Amity, Mac High, Baker and St. Helens Billed for Semi-Finals

and sharp-shooters par excellence, had little trouble with Sandy. They flipped eight times in the first quarter, and all eight dropped home for 16 points. The one free throw attempt also resulted snugly hampward, to total 17 tallies in all—without a miss of any description. Their ball-handling was nearly as faultless.

Waymon Colson, Baker guard, who led the scorers with 12 points, flicked hemp five times in a row during the first half without registering a single miss.

Baker held a 24-12 half-time advantage, and all that saved the Sandys from an even more top-heavy trouncing was a spirited spurt they put on in the final quarter. Baskets by Maulding and Peterson, and a free toss by Allen, while Hall was tallying three points for Baker, lopped two points off of the 22-point lead held by the Bulldogs at third quarter's termination.

Sandy's zone defense held no unsolvable angles for the Bulldogs. They set up the apple, passed their way into position and fired at will—and at the basket, which they seldom missed. Saints Run Over Peapicker Quint

Medford was only an atom of the team it was in running over Eugene in its first game of the meet. The Peapickers cracked wide open, to allow a firebrand saint named Bob Daggett, and the rest of the St. Helens hoopers, to administer a merciless trouncing.

No time was lost by Daggett & Co. in getting started. This chunky little court wizard opened the scoring with as neat a field goal as you could see this side of Hank Luisetti, and the game might just as well have stopped right there, for Medford never again was in it.

The Eddie Frantz-coached Saints piled point upon point, throughout the 32 minutes, as steadily as if they were applying whitewash to a chicken roost.

Don't think for a minute that Daggett was the only saint who did anything in that game, for while he scored 16 points and led the play throughout, there was a truck-and-trailer load of court work accomplished by his eager comrades. The big Hamilton brothers, Earl and Ira, were pillars of strength on the backboards, as well as lobbing in their share of the markers, and Lampa and Hiatt hawked the ball from basket to basket throughout the one-sided contest.

As a result of last night's games, the pendulum of favor for the nomination of titlist swung almost equally between Baker and St. Helens, with Mac III of Amity conceding an outside chance to upset either.

Slapstick Still Succeeds in Comedy Films

A marked trend toward the broader type of comedy introduced to the films by Mack Sennett is noticeable in recent movie successes. Louise Fazenda was the outstanding product of the Sennett school, and Slim Summerville carried on the tradition later. But such stars as Myrna Loy and William Powell, Constance Bennett and Irene Dunne are following the old formula in modernized version with outstanding success.

Deny Moratorium In Water Project

WASHINGTON, March 17—(AP)—Secretary Ickes refused today to extend partial or complete moratoriums on repayment of construction charges requested by water users on eight federal reclamation projects.

A special commission had found, he said, that the farmers could meet the charges "without undue hardship."

The projects included the Stanford irrigation district, which receives water from the McKay reservoir on the Umatilla project in Oregon.

John Childers Ill

SPRING VALLEY—John Childers has been seriously ill with flu for over a week but at last reports his condition is improving. Childers has resided here for many years.

US Peace Force Is Plea of Hull

Secretary on Air Hits at Isolationism; Asks for Adequate Defenses

WASHINGTON, March 17—(AP)—Secretary of State Hull called for military preparedness today to make the United States a respected force for peace in a world threatened by "international anarchy" and "barbarism."

He warned peace-loving nations everywhere they must work unceasingly for law and order, lest a retreat in any quarter encourage the spread of "medieval chaos" throughout the world.

Broadcasting to seething Europe from a luncheon meeting of the National Press club, Hull said:

"The catastrophic developments of recent years, the startling events of the past weeks, offer a tragic demonstration of how quickly the contagious scourge of treaty-breaking and armed violence spreads from one region to another."

Going into a storm cellar of isolation offers no security for America he said; the United States must continue to discuss world problems with peace-loving powers and to act along parallel lines with them when appropriate; but on the other hand this country should enter no entangling alliances.

Most students of foreign affairs interpreted this to mean there was little chance of this government's accepting soviet Russia's invitation to confer with other powers on means of halting international aggression.

Miller Asked to Represent South

GRANTS PASS, March 17—(AP)—A petition of 12 leading Josephine county democrats declaring that southern Oregon should have representation in congress, urged W. T. Miller, attorney and former state legislator, to seek the democratic nomination as representative from the first district.

The petition said Jackson county support had been promised.

"Definite action of this kind comes as a surprise to me, and I can make no statement until I have considered the matter properly," Miller said.

WCTU Gives Books To City Library

The Salem WCTU has presented the following books to the Salem public library: "Narcotics and Youth Today" by Corradini; "Education for Total Abstinence" by Demerest; "Alcohol and the Habit Forming Drugs" by Donnelly; "The Dry Fight in Europe" by Gordon; "When the Brewer Had the Stranglehold" by Gordon; "Youth Studies Alcohol" by Harkness & Fort; "Boys and Girls Learning About Alcohol" by Skidmore & Brooks; "Effects of Alcoholic Drinks" by Traneau; "Alcohol and Human Life" by Weeks.

In addition to these books Mrs. J. J. Nunn, on behalf of the WCTU, presented 18 pamphlets and five copies of each of 28 different leaflets. This material has been cataloged and is available to the patrons of the library.

Snow Heavier in Parts of Oregon

PORTLAND, March 17—(AP)—Snow and rain fell in parts of western Oregon today as a storm which had tied up shipping at the mouth of the Columbia river subsided.

