Summer Swimming School and Disaster Session Reports Taken up

Judge George Rossman presided at the monthly executive committee meeting of Marion county chapter, American Red Cross yesterday noon at the Quella. Reports were heard from the various committees and special emphasis was stressed on the summer swim campaign reported by Julian Burroughs, chairman county life saving committee. Mrs. Eugene Davison, St. Paul, Mrs. David Looney, Jefferson, Mrs. Gerald Smith, Woodburn, were present and represented life saving interests of their community.

William Monroe Hamilton, chairman of disaster committee for Marion county, reported on the disaster conference held in Portland last week. He stated that the four fundamental obligations of the Red Cross in time of disaster are to provide food, clothing, shelter and medical assistance. The work of the local chapter's disaster committee is that of a coordinator of all groups organized for disaster work in a community.

Ernest Peterson reported on the work of the farm and home accident prevention committee. Virgil Golden gave a report that the Cherry City Baking company would have its mobile first aid unit in operation within a month and that all the drivers of their trucks would be trained first aid men by that time. The Salem motorcycle club will finish its first aid course in a few weeks.

Bids Upon Power System Rejected

Attorney Don Young, appearing for the pair, asked the council to take definite action on the license last night, stating that they wished to go ahead with the necessary building and improvements if they were assured of being granted a license.

Young said that the only opposition in the neighborhood had been expressed by the New Salem hotel owners, the latter fearing the noise would be a detriment to their business.

Since Manager Bailey, of the hotel, was present and personally voiced fears of what the noise might do to his hotel business, the council deferred action on the petition to building regulations committee.

Some Still Seek Homesteads Here

The state land board is receiving an average of three letters daily from eastern residents who desire to homestead in Oregon. Lewis Griffith, clerk, reported Monday.

"Homesteads are a thing of the past in Oregon," Griffith added, "and these persons will be disappointed in their hopes." Most of these letters came from the middle-western district.

California's Lethal Chamber Ready for Placement

Ready to be installed, this ultra-modern death chamber is pictured as a workman adds the finishing touches before shipment from Denver, Colo., to San Quentin prison, in California. Requiring only 15 seconds to execute a condemned prisoner, the new lethal chamber will replace the gallows. Two persons can be put to death at once while witnesses may peer through the windows on the sides. With electric blowers, acid fumes of cyanide gas will be cleared from the chamber, allowing guards to remove a body within two minutes after the gas begins to fill the room. America's first lethal gas execution was performed in Carson City, Nev., state prison in 1921. The chamber is similar to the one recently acquired by Oregon.—IIN photo.

Schnur Sentence Year; Is Paroled

(Continued from page 1) money was being removed from envelopes after they reached the automobile division offices and the investigation was intensified there. Numerous letters containing marked bills were mailed to the division and Schnur was alleged to have taken one of these bills.

Judge McMahan set 10 a. m. Friday as time for Schnur to be arraigned on a charge of drunken driving which is before the circuit court on appeal from Salem justice court.

Ten criminal cases were set for hearing in April by Judge McMahan yesterday as follows:

- April 14, state vs. Schaefer; April 15, state vs. Wiedner; April 16, state vs. Barnes and state vs. Boering; April 22, state vs. Richard Allen; April 25, state vs. Walter Stark; April 26, state vs. Haley; April 27, state vs. Beecroft; April 28, state vs. Meyers; April 29, state vs. Barrett and McKee.

Bike Regulations Voted by Council

(Continued from page 1) mayor, would allow a simplified codification of the cities ordinances, which now number 2771—with obsolete ordinances being written off the books and those of similar contents codified into single ordinances—at a cost of around $500 that would ordinarily set the city back from $2500 to $3000.

Saying it was the most deplorable condition in Salem, Alderman Williams asked the council to do something about constructing a walk on the south side of 14th street where high school students have to walk in the mud. City Attorney Hendricks said regulations had some time before been drawn to take care of that situation and was certain they had been tendered to Williams. While Williams was not able to account for them, City Recorder Warren A. Jones produced copies from his files and the resolutions were adopted.

Bucharin Expects To Die, Declares

(Continued from page 1) monotone, she testified that a certain Stukoff, opposing the signing of the Brest-Litovsk treaty of 1918 with Germany, told a group within the Moscow inner circle of the communist party: "We should not stop before arresting Lenin, Stalin and Sverdloff, if they continue to insist on their line, and destroying them. She said Stukoff told her that he acted on Bucharin's instructions and that this was confirmed to her later by Bucharin, who ordered the minutes of the meeting destroyed in May, 1918.

