Bridge Work now Active in County

Silverton-Monitor Job to Be Resumed; Aumsville Task Nearing End

Construction of the new bridge for the Silverton-Monitor cutoff road will be resumed in the near future, county court discussion indicated yesterday. Concrete abutments for the 170-foot structure were poured last fall.

The county bridge crew, which is expected to complete a new bridge on the Aumsville-Turner road this week, will be assigned to either the cutoff bridge or to replacement of the Hobson bridge, which was destroyed by this winter's flood. As only one man is served by the latter bridge, reconstruction may be delayed.

Construction of the Silverton-Monitor bridge will complete the new cutoff road which those districts have sought for several years. The bridge will have a 74-foot span. County Engineer N. C. Hubbs said orders had been placed so that timber for the structure would be available as needed.

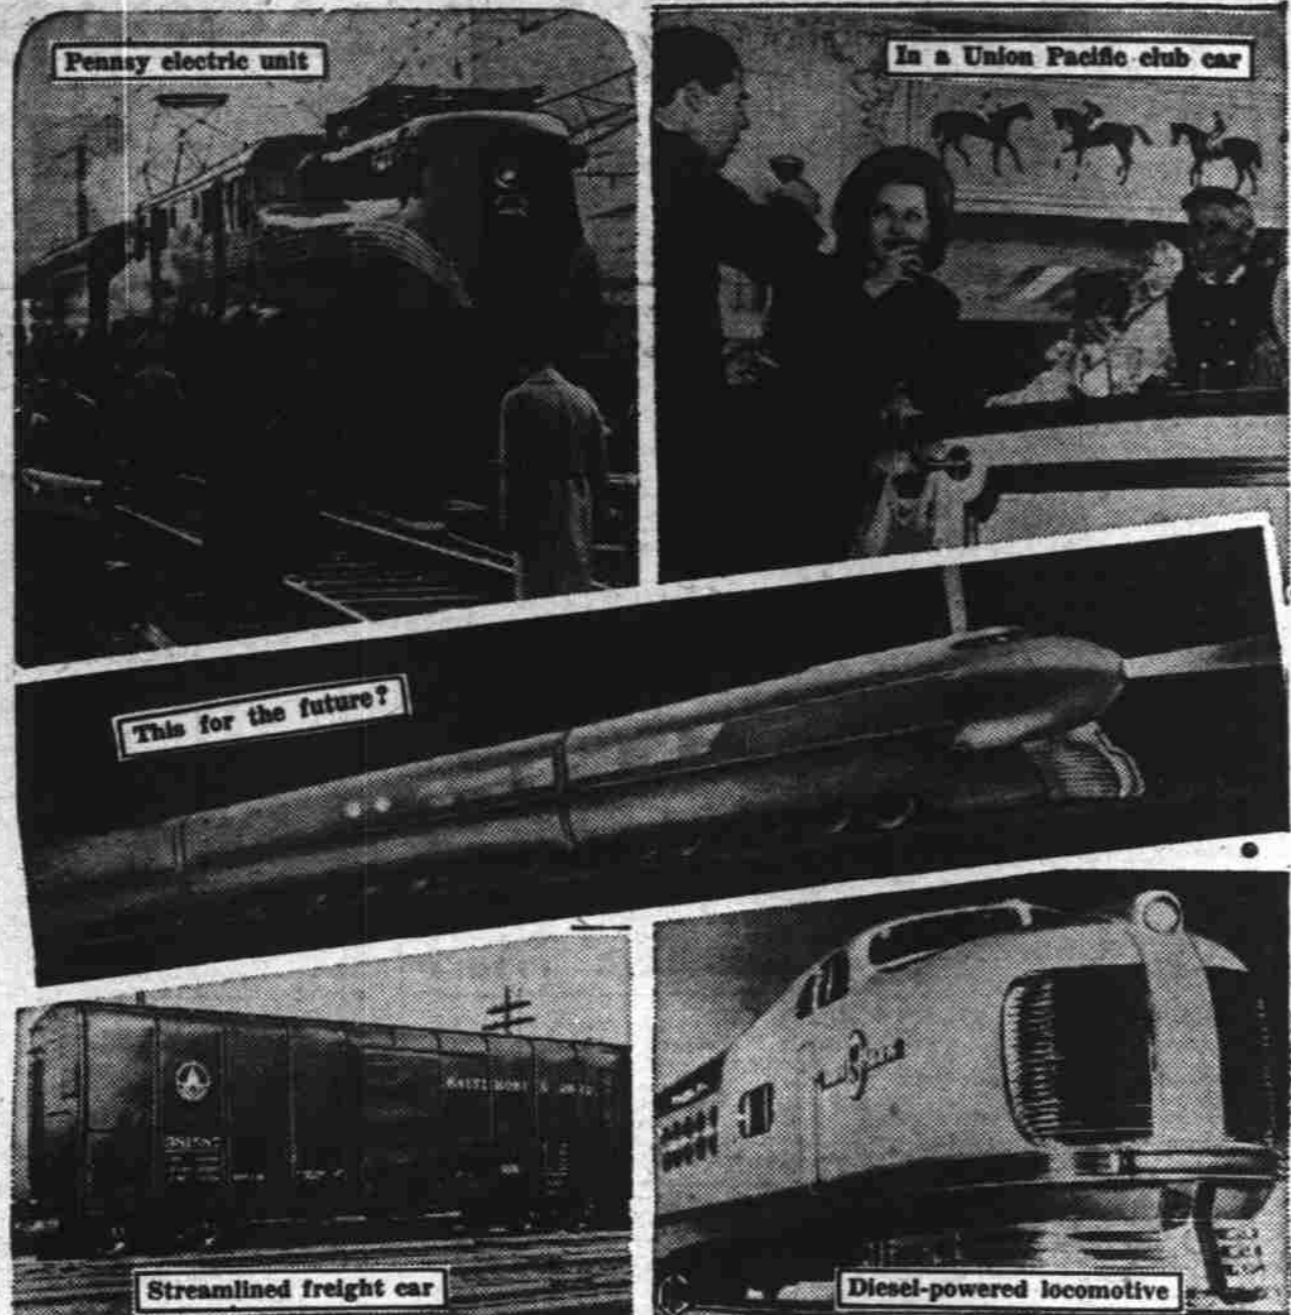

The court also discussed possible rebuilding of a long piling bridge, known as Meyers bridge, above Elkhorn. The old bridge, weakened by settling, now carries a two-ton load limit.

Fears Alcatraz
A former inmate of Alcatraz island prison, known as the "Rock", Earl Clark Strain, arrested by federal agents for transporting a stolen automobile between states, told G-men in Kansas City he would rather die and "go to hell" than go back to Alcatraz. Strain wears handcuffs and leg irons.

Improve Railroad Service Despite Burdens

Despite heavy financial burdens and unprecedented competition, railroads of the United States are doing a remarkable job of carrying on under strict governmental regulation. With 28 per cent of their mileage in receivership, trainmen are working hard at the business of attracting more passengers and freight. Service improvements, such as electrification, streamlined passenger trains, new fast transcontinental runs, seasonal specials, have resulted in a minor passenger renaissance. The roads hope to recover by accelerated schedules and streamlined trains severe losses in freight.

Petition on Price Law Is Challenged

Referendum of Fair Trade Measure Invalid Says Association Suit