Higher sections of Portland and the Willamette valley received a dusting of white. A heavier storm in the Cascades blanketed Bend and closed the road between Government camp and Timberline lodge, on Mount Hood. Newport reported an inch of snow in the season's first fall which reached a depth of three inches farther inland.

Ships delayed at the Columbia river mouth for more than a day crossed the bar in a moderate sea as the coast guard cutter Onondaga stood by.

Severe storm conditions were reported in southern Oregon last night and this morning with heavy snows in the mountains and many trees across the Klamath-Lakeview highway.

Rev. Erickson Will Broadcast Talks

Rev. P. W. Erickson, pastor of the American Lutheran church, has been selected by the conference of foreign missions of North America representing 122 Protestant church boards and societies, to appear on a non-network radio nationwide non-denominational campaign. KNABE
OFFICIAL PIANO OF THE METROPOLITAN OPERA

There is spellbinding emotion and incomparable beauty in the magic voice of the nightingale. Hearing it is an experience never forgotten. Listening to the liquid, mellow richness of the Knabe induces somewhat the same feeling. One understands then why the world of music respects and honors this proud name. It is the reward of a century of painstaking devotion to the art of creating fine pianos.

WAS AFRAID TO EAT! STOMACH GASSY, BLOATED

Mr. E. E. Lane, of Union St., Salem, Says: "Van-Tage! It Gave Me Real Relief!"

Thousands of people here in Salem and throughout this vicinity are now praising and endorsing VAN-TAGE, the remarkable New Compound which is being introduced to crowds daily in this city at the Fred Meyer Trolley & Remedy Shop.

170 N. Liberty St. For instance, just a few days ago, Mrs. E. E. Lane of 571 Union St., Salem, made the following Amazing Statement about Van-Tage. Mr. Lane has lived in this city for the last 11 years, is a well-known Carpenter, Contractor and a prominent member of the Macabees Lodge. Read his sincere testimonial, which follows:

Finds Amazing Relief With New Van-Tage!

"I suffered almost constantly with my gassy, bloated stomach," said Mr. Lane. "Everything I ate soured in my stomach and bloated me so tight with gas that if I tried to move or bend or get up, I would seem to stab all through me. This gas also pressed up around my heart and made it palpitate wildly and I felt so tight and stuffy in my chest that I could hardly breathe. After almost every meal I had terrible belching attacks and a sour, burning substance would come up into my throat. I finally got so I was afraid to sit down and try to eat a regular meal because of the suffering I knew I would have to go through afterward. My bowels were sluggish and constipated and I had to take a strong physic every night or they would not act at all. My system seemed to be full of contamination and I had dizzy spells and severe headaches as a result."

"Then I started taking Van-Tage and I believe it is the finest medicine of its kind I have ever found. It had a fine action on my upset stomach and now I have a good appetite and my food agrees with me instead of souring and forming loads of gas like it used to. The gas pressure around my heart has been relieved and I don't have that short of breath feeling. Van-Tage also helped cleanse my sluggish bowels and now they are regular every day and I don't have to keep taking those strong physics. I am PROUD TO ENDORSE VAN-TAGE for it is indeed a boon to people who suffer like I did."

VAN-TAGE is now being introduced to crowds daily here in Salem at the Fred Meyer Trolley & Remedy Shop, 170 N. Liberty St.

President Erb Is Greeted by Grads

PORTLAND, Ore., March 17—(AP)—Dr. Donald M. Erb, youthful, new president of the University of Oregon, declared in a speech to alumni tonight he wanted "no mediocrity" and expressed impatience with "brilliant loafers."

He urged cooperation of alumni to gain suitable students for the university and discourage migration of students to out-of-state schools. The 38-year-old educator declared his intention to continue the university as a quality institution, without setting up machinery to make it a grand or a "pleasant country club."

In a speech of welcome to Dr. Erb, Governor Charles H. Martin declared that "the more democracy slips, the more is the need of intelligence to combat ignorance."

"Fighting Irish" Governor Lauded

A telegram signed by Rory Collins, conveying St. Patrick's day congratulations to Governor Charles H. Martin, was received at the executive department Thursday.

"Congratulations to the fighting Irish blood in you on this St. Patrick's day," the telegram read.

Collins is a member of the state board of agriculture.

Umpqua Project Plan Is Revised

WASHINGTON, March 17—(AP)—Secretary Woodring told congress today army engineers favored alteration of an existing project for the improvement of the mouth of the Umpqua river in Oregon at an estimated additional cost of $273,000.

A channel 200 feet wide and 22 feet deep from the river mouth to Reedsport, and a turning basin 1000 feet long and 600 feet wide at Reedsport were recommended. Rights of way and spoil disposal areas would be furnished by local interests.

John McCormack May Seek Office

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 17—(AP)—John McCormack, noted tenor, announced tonight he was considering standing for the presidency of his native Ireland.

"I have not had any official invitation," said McCormack, "but so very many of my friends in Ireland have written me to throw my hat in the ring. I cabled my son in Dublin to find out if I am eligible for the position under the new constitution."

500,000 Pamphlets Need for Election

It will require approximately 500,000 copies of the voters' pamphlet for this year's primary election, the state department announced Thursday.

More than 160,000 of these pamphlets will be distributed among the registered voters of Multnomah county.

Printing of the pamphlets is now in progress. Under the law the pamphlets must be in the mails 10 days prior to the election.
