1937 Earnings Indicate Revenue Will Enable Near-Completion

For 1937, $58,425.80; for 1940, $54,425.80; for 1941, $59,505.80; for 1942, $32,453, after reservation of $30,000 to meet 1943 bond principal payment and after payment in 1942 of $195,184.20 in principal and interest, the largest single combination of such expenses anticipated: for 1943, $47,660.00, with $31,000 held out for 1944 bonds; for 1944, $52,590, with $32,000 held out for 1945 bonds.

Chairman E. B. Gabriel expressed the opinion that the sums to be available for construction purposes each year should be spent year by year rather than in advance through issuance of more bonds in order that they might be at hand each year as a "cushion" to insure the department's always having sufficient funds to meet its debt service.

Revenue increase is not figured in Manager Van Patten pointed out in the report that "no increase in revenue over that of the year 1937 has been anticipated (in the forecast), although an increase can reasonably be expected." He also stated that should a demand for full 17,000,000-gallon capacity of the gravity pipeline development during summer months, the Stayton filter bed would have to be completed at an approximate cost of $20,000.

Largest scale main laying under the department's WPA project will be shut down by the end of March, the manager reported, but several small sections of new lines will probably be put in to close gaps in existing mains. The commission authorized the purchase of 2500 feet of eight-inch pipe for such a purpose, the connecting of the east city limits loop line with a 14-inch main at 14th and Cross street. This main will turn westward on South 26th at Claude street.

The commission at the suggestion of Commissioner E. B. Grabenhorst ordered that letters be addressed to heads of state institutions located along the Salem-Stayton pipeline stating that "it is our desire to furnish them with city water" on terms to be agreed upon.

ests because there isn't a man in congress who wouldn't rather change his mind than have you change his seat," she declared.

Basing her argument on the belief that nations cannot land troops on an enemy shore and that it cannot subdue a people without troops, Miss Rankin stated that a billion dollar appropriation for a navy and army was not necessary for defense, and that for aggressive purposes it would be sadly insufficient. She said that if a foreign nation attempted an attack on the United States coast, it would be a simple matter to use artificial fog and to darken lighthouses, making a successful landing impossible.

"As far as the navy goes it is valuable only for transporting troops, ammunition and supplies," she asserted.

Miss Rankin was introduced by C. A. Sprague. Mrs. C. A. Downs and Rev. Lynn Wood presided at the meeting.

Perry charged that the Grange in Oregon was being run by a virtual "dictatorship" from higher up," and asserted "a lot of people are beginning to see through the picture." He said he referred in particular to Gill and Morton Tomkins, state overseer.

Perry said his campaign platform to be issued soon would state that he had been a farmer and apple grower for nearly 40 years, favored expansion of the grange cooperative movement, full continuance of degree work, cooperation with other bona fide farm organizations, legislation to reduce property taxes, improve rural schools and give counties a larger share of state gasoline taxes. He said that if elected he would immediately order an audit of the grange books.

M M Club Notes

With another week well over and still no definite change in the weather, Bill, the webfoot, has his fingers crossed in hopes that spring has really "sprung." Judging from all the favorable signs in that direction, we'd say that most romantic of all seasons is here in a big way.

Our own entertainers are running a close second to the nationwide "Hit Parade." If your favorite tune is one of the very latest, don't forget to be at the Elmore at or before 11 o'clock this afternoon so you'll hear one of your favorite Mice songsters go to town with it.

Now for this week's "Who's Who." Most of you know our capable secretary, Jacque Thompson, who spends her time on matinee afternoons blocking traffic at the side exit of the main lobby.

If you can't hear that afore mentioned favorite song of yours because of the public address system, just take the matter up with Bob Bridges. He's the lad who attempts to cut out all the squeals that are so annoying to the deeply interested boys and girls in the back rows.

Much has been said about our able pianist, but to get the best view and enjoyment of Joe Darby's mastery, just drop around the orchestra pit at 10:30 any Saturday morning, and watch him, incidentally, if you have any ability yourself in the lines of singing, dancing, or anything that you think would be of interest to the rest of the Mice, this is the time to let us know about it.