Earnest H. Kunke Dies in Portland

CLOVERDALE—Earnest H. Kunke passed away in Portland last Sunday. Kunke was born in Gilberts, Ill., September 15, 1885. In 1905 he came to this community with his parents. For the last 28 years he has been in Portland, employed by the Portland Traction company. Kunke is well known in this community. He is survived by a son, Waldemar, and daughter, Gladys Neilson of Portland; brother, Arthur E. Kunke of Cloverdale; sisters, Ida of Spokane, Emma in Illinois and Anna Whitehead of Turner, and one grandson. Burial will be in Portland on Wednesday afternoon.

A picture of a clever shop window, showing the Mexican influence on spring styles, appeared in the rotogravure section of a Portland paper on Sunday. The caption failed to say that the window was that of a Salem shop and that the particular store was Price's. A dress of Mexican print material and woven leather shoes were the inspiration for the window which appeared about 10 days ago.

A coincidence; on the same page was pictured a schoolgirl skipping rope, Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. De Lapp. Her father is employed at Price's.

Salmon Industry Wage in Dispute

SEATTLE, March 7.—(AP)—Movement of hundreds of men and thousands of tons of supplies to the Alaska salmon areas was at a standstill today due to a deadlock between packers and the Alaska Fishermen's union over 1933 wages.

Louis Mostad, union president, said the first 100 men should have sailed north February 16, according to seasonal schedules, but the union will not "clear" any fishermen for jobs until an agreement is signed.

Mostad said the union demands no increase in the basic wage, averaging $110 monthly during the season, but asks a bonus of $4.40 per day for fishermen for every 1,000 cases packed of reds or pinks. Last year's bonus was $4.40 for reds and $2.20 for pinks.

600 Drown When Cruiser Is Sunk

GIBRALTAR, March 7.—(AP)—British naval sources tonight said approximately 600 Spanish insurgent seamen drowned when the 10,000-ton cruiser Baleares was torpedoed and sunk by government warships early Sunday morning. British warships in the vicinity, 15 miles east of Cape Palos, Spain, in the western Mediterranean, can, saved 200 others from the insurgent cruisers. The estimate of casualties was made by crew members of the British destroyers Kempenfelt and Boreas which arrived here today with the survivors.

Lessard Will Run For Office of DA

PORTLAND, Ore., March 7.—(AP)—Dellmore Lessard, state senator, said today he would seek the office of Multnomah county district attorney in the democratic primary elections. A Portland attorney since 1924, Lessard said he sought the district attorneyship at the request of friends who believed the office should be reorganized to meet modern conditions.

Bus Schedules to Get Consideration

"It is my opinion," read Hendricks' report, "that it is not necessary or practical for the city of Salem to be a plaintiff in a suit at this time. The law provides that the county court may compromise such a matter and it would seem that the attorney general's office in conjunction with the state tax commission, district attorney and the city attorney could arrive at a speedy, amicable and financially painless conclusion."

Hendricks went further to say that "should the taxes be collected they would go to the county, school district and city, and the city constitutes almost half of the county, practically all of the school district and all of city. By same argument, should taxes not be collected, the difference to city would be a small fraction of the total sum being considered."

The main handicap, according to Hendricks' report, would be in the millage levy, budget and bookkeeping. Members of the administrative group appointed by the governor would receive $6 per day for actual service.

Seven Killed in State, Weekend

A tractor overturned on a steep road near Quartzville last night and killed the driver, Arthur Essex, 39. His widow and three children survive.

Hobart Sampson, about 35, negro dining car waiter, died under the wheels of a Southern Pacific train when he fell or stepped from a car as it rolled into the Portland station Sunday. His home was in Los Angeles.

The body of an unidentified man was found floating in the Columbia river near Castle Rock by two boys today. Officers said there was no evidence of violence.

Set Hearings for Utility Districts

Dates for two public hearings on petitions to form people's utility districts were fixed at a meeting of the state hydroelectric commission Monday. The first of the hearings will be held at Cascade Locks Friday, April 8, and the other in The Dalles on Saturday, April 9.

Refunding Bonds Purchase Sought

Resolution Is Passed by Council; Change in Zone Is Voted

A resolution presented by the ways and means committee authorizing the purchase of $97,000 of refunding bonds and directing publication of notice of purchase, was adopted by the city council. Alderman Clifford O. Dane's resolution, to make Miller street a through street from Commercial to John was adopted.

The street committee's resolution to name the roadway running easterly from North 15th street "Roddaway Brookside Drive" was adopted. A request from the police committee for a restricted parking district on both sides of State street between 12th and Waverly was granted.

The council adopted the report of the health and sanitation committee, recommending that the Turner road district be changed from zone two, special, to zone two and four.

A stop sign for South High and Lincoln streets intersection was recommended by the special traffic committee.

