and the Willamette 'Cats-we hurled a query across the dressing room at Mentor Maple that went something like this: "Worried, sire?" To which we received that jolly grin he generally reserves for after games he has won, and a chirping, "not a bit." That was the last bit of cheer that emanated from the rely-poly one until Anton canned that bucket that gave Willamette a three-point advantage with 20 seconds to go. From the time Ernie Stranz scraped past Bob White for the opening two points, until far, far into the second canto, the perspiration gushed from "Mape's" brow nearly as heavily as flood torrents down Shel-

Close Scrape.

And, no wonder. The way those Linfield "lobbers-in" tied into the Bearcat court brigade would have brought the sweat pouring out of a mummy or a tin-can robot. Unquestionably, the Linfield team that the Maplemen just barely edged out Wednesday night was the most under-rated aggregation of hoopers that ever slung a leather casaba around in this neck of the woods. They not only pulled the trigger with devastating accuracy, but they handled the agate in a manner that would lead spectators to believe the team was composed of quintuplets who had Ernie Stranz, who plays center for the Wildcats despite being about six inches too few on one end to compete with most skyscrapers in that position, had been able to play all of the tiltwell, we're mightily afraid Mentor Maple would have been through with his worrying for this tourna-14 points worth of paydirt while he was in there, and was the spearhead of the Linfield attack. Leavens Tallies 18; 'Pop' Mohler Leads Wolves to 45-35 Victory

Southern Oregon Teachers dropped Eastern Oregon Teachers by the wayside in the intercolleglate tourney yesterday afternoon, when, sparked by Darrel Leavens who hemped 18 points. the Sons came from behind in the second canto to trim the Eons 49-45.

They paced each other point for point, did those two teams of preparatory teachers, until the final 31/2 minutes. Seven times in the first half was the count knotted, ending just that way, at Leavens, giving forewarning of the second-half 12-point scoring spree in which he was going to indulge himself, canned a cleanie beginning the second period to give the Sons a momentary twopoint advantage.

Olsen retaliated for Coach Quinn's quint to knot the count | Vikings since returning last Sunbegun tossing a basketball around at 24-all, and Fred Petterson, who while still in their cribs. If Mr. was held scoreless in the initial canto, put on a five-point rapidfire show, which, despite Sether's countering bucket, gave the Eons a 29-26 lead with three minutes of the final period passed. Hank Anderson, the Laddie-Gale ish Eon center from Burns. flipped two more of his excellently executed pivot shots true to ment right there. Stranz struck the hemp, and the Mountaineers from LaGrande held a 33-26 lead attention at both a guard and and looked like they were "in." To make it seem even more a "high-country" win, Petterson tanked a gifter to give the Eons an 8-point advantage at 34-26, and then pounded into the bucket for a two-point lay-in after a nice bit of interception at mid-floor.

Down 10 points, 36-26, with about 13 minutes left to play, Leavens poured in three from the floor in succession and Hoxie added one while Anderson hooped another twister to narrow the count to 38-34 at the 11-minute

Marion Mann, in to give Leavens a breathing spell, touched hemp with a lay-in, and Sether sloshed the twine with a onehander as the timekeeper denoted the 12-minute mark had been reached.

Sons Finally Lead With Leavens looping two while Anderson was converting from the foul mark and Petterson was pocketing his final bucket, the Sons forged into the lead for the first time since the initial minute of the second half, at 42-41. Sether sloshed for another two-pointer and Kemnitzer sank one from charity lane to give the Sons a 45-41 lead with 21/2 minutes to play. Emory Hobbs, ex-Viking star who entered the game for Kidder, who fouled out, swished hemp from far out to cut down the Son advantage two points, 45-43.

Salem high's Viking hoop team is running into a lot of opposition for the two tilts it has billed here this weekend, but the St. Helens game is definitely on for 4 o'clock this afternoon on the Viking court, and temporary plans are in progress for playing the Bend tilt at 7:30 tomorrow night, preliminary to the intercollegiate championship tilt on the Willamette floor.

This afternoon's contest will be the first time out for the day from a road trip that cost them two defeats in three games. Have Beaten Saints

The Vikings defeated St. Helens there January 25 by a 24-23 score, in one of the hardest fought tilts played this year. Coach Eddie Franz' quint gave the local preppers a terrific battle before they were finally edged out.

While George "Popeye" Wilkinson has been getting a lot of forward spot, it is expected that Coach Hauk will start the same quint that has shouldered the major share of the Viking court burdens this season. Wilkinson saw considerable service on the recent road trip, his height being an asset against the tall timber encountered in southern basketball pastures.

Maynard, Quackenbush, Gosser, Parker and Kitchen will probably be out there at the initial
