Katherine Gunnell to Show Pictures February 21, Lebanon Church

LEBANON—At the Townsend meeting Tuesday night plans were made for a reception February 21 for Arthur Moore of Mouth, district manager who will address the club on the general welfare act of 1937 as embodied in RH bill 4199. A Washington's birthday luncheon will be served. At the social hour the Wesleyan guild trio of the M. E. church, Violet Gilson, Jessie Skinner and Velma Horton, sang two numbers and Melvin Gilson played a saxophone solo. The PWG club will entertain husbands of members at a banquet at the IOOF hall Friday night and will present a program. To See Gunnell Pictures Under the auspices of the Lebanon Garden club, Katherine Gunnell of Salem will present a moving picture, "Glories of Oregon," showing scenery and industries of the state in natural colors at the Church of Christ February 21 at 7:30 p. m. Engineers Arrive For Flood Survey

ALBANY—Ben L. Campbell, accompanied by a party of US army engineers arrived in Albany this week, to conduct a survey of the southwestern Marion county bank of the Santiam river in connection with the erosion bank control. The investigation will cover that part of the Santiam river between Jefferson and the mouth of the river. This is the first district, Campbell said, as far as he knows, included in the Albany territory to have completed its organization and applied for federal funds. There are five districts in Linn county, in process of formation or nearing completion. Mr. Campbell has not been notified, so far he said, as to whether his party would be assigned to these districts as they become eligible to surveys.

PIONEER—There was about a foot of snow in this community Sunday morning, making the roads impassable without chains until the track was broken. However, the road is open and the regular traffic is moving.

Bobcat and Lynx Bagged by Moore

DETROIT—"Snooks" Plunket, Otis Davidson and James Plymell, all from Arkansas, arrived at Idanha Monday, where they expect to stay during the working season. Guy Moore recently bagged two fine cats up near Blowout lake. One was a small bobcat and the other an unusually large lynx. The regular monthly meeting of the CIO local was held Monday night at the community hall. Dewey Gearin of Los Angeles has arrived here to visit his family who are spending the winter here. Gearin tried to come over the Santiam pass and was within 30 miles of Detroit when the big slide at Hogg pass forced him to go back to The Dalles-California highway and via Portland to reach his destination.

High School Students Carry on 4H Activities

CENTRAL HOWELL—Rita Steffen, Carolyn Kaufman and Frances King were dinner guests of Mrs. Grace Sehon at the Quella Wednesday night preceding a meeting for older 4H club members at the chamber of commerce rooms in Salem.