SUIT attacking validity of referendum petitions filed against the so-called anti-price discrimination act of the 1937 legislature, was filed in the circuit court here yesterday by Jack Lynch, president of the Oregon Association of Trade Executives, Inc.

The Oregon price discrimination act is a copy of the law adopted in many other states and is similar to the national Robinson-Patman act recently adopted by congress. It prohibits unfair trade practices and unlawful price discrimination.

Petitions seeking to referendums the act were circulated under the direction of Georg C. Stanly, Eugene merchant.

Three outstanding charges were contained in the injunction suit filed here today.

One involved the alleged failure of the referendum sponsors to attach a true copy of the price-discrimination act to the referendum petitions.

The second was that approximately 1200 names on the petitions were certified by deputy county clerks, for which there is no authority in the Oregon law.

The third was that circulators of petitions were paid in violation of the Oregon statutes.

The price-discrimination law received the endorsement of a large number of independent merchants and manufacturers.

The court was asked to issue an order restraining the secretary of state from placing the referendum on the ballot.

Attorney Carl T. Pope, Salem, prepared the complaint.

Wheat Plunges Down 2 1/2 Cents As Rains Come

CHICAGO, March 9.—(AP)—Eclipse season low-price records, the Chicago wheat market plunged largely owing to widespread downward 2 1/2 cents today, beneficial rains southwest, the best in weeks.

In addition to timely general moisture for Kansas and Oklahoma in particular, disappointing action of the Liverpool wheat market gave impetus to downturns of values here.

Export business in North American wheat today, however, showed some increase, the estimated total being upwards of 50,000 bushels, principally wheat from the United States.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 1 1/2-2 1/2 cents under yesterday's finish, May 83 3/4, July 83 3/4, corn 1 1/2-3/4 off, May 58 1/2, July 60 1/2.
