Gleemen Will Appear to Benefit Boy Scouts

Plans for the annual concert May 10 at the Leslie auditorium of the Eugene Gleemen male chorus, under the direction of John Stark Evans, have been completed. The Salem appearance of the club will mark the 50th formal concert of the organization which is now in its 13th year.

Demonstrating their good will policy, the Gleemen, a non-profit, non-professional singing group will donate their services. The entire net proceeds of the concert will go to the Salem Boy Scouts' camp pioneer fund.

As an indication of the high musical standard meintained, and the popularity of the Gleemen, they sang their sixth annual concert in Portland in February to an overflow audience of over 5000 in the municipal auditorium. Substantially the same program will be presented here May 10 with the addition of Hal Young. nationally known concert tenor, as Much credit for the perfection of the group goes to Cora Moore Frey a talented planist and organist who has served as accompanist for the group since its organization. Ticket sales for the concert will open Monday under the direction of Clifford Harold and may be obtained from members of the Zontas, Business and Professional Women, Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, Active, 20-30 clubs and the chamber of commerce. They will also be on sale at the chamber of commerce and at the Boy Scout headquarters in the Masonic Temple.

Miss Haberlach Heads Northwest Deans

Stage Door to Be Given Saturday Night

Climaxing two days of Maytime festivities on the Willamette university campus, the Ferber-Kaufman production, "Stage Door," will be presented as the Junior class play Saturday night at 8:15 in Leslie junior high school auditorium. The plot of the play is not the same as that of the popular screen version by the same name, however, the cast includes 29 girls and 10 boys.

The scene of the play is the Footlights club of New York, a boarding and rooming house for Broadway actresses.

Mary Elizabeth Kells, who is remembered by Salem audiences for her work in "Twelfth Night," "Outward Bound," and "Mrs. Moonlight," plays the role of Terry Randall.

Irma Calvert of Bremerton plays the part of Jean Maitland, the glamorous actress who can not wait for her dream of a career on the stage to materialize, but chooses Hollywood instead. Melba Riopelle, who is also reas Olivia in "Twelfth Night," plays the role of Judith Canfield, the hard, debunker type of wisecracker whose five brothers and four sisters at home continually besiege her with requests for fifty dollar loans. Verna Vosper as Kaye Hamilton plays with sympathy and restraint the part of the girl who waits in vain for the role which just doesn't materialize. Geraldine Parker as Bernice Neimeyer and Beverly Brown as Mrs. Orcutt, mistress of Bud Kohler and Stan Elan provide the romantic roles respectively as Mr. Kingsley, who wins the first part for Terry Randall, and as Keith Burgess the radical young writer whose concern for the "masses" is soon forgotten when he receives a bid to write for Hollywood.
