Adult Class Hour Changed to 7:30

Beginning tomorrow night all the adult education recreation classes at the old high school will convene at 7:30 instead of 7:15 as heretofore. Despite the usual drop in attendance which comes in the spring most of these classes are holding up remarkably well.

Daytime classes such as oil painting, basketry and wood-working continue to be popular. Excellent work is being turned out and in a number of instances by persons who never before realized they could make such attractive and useful things with their own hands. The addition of a band and a small jointer to the woodworking shop equipment will be welcomed by those doing cabinet work.

Any adult, with or without a job, is welcome to enroll in any of the courses offered. Because the local school board cooperates with the state department of education and the WPA, there is no charge for tuition, points out Earl Litwiler, the local supervisor.

THE HOME DECORATOR

By R. L. ELFSTROM

Torture Chamber

Even if you're Mrs. Best Housewife, you've probably some place in your home which is unclean, dark and a complete dissatisfaction—though it's a spot which is used constantly. Perhaps it's in an old house and has been annoying for years. Or again, it may be a brand new home and the difficulty just beginning to rear its ugly head.

Have you such a step-child? And is it, by any chance, your upstairs hall? Is it one of those long and narrow problems where you can never tell whether you're really on the top step of the stairs or actually on the second floor? It would be interesting to know just how many persons fall on stairs because the hall immediately above is so dark.

But, aside from safety measures, your hall deserves to have a personality all its own. Let the poor thing be something more than a mere collecting link between the bedrooms, bathroom and the downstairs—or something you pass through to get to the linen closet. Dress it up. How? It's really quite simple.

First, do away with that dangerous darkness—before Johnny gets a black eye from bumping into a door when he thinks he's in the middle of the hall. Have your painter give the entire wall surface a light coat of semi-gloss paint... very light and washable, of course. Halls manage to pick up a great many finger prints in

Cigarettes Taken By Sneak Thieves

At least $50 worth of cigarettes and possibly other merchandise were taken from the Busick market at Marion and Commercial streets sometime Friday night by burglars who evidently had hidden in the building and were locked in at closing time.

As no windows or doors were broken open, investigating officers were certain that it had been a job from the inside. The burglars, who emptied pancake flour to get sacks in which to carry their loot, left the building by a side door on Marion street.

Nearly all the cigarettes in the store, about 60 cartons, were taken, and possibly some groceries.

Mt. Angel Downs Aumsville, 6 to 2

AUMSVILLE—The Aumsville high school nine was definitely eliminated as a contender for the Marion county B title when it dropped a 6 to 2 tilt to a heads-up Mt. Angel team.

D. Wilkinson's liberal allowance of base hits plus a galaxy of Aumsville errors in the fifth and sixth gave Mt. Angel victory.

April Rainfall Is Less Than Average

April showers, which are supposed to have something to do with May flowers, didn't quite make an average mark last month and were .06 inches under the mean average of 2.42 for the month.

There were 2.36 inches of rain during April but it came in streaks since it rained from the third to the 6th inclusive and from the 14th to the 18th inclusive. The biggest day's fall was on the 16th when .75 inches was recorded.

Last year April showers were in the form and poured down 7.68 inches to show that they weren't fooling. The best they ever did before that was 7.50 inches in 1893.

April rainfall has been below the inch line only five times, the last being 1933 when a record low of .48 inches dewed.

During the month the Willamette river dropped from six feet to 4.6 feet. High for the month was 10 feet on the 20th and low 3.7 feet on the 15th.
