He Stands for all That Martin Doesn't; may Make Strong Race

(Continued from page 1) sidered so irrevocably "dead" that the reporters had their stories of its defeat written before the votes were taken. He sponsored the Ickes power bill which the governor vetoed in 1925.

He also trained consistently with the liberals on other issues, but he is not a radical. He chided officials of the Commonwealth Federation some months ago for using his name without authorization.

Has Been Mayor of Redmond and Bend

On his past record, the conservatives will find few if any vulnerable spots. Anyone proposing to discount his vote-getting ability because of his eastern Oregon residence, must leave out of consideration his early residence in Marion county where he spent much of his boyhood. He was principal of a school at Sublimity before taking up the study of medicine, and the fact that he owns a country place in Linn county, near Seio, where he now spends much of his time.

A practicing physician in Deschutes county since 1910, Dr. Hosch's popularity in his home community is evidenced by the fact that he served as mayor of Redmond successively for 14 years; then, moving to Bend, was mayor of that city for three years prior to his election to the legislature. In the 1926 campaign, the republicans had difficulty in finding anyone willing to oppose him.

In private life, Dr. Hosch is an "outdoor man." He was for a number of years, until well into middle age, a central Oregon tennis champion and a competitor in state tennis tournaments. Later he was one of Bend's most proficient golfers. At the same time he found time to be a diligent gardener and to acquire one of the most complete collections of Oregon's flora.

During the World war Dr. Hosch served as lieutenant in the medical corps. He is 57 years old, a native of Milwaukee, Wis. He graduated from the University of Oregon medical school in 1905 and was married to Winifred Minkers of Seio in 1906. They have one daughter.

Prevailing Wage Issue Is Argued

(Continued from page 1) senate today for final approval. Lodge charged the scrapping of his proposal was "a complete misrepresentation of the will of the elected representatives of the people—a travesty on representative government."

Wagner contended the amendment would largely nullify the purpose of the housing campaign and would hamper unions in their bargaining efforts. If the government ever attempts to fix all wages, he said, "we shall destroy unionism and free action, and we shall be right in fascism. That's what fascism is."

Late in the day so many powerful democrats seemed to be siding with Lodge that worried administration leaders delayed a final vote on the housing bill until tomorrow. They were obviously concerned lest the administration measure be sent back to committee to have the Lodge amendment inserted again.

Officers Fear to Testify, Charged

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Dist. Atty. Buron Fitts charged tonight that police officers fear for their lives if they give testimony against their brother officers suspected in the bomb attempt on Harry Raymond, private investigator who was gathering data on alleged graft and corruption in the Los Angeles city government.

"Many police officers have come to my office and wanted to assist us in the Raymond bombing, but were afraid," declared Fitts. "They not only expressed fear for their jobs, but for their lives."

Ringe Wins State Speaking Contest

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Truxton Ringe, Portland, Oregon State college engineering student, won first place in the Oregon Intercollegiate Forensic association's after-dinner speaking contest tonight.

Second and third places went to James Shick, Forest Grove, Pacific university student, and Chester Boddy, Vancouver, Wash., student at Linfield college, respectively.

Ice Crumbles Niagara Bridge

At the worst ice jam recorded in Niagara's history, the Falls View bridge, favorite honeymoon span, is pictured as it plugged into the deep gorge, a twisted mass of wreckage. The bridge had withstood the pressure of massive ice cakes piled 100 feet high for 48 hours. A crew of 12 men climbed to safety only a few minutes before the structure collapsed. A short distance below the falls, rising water and ice was reported to have seriously damaged a $25,000,000 power plant. The bridge spanned Niagara gorge dividing the United States from Canada.—IIN photo.

Daughter Born to Princess Juliana

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Crown Princess Juliana gave birth today to a blue-eyed, fair-haired daughter who some day may succeed her as queen of the little country and its vast colonial empire.

The seven and three-quarters pound girl, Princess of the Netherlands, Princess of Orange-Nassau, Duchess of Mecklenburg, Princess of Lippe-Biesterfeld, was the first heir born to the House of Orange since Juliana herself 23 years ago.

For months the pious Dutch had prayed with Prince Bernhard, Juliana's consort, that the child would be a prince and future king. The last king of Holland, Willem III, was born in 1817.

But Juliana wanted a girl and at 9:47 a. m. her wish was granted at the little white palace of Soestdijk, her country home near here.

A salute of 51 guns boomed out at Amsterdam, The Hague, Arnhem, Breda and Amersfort garrisons.

Major Battle Is Under Way

Each Army Reports big Losses by Other in Mingkwang Clash

Japanese insisted they had advanced beyond Mingkwang and were driving China's army back toward Pengpu, 30 miles north, after slaying more than 1,000 enemy soldiers.

American and other foreign relief workers arriving in Shanghai from Nanking brought reports of slowly improving conditions in the conquered Chinese capital, where grave disorders by Japanese troops have been reported.

