Swarms of Bees Occupy Fireplaces In Hayesville and Rickreall Homes But Owners Finally Get Upper Hand

HAYESVILLE—The Robin Days had a unique experience Saturday and Sunday. A large swarm of bees decided to settle in the fireplace chimney. They not only occupied the chimney but a great many came out into the recreational room in the basement.

They were smoked out Saturday, but settled on a nearby branch and made a second attack Sunday, and were smoked out again, with the dog the only one showing evidence of their having been there.

Visit Wait Home Too
RICKREALL—A large swarm of honey bees took possession of the H. M. Wait fireplace Saturday noon. Mrs. Wait had noticed them in the morning and when returning from taking her husband's lunch to him in the field, the bees were gone.

Opening the door, she saw them in the house coming out the fireplace. She built a fire, hoping to drive them back but instead they came on filling the rooms and even going upstairs.

The tried the vacuum cleaner and by Sunday night the bees were finally exterminated.
