Three Divorce Actions Filed

Husband-Beating Alleged in One; all Based on Cruelty Assertions

That his wife struck, beat and bit him and called him foul names were claimed by Harold R. Tompkins in starting divorce proceedings against Agnes E. Tompkins in circuit court yesterday. Tompkins says that he and his wife were re-married in Vancouver, Wash., August 12, 1937. He alleges that Mrs. Tompkins has said that the only reason she re-married him was to get more money from him and that she "could go out and pick up any old sucker any place" who could make a better living than he does. Cruel and inhuman treatment were also charged in divorce proceedings instituted by Helen T. Wolback against Argye O. Wolback. The plaintiff alleges that they were married February 28, 1932, in St. Francis, Kan. Mildred E. Clayton filed divorce action against Powell Clayton, also on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. Mrs. Clayton says in her complaint that they were married in Toledo, May 20, 1926. She asks $350 per month for support of herself and a minor child, $31.86 to pay a bill owed Meier & Frank and $75 attorney fees.

Salem Postmaster Puts up Expense Payment for Lucky Winner of Plane Trip to Capital in Coming Contests

Should a Salem school boy or girl win the state air mail week poster contest sponsored by the US postoffice department in connection with national air mail week, May 15 to 21, that youth will receive, in addition to the airplane trip to Washington, D. C., three days expenses paid by H. R. Crawford, Salem postmaster.

"And I hope a Salem student wins," Postmaster Crawford declares. The prize for each state winner is the plane trip to the national capital, the winner to bear expenses of the stay in Washington, except in event a Salem youth wins, when the local postmaster has provided for that expense.

Entries, deadline for which is May 1, may be made by any high school student. Contest regulations, presented to the schools by Supl. Silas Gaiser, stipulate that 20 or 25 inch posters mounted on Bristol board must relate to the air mail service of the present and future and its adaptability to the needs of the nation.

Posters must be postmarked not later than midnight, May 1, and may either be mailed to Postmaster Crawford here or brought to his office in the postoffice building. Crawford will forward the posters to Portland where all Oregon posters will be judged for state honors, the state winner going on to Washington for competition in the national contest. The national winner, if from the west, will receive a five-day trip to Miami, Fla., with all expenses paid.

'Snow White' to Be Held to Thursday

Remarkable Response Is Given Living Drawings by Salem Public

"The happiest thing that has happened in years" is what the critics have said of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." And so it seems from the tremendous response Salem theatre goers have shown to this remarkable all-color animated feature.

So great was the ovation that Manager Carl Porter of the Elsinore theatre is holding it through Thursday night.

Walt Disney's conception of small birds and animals is one of the many reasons why he and his productions are beloved by old and young alike. His little rabbits, squirrels, chipmunks, bluebirds and tortoises have exquisitely appealing qualities.

When Snow White flees from the malice of the wicked queen and becomes lost in the woods, she is frightened by the oncoming darkness and the eerie forest sounds, and runs until she falls exhausted. It is then that deer, rabbits, chipmunks and birds befriend her and lead her to the cottage they own in the bright-colored birds hang clothes on the line after the other animals have washed them.

Unique in itself, is the clever "Snow White" foyer display in the Elsinore. Conceived and created by Ernest Iuffer, this eye-stopping bit of landscaping has caused much comment by young and old alike. Mr. Iuffer has transplanted an atmospheric bit of the feature to the foyer, with "Snow White" and her seven funny men in the forest.

Suit on False Arrest Downed

Supreme Court Holds for Defendant Verdict in Action by Bowles

The state supreme court yesterday upheld Circuit Judge Carl Wimberly of Douglas county in a suit brought by Bradford T. Bowles, to recover damages from Leona Creason, Sheriff Percy Webb, and Deputy Sheriffs Clifford Thornton and Fred Perry for false arrest.

The lower court held for the defendants. This was the second time that this case was before the supreme court. Following the original hearing the supreme court sent the case back to Douglas county for retrial.

No Warrant, Alleges
Bowles' arrest was alleged to have followed a demand by Mrs. Creason and the officers that he surrender a horse which Mrs. Creason claimed was her property. During the argument over the horse Mrs. Creason alleged that she was struck by Bowles.

The plaintiff charged that after his arrest he was taken to Roseburg and placed in jail without a warrant. Deputy Sheriff Thornton contended that Bowles' arrest was justified for the reason that the assault and battery upon Mrs. Creason was committed in his presence.

The supreme court opinion was written by Justice Rossman.

Other court opinions: Walter Meyer vs. Brit Nedry, appellant, and Dirickson Nedry, appellants. Appeal from Multnomah county. Suit to recover damages for malicious prosecution. Opinion by Justice Bailey. Judge Alfred P. Dobson affirmed.

