

Local News Briefs

Bounties Listed—County Clerk Boyer yesterday replied to a letter from the state game commission regarding local bounties by reporting the county's payments being made on the following scale: Male coyote, $1.50; female coyote, $2; wolf, $1.25; bobcat, wildcat or lynx, $1; mountain lion, cougar or panther, $5. The commission letter advised that it would pay $1 bounty on lynx, bobcat or wildcat pelts in counties in which the counties made the same payments and would accept the clerk's statement on claims in lieu of the pelts themselves. In the case of state bounties of $20 on a cougar and $30 on a wolf, the commission requires that the pelts be sent in for checking.

Decision Near on Offices for State

Decision as to the purchase or erection of a state office building in Portland will be taken within the next two weeks, officials indicated Friday.

The special investigating committee of the board of control recently filed a report recommending the construction of a building rather than purchasing one already erected. This would necessitate the purchase of a site.

The committee indicated that the state could erect a new building at a substantial financial saving to the taxpayers. Payment would be made by the state on a rental basis.

The state is now paying approximately $50,000 a year for office space outside the state capitol group.

Dr. Herman Swartz Will Speak Here

Mass Meeting Monday 7:30 to Hear President of Berkeley College

Dr. Herman F. Swartz, president of the Pacific School of Religion at Berkeley, Calif., and past president of the Berkeley chamber of commerce, will address a 7:30 o'clock mass meeting Monday night at the First Methodist church here on the subject "A Universal Church." Dr. Swartz, district superintendent of the M. E. church, announced yesterday.

All church pastors and congregations in the city have been invited to join the mass meeting.

WU Conferences Set
Dr. Swartz will be at Willamette university Monday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock and Monday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock for conferences with any students who wish to consult him on religious work. At the university, he will be found in the office of President Bruce Baxter.

Dr. Swartz was one of the principal speakers at the Oregon Council of Churches three-day conference in Portland this week, and he was a delegate to the Oxford and Edinburgh conferences last summer. Sunday-morning he will preach at Eugene and Sunday night at Corvallis. From Salem he returns to Berkeley.

Horseshoe Bend Flood Job Near

The Marion county court yesterday opened the way for a proposed federal flood control development on Horseshoe bend, Fairfield, when it granted an easement for the work at the request of the Horseshoe Lake Disaster Improvement company. The county owns two lots, obtained by tax foreclosure, with an 1170 foot frontage at the lower end of the project, whose total length is 1.1 miles, said E. Smith, former county commissioner, is listed on the United States engineers' project map as holder of the remaining frontage involved on the north side of the river.

The map indicates a plan to dredge away a bar and bank from the south side of the river and transfer the material to a dike to be built up on the north side, which is the convex side of the big bend the stream makes at this point.

A capacity throng packed the lobby of the local YMCA last night in celebration of the 17th annual Scotch program. Led by William McGilchrist, sr., who has presided at all 17 programs, it was a hilarious night for the "hoot-moos."

January Serpents Prove Startling For Mail Carrier

Prof Childs Speaker at Credit Usage in Business Subject

All those who are on the postoffice civil service waiting list might have been hopeful of a job today if . . .

But here's the story: John W. Bolin, veteran city mail carrier, approaches Postmaster H. R. Crawford: "Do you mind if I resign?"

But what's Crawford wondering about? "Well, I think it's time for a mail carrier to resign when he sees snakes in January."

And thereupon Bolin explained that on his route yesterday afternoon he saw a 3-8-inch garter snake on a Salem lawn.

But he didn't resign, because he prodded the snake and found it was alive.

Guidance Clinic Conducted Here

A Child Guidance clinic was held yesterday afternoon at the Marion county department of health under the direction of the Salem child guidance committee.

Twenty four children and their parents were interviewed and advised. Psychiatrists from the University of Oregon medical school present were Dr. W. H. Dixon and Dr. W. H. Hutchins. Question, Answer
Service Is Novel

A new type of service will be introduced at the First Congregational church Sunday night. The minister, Robert A. Hutchinson, will answer questions as a substitute for the sermon. Questions for future services are invited from anyone interested, no names need be given.

For the initial service at 7:30 o'clock, the following questions will be answered: "What would you do if you were a Jap in Japan?" "What happens when a cat looks at a king?" "Who is to blame for the labor trouble?" "What's the matter with Protestantism?" "How does a girl know when she's in love?" "Is the Salvation Army a church?"

Ronald Craven will be the guest soloist.

Salem Grange to Consider Housing

Salem grange No. 17 will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Auburn school to discuss plans for obtaining a permanent grange hall. Two proposals are under consideration. That of constructing a new building, and an alternative of buying large old residence and remodeling it into a hall.

Dr. S. B. Laughlin, Myra Hendricks and Theodore G. Nelson are the committee investigating the former proposal while Carl Kreible and Morris Townsend, grange master, will report on the feasibility of the purchasing and remodeling plan.

Credit Usage in Business Subject

Prof Childs Speaker at Creditmen's Meeting; Cites Real Needs

Credit fills a real part in the modern economic setup, and in the eyes of an economist credit facilities of the country are considered as being productive, Prof. Frank Childs of the Willamette university faculty said at the Salem Retail Credit association Friday noon luncheon meeting.

He pointed out because of credit money or cash as such has become relatively significant. In the first 30 years of this century, gold and silver bullion and currency or credit money in this country increased from five to 10 billions of dollars in circulation, while credit used in that period increased by 7 1/2 billions in 1900 to 45 billions of dollars in 1930, Prof. Childs explained.

He showed the change in the feeling toward credit since the days of John Stuart Mill and declared that credit is productive today in several ways: saves on working capital; permits taking advantage of profit opportunities; and most important of all enables the market to show a true picture between supply and demand. Credit is also a labor-saving device, banks consider.

Realtors' Annual Banquet Feb. 11

The annual banquet of the Salem Realty board will be held February 11. It was announced at the organization's luncheon Friday. At that time the winner in the board's contest for selection of a slogan describing the excellence of Salem's new water supply, will be announced. A contest has been offered in this contest.

Dr. Floyd L. Utter, chairman of the President's Birthday ball committee, addressed the realtors, pointing out the benefits which will accrue to Marion county from the new National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. In case of an epidemic in any community, the best qualified physicians available would be rushed in to combat it, Dr. Utter said. In addition, 72 large orthopedic hospitals will serve the nation, of which one is in Portland.

The dances will be at the Crystal Garden January 28 under auspices of the Salem Trades and Labor council, and at the armory January 29 under auspices of civic organizations.