They said Japanese military authorities were "trying hard to restore order, but the troops were not yet entirely under control."

Along the Wuhu and Hangchow fronts south of the Yangtze river Chinese forces reported their increased activity had compelled Japanese to divert 30,000 additional troops to those areas, as well as tanks and artillery.

Chinese guerrilla detachments were said to be harassing Japanese communication lines and wiping out small convoys of Japanese soldiers in Hopeh province and even between Shanghai and Nanking. Continuous ambushes were said to be impeding the movement of supplies.

AFL Will Oppose Any NLRB Probe

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Officials of the American Federation of Labor, which has accused the national labor relations board of showing partiality to the committee for industrial organization, opposed today a proposed senate investigation of the board.

They held an investigation might be protracted to delay enactment of an amendment to the Wagner act which the AFL has suggested to insure crafts within an industry the right to elect their own collective bargaining representatives and to remove the board's discretion in determining the form of elections.

"Some who are opposed to the AFL, some who believe that federal agencies should be used to reconstruct the American trade movement, even some within administration circles have voiced their objection to any amendment of the Wagner act," said a statement by J. P. Frey, president of the AFL metal trades department.

Robert H. Jackson Opposition Slight

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Senate hearings on the senator's promotion of Robert H. Jackson, outspoken critic of "monopoly," to be solicitor general demonstrated principally today that opposition to confirmation was decreasing.

A judiciary subcommittee received from Attorney General Cummings a strong recommendation that Jackson's nomination be approved. There were some indications the subcommittee might act favorably on the appointment without further hearings.

That depended, however, on decisions still to be made by Senators Austin (R, Va.) and King (D, Utah). Both senators read Jackson's recent speeches (accusing capital, among other things, of going on strike to force a liquidation of the new deal) and then determine whether they wanted to question him.

Bloody Battle at Border Reported

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Governor Marte Gomez of Tamaulipas tonight said four or more men were killed at Matamoros near the United States border in a battle between occupants of three mysterious trucks and police soldiers and guerrillas.

The governor said by telephone from Matamoros he did not know whether the trucks had come from the United States, but said he believed their origin was Mexican.

Price Bidding on Lumber Deplored

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Agreeing that the practice of "price bidding" was one of the major evils confronting the lumber industry today, representatives of three labor groups, American Federation of Labor, Industrial Employees union and Committee for Industrial Organization named a committee to seek stability of lumber prices at an informal meeting here Sunday.

As a first step, the committee planned to seek publication of daily lumber market reports, asking newspapers to cooperate. Wages and working agreements with operators constituted the other major topic of the meeting which was called for the announced intention of seeking "peace" among the rival labor factions in Lane county's lumber industry.

Representatives of the three groups agreed that there had been a concerted effort on the part of Willamette valley operators to slash wages. No definite action was authorized.

Planes at Sitka; One Lost on Way

SEATTLE, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Five planes of the US naval bombing squadron VP-16 reached Sitka, Alaska, late today after a flight from Seattle marred by loss of a sixth plane off Goose island, B.C.

Lieut. Comdr. C. C. Champlin, Jr., squadron leader, radioed Sand Point naval air station here that the planes arrived at 5:06 p. m. (PST) after leaving Prince Rupert, B.C., at 2 p. m.

Accompanying the squadron were Lieut. (J.G.) J. A. Horton, Pensacola, Fla., and four crew members of the lost bomber. They were brought to Prince Rupert by the US aircraft tender T-30 after a fishing boat rescued them from their sinking plane.

Forced to alight by engine trouble, Lieutenant Horton and his crew used a rubber boat to reach the fishing craft when their plane was washed on rocks and broken.

Apology Accepted On Allison Affair

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Once more the United States indicated its eagerness to avoid trouble with Japan by accepting today the far eastern government's "profound regrets" for the slap in the face administered by a Japanese sentry to John M. Allison, American diplomat at Nanking.

Though satisfied with the prompt apology, state department officials declined to list the incident as "closed," any more than the apology for the sinking of the American gunboat Panay terminated that affair.

The state department was informed a Japanese officer and 20 men are being tried by court martial as a result of the indignity to Allison, third secretary of embassy at Nanking.

Haiti-Dominican Dispute Settled

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Representatives of Haiti and the Dominican republic signed an agreement late today settling a four-month-old controversy between the two nations on the West Indian island of Hispaniola.

Haitian officials had charged their nationals in the Dominican republic were the victims of "wholesale massacre." Haitian Minister Elio Lescoq recently asserted more than 12,000 of his countrymen had been slain by Dominicans.

A Dominican government agreed to pay the neighboring country $750,000 as indemnification—one-third of it in a lump sum and the remainder in five equal annual instalments.

Filipino Soldiers And Moros Fight

MANILA, Feb. 1.—(Tuesday)—(AP)—Four more Philippine army killed and four Philippine army soldiers were wounded late yesterday when 140 steel-helmeted troops, supported by artillery, attacked a Moro fort in Lanao province, officials announced here today.
