Program numbers were given by Betty Lockhart, Jimmy Waterpaugh, Wayne Isham, Luella Klampe, Arlene Klampe, Peggy Tontz, Doris Lovre, and history scenes by the students, also four reels of motion pictures depicting the life of George Washington.

Old Indian Grist Mill and Ancient Single Shot Breach Loader Rifle Are Found by Mill City CCC Boys

The Mill City CCC boys found an old Indian hollowed out stone grist mill that has been creating a considerable interest in camp. Its use was the primitive Indians' only way of reducing corn and other cereals to a fine enough state for human consumption.

There is considerable conjecture as to why that this and other like this one are nearly always broken when found. Some say when an Indian died they always broke his grist mill and buried it with him.

The CCC boys found an old single shot breach loader rifle number 3801 made by Remington & Son before the Remington Arms company was incorporated. It is thought to have been made before the Civil war.

The officers of company 1443, Georgia boys, are writing the Remington Arms company, sending in the numbers, hoping to establish the age of the gun. It was found in an almost inaccessible place high up in the mountains.