In the matter of the estate of Warren Herbert Norman, deceased; Warren Herbert Charleston, a minor, by Ralph L. Charleston, guardian, vs. estate of Warren Herbert Norman and others, appellants. Appeal from Multnomah county. Suit involving will. Opinion by Chief Justice Bean. Appeal dismissed.

The Bank of California, appellant, vs. Leslie M. Scott and other members of the state highway commission and others. Appeal from Multnomah county. Suit involving road contract and assignment. Opinion by Justice Rand. Judge Hall S. Lusk reversed.

Petition for rehearing denied in Guthrie vs. Haun. Application of Ruth Covington Wonacott and Paul Wagner to take second bar examinations allowed.

Oregon Urged to Enter NY Display

W. D. Moessohn, New York chairman of Trade Organization Associates and at one time secretary of the Portland chamber of commerce, telegraphed Governor Charles H. Martin yesterday that "former Oregonians were disturbed because Oregon had withdrawn its exhibit from the New York World's fair."

Moessohn offered his services to straighten out the difficulties. "I feel that Oregon should not miss exhibiting her resources and advantages to the 50,000,000 people expected at the fair," Moessohn's telegram read.

Governor Martin reiterated that "there isn't a chance of the state's getting back into the fair."

Exhibit negotiations with the New York fair directors were broken off last Saturday after Oregon's site was moved to make room for a display to be arranged by a foreign country.

Heavy Debt Load Is Water Problem

Necessitates Handling of Finances With Care, Kiwanians Told

Salem's municipal water venture is off to a good start but its critical period will be the next few years, Cuyler VanPatten, water department manager, told the members of the Salem Kiwanis club at their luncheon Tuesday.

Pointing out that the water department faces a peak debt service load of $181,000 in 1942, VanPatten declared it would be unwise to issue the remaining authorized bonds to complete the distribution system, or to reduce rates until a good start has been made on reducing the debt load. If the department's revenues are not diminished, there will be a surplus of $200,000 a year to be devoted to extension of mains.

Present rates are not high in comparison to those of other northwest cities excepting some large cities which have had municipal ownership for many years and have paid off most of the original cost, VanPatten said.

Relative to the city council's refusal to pay hydrant rentals, VanPatten admitted that under one theory it was justified since the water department pays no taxes, but he pointed out that about 50 percent of the Sanitarium source, VanPatten reported that a saving of $75,000 had been effected through use of WPA labor in installing the new mains.

After tracing the city's acquisition of the water utility and water department manager, told the members of the Salem Kiwanis club at their luncheon Tuesday.

Establishment of a federal tourist bureau in Portland, under the direction of the department of the Interior, was requested in Washington on Monday by Tom Gunn, Portland, vice-chairman of the state world's fair commission.

The request was made at the direction of Governor Charles H. Martin.

Governor Martin said these tourist bureaus were to be established in many western states.

Federal Tourist Bureau Is Plan

COULDN'T SLEEP OR EAT! RELIEF WITH VAN-TAGE!

Mr. Floyd Berhow, of Rt. 3, Salem, Tells How Van-Tage Relieved Awful Suffering With Gassy, Upset Stomach!

"The first thing I want to say in my endorsement of Van-Tage is that this statement of mine is the truth in every respect and I will verify it to anybody," said Mr. Floyd Berhow, of Rt. 3, Box 60, F. Salem, while talking just a few days ago about this Amazing New Medicine which is being introduced to the local public at the Fred Meyer Trolley & Remedy Shop, 170 N. Liberty St. Continuing about Van-Tage, he said:

Food Sour'd; Turn'd to Awful Gas!

"After every meal I ate I was in agony with awful gassy indigestion, pains and so much gas pressure in my chest and around my heart that I felt weak and miserable. Everything I ate seemed to turn sour and form gas and I belched up a sour, bitter substance into my mouth. I couldn't eat heavy, acidic foods, at all—especially meat and salads. This gasfulness was worse when I laid down, and many a night I didn't get any sleep at all. I always woke up before daylight and just laid there tossing and rolling until time to get up. I tried in every way I knew of to get relief from my suffering but nothing helped me much and I was pretty discouraged about my condition.

"Finally I found Van-Tage and it went right to work on that ailing stomach of mine. It helped put me into such fine condition that I feel like a DIFFERENT MAN! It had a fine cleansing action on my stomach and cleared out loads of gas and bloated me. Now I have a good appetite and I can eat anything I want—even meats and salads—and it all agrees with me and doesn't turn and cause painful gas pressure around my heart like it did. Best of all, since my sluggish, upset organs have been cleansed of so much impurity, I can go to bed and sleep all night long and get up in the mornings feeling rested and ready for a real day's work. Van-Tage is a fine medicine for anybody to take who has suffering like I had, and I am glad to give it my public endorsement."

VAN-TAGE is now being introduced to crowds daily here in Salem, at the Fred Meyer Trolley & Remedy Shop, 170 North Liberty Street.
