Hamilton Feted, Welfare Agencies

A framed scroll signed by officers of the seven agencies supported by the Community Chest was presented to W. M. Hamilton chairman of the chest, at the annual meeting of the Red Cross at the Hotel Marion last night. Mayor V. E. Kuhn made the presentation and paid tribute to the community service which Mr. Hamilton has long rendered, "cheerfully, willingly and unselfishly." In response Mr. Hamilton expressed his deep appreciation, and said that he felt he should accept it not as an individual but as representative of the type of citizen who contributed time and effort in making the chest campaign a success. Justice George Rosman, chapter chairman, presided as toast master. At the brief business session following the dinner reports were received. The treasurer's report showed for 1932 receipts of $4352.36 and disbursements of $5146.38, which left a deficiency of $793.92. Officers re-elected for 1933 are: George Rosman, chairman; W. M. Hamilton, vice chairman; I. J. Smith, treasurer; Mrs. George R. K. Moorhead, recording secretary.

Guests from a distance who were called on for talks were R. E. Gillette, of San Francisco, executive in junior Red Cross work; Dr. Sard West of Portland, chairman of first aid work in Multnomah chapter; C. C. Colt of Portland, state roll call chairman.

A demonstration in home nursing was given by a class trained by Miss Beatrice Turle. The method of arranging the bed for a sick elderly person was demonstrated.

Rev. R. A. Hutchinson gave a short inspirational talk at the end of the program. Gordon Finlay played several trumpet solos, with Mrs. Finlay as accompanist.

Section of Coast Road and Eastern Oregon Routes Affected in Order
 An order was issued by the state highway commission Thursday reducing the maximum load limit on the Marshfield-Port Orford section of the Oregon coast highway 25 per cent.

Fifty per cent maximum load limit reductions were ordered on eight eastern Oregon highways. These were:

Sherman highways, between the Columbia river and The Dalles-California highways.
 Mt. Hood highway, Cooper's Spur to Hood River.
 Hood River secondary highway, Parkdale to Trout Creek.
 McKenzie highway, Sisters to Redmond.
 Ochoco highway, Redmond to a point six miles east of Prineville.
 Fremont highway, Silver Lake to Lakeview.
 Central Oregon highway, Bend to Burns.

The commission said it would soon set a 50 per cent load limit on sections of the John Day highway.