This week Manager Carl Porter brings us Cecil D. DeMille's "The Buccaneer" with Frederic March and Francisca Gaal, and the special M. M. feature, "Double Danger," with Preston Foster and Windy Garris, plus a cartoon at the later hours.

So, we'll see you at 1 o'clock. EDIE TANNER.

Cooties to Make Trip to Portland

Headed by Seam Squirrel Lester Jones a representative delegation of Carry On Pup Tent No. 6, Military Order of the Cootie, of Salem, will go to Portland tonight to attend a "District Scratch" and entertainment to be held at Owens hall, 54th avenue east, and Foster road, at 8 o'clock. The initiatory work will be put on by the degree team (dehousing crew) of Portland Pup Tent No. 1, and under the direction of Supreme Councilman of the 13th district, Barney Barber.

The main purpose of the Cootie meeting will be a discussion of plans for the celebration of "Cootie day," Monday, July 11, of the department of Oregon Veterans of Foreign Wars annual encampment to be held in Salem, July 9 to 13, inclusive, this year. Councilman Barber and Supreme Deputy Inspector George Malstrom, Salem, attended the last meeting of the encampment commission at the chamber of commerce rooms, and outlined a tentative program of stunts and special features to be put on for Cootie Day.

Spring Styles on Parade at Parrish

By CIVILLA REEHER Junior Statesman Reporter

With a capacity crowd attending the Parrish-Leslie game last Tuesday night, our south end rivals showed what they could do. Not without a fight, however, did we give up hope. Edward Yarnell, Parrish guard, and Fred Bradshaw, forward, played a nice game, and deserve recognition. After playing three overtimes, Leslie pulled through with a score 22-20.

Since Mrs. Wright's library talks, students have found themselves using the card catalogue and delving into the many encyclopedias. Not, however, without a definite purpose. Teachers have given out assignments which require the use of big important looking reference books.

Spring styles are peeping their heads up in the Parrish Fashion Parade. Sporty bright colored socks seem to head the list this week. Although some say we are rushing the season, if these sunny days continue, there is no reason why fashions should not do the weather justice.

Safetyettes
By EARL SNELL
Secretary of State

There probably isn't a boy or girl in America today who doesn't hope some day to own and drive an automobile.

It is only natural that they should have this hope. And certainly the automobile is a great convenience when it is properly used.

But the question occurs to me, "When these boys and girls grow up and learn to drive the family car, and later buy cars of their own, what kind of drivers will they be? Will they have a better understanding of traffic problems than the older folks, and will they be better all-around drivers?"

You boys and girls will have a big part in answering this question. You can play this part properly by telling yourselves, before you ever learn to drive, that you realize how important the matter of safety on the highways is; that you realize how foolish it is to be a "show-off" or a reckless driver, who may kill himself or someone else through his carelessness; that you will always treat pedestrians and other drivers with unvarying courtesy.

Here's another point that is sometimes overlooked: You will save money by being careful. Accidents cost money, and merely driving your car at dangerous speeds costs money. Remember these things when you reach driving age.

Perhaps my article today has seemed to deal entirely with the future, but I believe no one is too young to be thinking about traffic safety. If you have decided, before you learn to drive, that you want to drive safely, you will have overcome the biggest obstacle in the way of an accident-free career.

Leslie Celebrates Win Over Parrish

By LOUISE RHAMAGE Junior Statesman Reporter

Last Wednesday the Salem faculty played the boys' team, emerging in a victory of 39 to 36 for the older boys.

Tuesday night, there was a 'hot time in Leslie,' as 'Parrish was there to try and defeat the Leslie basketball team, but with no avail. After two hours of tense playing Leslie came out the winner.

Because the eighth grades accumulated more paper in the school paper drive, the seventh graders were forced to give a victory party for the winner. From reports of those attending, everyone enjoyed himself to the utmost.

Junior Vaudeville Held, Senior High
