilfully occupying and maintaining the Marion club "where alcoholic liquor, a more particular description of which is to the complainant unknown, was sold, manufactured, bartered, bartered and given away in violation of the law, in that the said alcoholic liquor was and is not sold, manufactured, bartered or given away by a person licensed so to do under Chapter 17, general law of Oregon, 1933, and the said defendant did then and there unlawfully and wilfully permit and procure divers persons, whose names at this time are unknown to the complainant, to resort theret for the purpose of drinking alcoholic beverages in violation of the law, whereby said... place known as Marion club... kept and used became a common nuisance to the annoyance and disturbance of the public peace and decency."

The charge against Eckerlen's four employees is one of assisting in the maintenance of the alleged nuisance described. Both complaints were issued Saturday.

Honolulu Team Is Hot

BREMERTON, Wash., Dec. 6.—(AP)—A lightning-fast McKinley high school team from Honolulu called for a 10 per cent blanket wage increase for employees of the editorial, business and circulation departments.

The guild was not recognized as a sole bargaining agency under the terms of the settlement.

Five in 2 Planes Lost in Typhoon

MANILA, Dec. 7.—(Tuesday)—

(AP)—Five aviators and passengers, including the Philippine army chief of staff and a United States army flier, were reported missing over 24 hours today in rugged territory buffeted by the islands' third typhoon of the season.

It was feared two army planes, one in which Maj. Gen. Paulino Santos, chief of staff, was riding from Cebu to Manila, had crashed either in mountainous Tayabas province, on the Pacific side of Luzon island, or had been driven seaward by the tremendous gale.

Maj. Gen. Basilio Valdes, assistant chief of staff, said that in addition to the transport plane in which Santos was riding, a bombing plane carrying two officers was missing.

Mayorality Going To Dogs, Claimed

Kuhn Irked Over Problems of Canine Population; Shakeup Hinted

Dogged by Salem citizenry who persist in coming to him with grievances over the stray dog epidemic within the city, and the inactivity of the city dog-catcher, Mayor V. E. Kuhn in an address to the city council Monday night said, "In fact, I'm getting dog-minded."

Mayor Kuhn asked the council for either a new dog ordinance, or for it to direct the police chief to put the dog-catcher to work or get a new one. He told the council that he spent from an hour to two hours daily answering queries concerning dogs. The council voted to give the mayor power to hire and fire the dog-catcher.

Authority was also given Mayor Kuhn to communicate with, and to obtain from the Oregon Electric Railway Co., an exact statement of the improvements the company intends to make on and abutting Front street, before the council considers the company's application for franchise.

Mayor Kuhn presented a letter written to him by Charles A. Hart, an attorney for the railway company, in which it agreed to make improvements in the tracks and pavement in and adjacent to Front street. Both Mayor Kuhn and the council expressed themselves as desirous of a more complete statement, hence the authorization given the mayor to negotiate with the company.
