Second Capitol Suit Is Filed

Frizzell Property Is now Sought; two Other Actions Pending

Proceedings to condemn the Alice B. Frizzell property, which the state desires to acquire as part of the land needed for the new state library grounds, were filed in circuit court yesterday.

The complaint states that Mrs. Frizzell was offered a price which was thought reasonable but that she refused to accept it. The property in question is lot 3, block 25 of the original townsite of Salem.

The state asks in the complaint that a jury assess the property. A similar suit previously was filed against the owners of the Patton property at Court and Summer streets. Two other condemnation suits are being prepared and will be filed later.

Change in Water Pipe Line Asked

Permission to change location and extension of the main water pipe line which serves Detroit was sought from the county court yesterday by Mrs. Eleanor Morris, president of the Tumble Creek Power & Water company.

Argument of the company, which serves Detroit with both water and power, was that the present source from a creek on the North Santiam highway sometimes freezes over.

Permission for the change from the court is needed because the line runs on the edge of the North Santiam highway right of way. The court indicated its permission would be forthcoming subject to consent by the federal bureau of roads.

Boys and girls be at Mickey Mouse today to learn of the information I'm going to give about a free $50 bike which is being awarded by Bishop's. All details will be given today.

All the boys in the Mickey Mouse orchestra were sorry to see Reis John leave for Salt Lake City. He was an exceptionally fine musician. Taking his place is one of equal playing ability, Phil Woodward. Also added to our orchestra is Howie Allan, trumpeter, who can really blow musical notes out of his instrument.

"State Police," an exciting drama of the police in action against the crooks of America, will be the Mickey-Mouse feature. Manager Carl Porter has also booked "Merrily We Live," a madcap family comedy starring Constance Bennett. For short subjects Mr. Porter has selected Carl Hoff and his orchestra.

With this for a swell show, I'll see you at 1 o'clock.

Marion Red Cross Delegation Given Honors at San Francisco Conclave; Rossman Urges Relief for Chinese

Among Oregon delegates to return yesterday from San Francisco where they have been attending the national convention of the American Red Cross was Judge George Rossman, chairman of the Marion county chapter. Judge Rossman stated that he was one of the 50 delegates from Oregon to attend this convention, May 2 to 5, which was the largest in the history of Red Cross conventions, there being in excess of 3000 people in attendance from all parts of the United States. The largest previous national convention attendance was 2300. This was the first such meeting to be held in the west.

Chinese Aid Stressed
The million dollar fund for Chinese relief was especially emphasized by the resolutions committee of which Judge Rossman was chairman.

"At the present time," stated Judge Rossman, "$170,000 has been contributed by the people of the United States, and another $200,000 has been given from the national Red Cross disaster fund, so that $370,000 has been raised, of the $1,000,000 needed."

He pointed out that people are urged to contribute as readily as possible in order to raise this much needed money.

Delegates Complimented
Marion county's three delegates, Mary Ross Holts, Zeral Brown, and Judge Rossman, attended the Oregon breakfast.

Oregon assured the delegates that the Junior Red Cross delegates from Marion county were going home to help swell the national junior membership, which is now 9,000,000. Judge Ross complimented Miss Holts and Mr. Brown upon the creditable representation they made for the Marion county chapter.

Miss Mable Boardman, long connected with the national Red Cross as first volunteer executive secretary, was a special guest at the Oregon breakfast.

Miss Eleanor Thompson, well known to Salem people, was in charge of the panel discussion on home hygiene and care of the sick, which was attended by approximately 400 people. Judge Rossman outlined the work of home hygiene conducted in Marion county by the Red Cross and the Marion county health unit with Miss Beatrice Turtle as teacher.

Miss Holts and Mr. Brown returned Friday afternoon, having left San Francisco on a later train than that taken by Judge Rossman.

Realtors Plan Building Study

To Cooperate in Moves That May Be Begun for Combination

The Salem Realty board's committee appointed to promote a project for a combined court-house-city hall is making a careful study of the proposal and is planning to coordinate its efforts with any moves initiated by the county court or the city council, it was reported at the realtors' luncheon Friday noon.

The board adopted a resolution recommending that the state highway department travel bureau utilize the colored motion pictures of Oregon scenery prepared by Kathryn L. Gunnell of Salem in its tourist promotion work in the east. The Portland Realty board recently passed a similar resolution.

R. H. Jones, legislative candidate, explained his proposal for a law which would place sale of fortified wines produced outside of Oregon, in the state liquor stores as a means of encouraging an Oregon fortified wine industry comparable to one in Washington which amounts to $650,000 a year and utilizes surplus fruit. Such an industry would benefit Marion county especially, Jones said.

Tickets to the Eugene Gleemen concert here next Tuesday night were sold at the luncheon after Clifford Harold praised the ability of the group directed by John Stark Evans and mentioned the benefit the Boy Scouts will derive from the Gleemen's appearance here.

Portland Lease Decision Monday

Control Board to Debate Offer of Taylor Site for Job Offices

Whether the state board of control will approve a lease for the Taylor property, at Burnside and Washington streets, Portland, to be used by the Oregon Employment service, probably will be determined definitely here Monday.

The proposed lease recently was referred to federal officials. Owners of the Taylor property originally offered to lease it to the state and federal government jointly on a rental basis of $85 a month, with the provision that the owners take care of all maintenance and repairs.

Now in Auditorium
The board of control refused this offer and submitted a counterproposal under which the rental would be fixed at $700 a month. Under this proposal the property owners would take care of repairs and maintenance.

The cost of maintenance and repairs was estimated at approximately $65 a month.

The Oregon Employment service, affiliated with the federal employment service, now occupies quarters in the basement of the Portland auditorium.