Petitions, all referred to appropriate committees were: For a street light at 15th and Lee; for a sanitary sewer in blocks 13 and 14 of the Brooklyn addition; to change a portion of Capitol street in University addition to use as a playground, made by school district No. 24; for a construction of a temporary bridge across Shelton ditch on 17th street to connect with the Santiam highway.

River Purifying Ballot Is Titled

Ballot title for the so-called stream purification initiative measure has been completed by Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle and certified to the secretary of state.

The measure is being sponsored by the Stream Purification League of Oregon, of which State Treasurer Rufus C. Holman is president.

In case a sufficient number of signatures are obtained the measure will go before the voters at the next general election.

The sanitary authority would be composed of the state health officer, state engineer, chairman of the state fish commission, and three members to be appointed by the governor.

Members of the administrative group appointed by the governor would receive $6 per day for actual service.

Penalty for Tax Fraud Is Upheld in Mitchell Case

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—The supreme court decided today that Charles E. Mitchell, once chairman of the National City bank of New York, must pay the government a $364,454 assessment imposed for alleged "fraud with intent to evade" 1929 income taxes.

By a six to one vote, the court disagreed with Mitchell's contention that his acquittal of a criminal charge of attempting to evade a $728,709 tax barred collection of a 50 per cent penalty. Justice Brandeis delivered the majority opinion that reversed a decision in favor of Mitchell by the federal circuit court at New York.

Justice McReynolds dissented but delivered no written opinion. Justices Cardozo and Reed did not participate.

Eye Injury Suffered

Pete Schlotthauer, 20, who lives at 1775 North Front street, was treated at the Salem General hospital last night for a severely cut right eyeball. Attendants at the hospital did not know how the accident occurred, other than it was a piece of rock that injured the orb.

John Steelhammer, jr., Salem attorney who is prominent in sport circles, yesterday filed as a candidate for the republican nomination for state representative.

His slogan is "Abolish the pauper's oath; enact constructive labor and old age security legislation."

In his platform Steelhammer pledged himself to work for impartial labor legislation placing equal responsibility on both capital and labor, a workable pension plan providing a adequate funds to relieve distress of the aged, vigorous legislation for preservation of wild life, retention of all departments of the state government in Salem.

Ledford Trial Is On at St. Helens

ST. HELENS, Ore., March 7.—(AP)—The trial of Mrs. Agnes Joan Ledford, 35, charged with first degree murder in the death of her step-daughter, Ruth, recessed until 9:30 a. m. Tuesday after nine jurors were selected today.

Mrs. Ledford, who has been confined to a hospital since shortly after her arrest in October, appeared in the courtroom this afternoon with her two children, Edwin Lee, 2, and Royal, aged 10 months.

She is accused in another indictment of the first degree murder of another step-daughter, Dorothy. The children died last September, the deaths being attributed to poison following autopsies.

Roosevelt Incomes Ought To Be Divulged Asserts Republican From Michigan

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—Representative H. O. F. Smith (R-Mich.) suggested in the house today that President Roosevelt should tell the nation what salaries he and his son, James Roosevelt, are "making on the side" since he advocates publicity for corporation salaries.

Mr. Roosevelt said at a recent press conference that he approved of the present law requiring publication of corporation salaries above $15,000 a year.

Eight Mills Face CIO Accusations

PORTLAND, Ore., March 7.—(AP)—Don Helmick, executive board member of the CIO International Woodworkers of America, said today charges of Wagner act violations against eight Portland sawmills had been sent to the national labor relations board regional office at Seattle.

Helmick said the CIO charged refusal or failure to bargain in good faith on the part of the Jones, Eastern and Western, Clark and Wilson, West Dregon, Inman-Poulsen and Portland mills.

Charges against the Southeast Portland and Kingsley mills allege interference with employes in self-organization, Helmick said.

Weather Hampers Search for Plane

FRESNO, Calif., March 7.—(AP)—Gathering clouds in the higher altitudes and a forecast of more snow threatened today to restrict the far-flung search for the airliner which vanished in the mountains near here Tuesday night with nine persons aboard.

Belief spread among the searching parties that the luxurious sky-liner had been smashed into pieces so small that they would be difficult to find, particularly if they lay in the deep snow of the Sierra.

Hundreds of foot and horseback searchers had ranged the foothills and mountains for four days and a dozen airplanes had worked intermittently, braving collision and crackup hazards, without finding a trace of the lost craft.

UCC Fails Them, Lumbermen Claim

PORTLAND, March 7.—(AP)—CIO lumber unions contended in a resolution today idle workers had been deprived of assistance because the UCC unemployment compensation commission had failed to ascertain whether mill shut-downs resulted from labor disputes or seasonal inactivity.

The resolution said the commission, in many instances, had accepted the word of the employer that a labor controversy existed and had failed to consult workers.

Many mills closed earlier because of disputes have reopened and men still unemployed should receive aid, the unions asserted.
