Weischedel Case Change Forecast

Walter Weischedel, 22, will not be brought to trial Monday on the Linn county grand jury's charge of assault with intent to kill, District Attorney J. E. Weatherford, Jr., of that county announced here yesterday afternoon. He said that as a result of investigations of the law, the charge probably would be reduced to one of simple assault.

The more serious charge apparently can not be brought in such a case as Weischedel's, in which he is alleged to have used only his fists as weapons, where some expressed intent to kill is not capable of showing by evidence or testimony, Weatherford indicated. Weischedel was charged with the Linn county grand jury of having attacked and beaten a 62-year-old night officer at Brownsville.

Parachute Tested At Airport Today

George Hopkins, parachute jumper, will be at the airport here this morning at 10 o'clock to make a test of a new type of parachute just received from the east, he informed L. Arany, airport manager, by wire yesterday.

Hopkins will jump from an altitude of about 10,000 feet to about 3000 feet without opening the parachute, and at about 3000 feet the umbrella splits in half.

At this juncture, Hopkins will cut the parachute loose, which opens a second one.

The performance today is a test drop in preparation for the air circus the 26-30 club is sponsoring here Sunday. Interested persons are welcome to witness the test this morning.

Collected Taxes All Turned Over

The Marion county tax collector is down to a point of scraping the bottom of the tax barrel. Chief Deputy Collector J. J. Brabec reported yesterday. All taxes paid this year for the years 1936 to 1938, inclusive, have been turned over to the county treasurer, leaving about $50,000 yet to be distributed from collections on 1935 and earlier years.

Rossov Action Not Yet Ended

Extension of Trial Based on Accident Results in Docket Change

The circuit court jury trial docket was altered again yesterday when the action of August W. Rossov against Daniel Franklin Burge failed to be completed. This trial, in which Rossov asks $15,155.50 personal injury and $487.40 damages, will be resumed this morning.

The accident involved occurred on the Pacific highway near the Sidney road intersection July 17, 1937. Albany Creamery association recently gained dismissal of the action as far as it had been made a defendant.

As result of the current trial's running over, the case of Walter B. Minier vs. Albert and Dorothy George slated for today was set over until next Thursday, automatically complying with a defensive motion for continuance. The plaintiff yesterday had filed an affidavit opposing delay.

Circuit Court
Salem Collectors, Inc. vs. Edwin W. Powers; application for trial date; reply denying that $8.24 credited in 1932 on the note at issue was credited by the bank without defendant's knowledge or consent and asserting that defendant's 1935 acknowledged the obligation in writing.

Dan B. Martfield vs. Ruby & Co.; judgment for defendant, based on stipulation.

O. D. McAllister vs. Essie M. McAllister; default divorce decree.

Glady's Lacey vs. Fred Meyer Salem company; motion of plaintiff to strike second paragraph of separate answer or make it more definite regarding plaintiff's alleged overt acts.

J. H. Hellekes vs. Martha Hellekes; order renewing judgment except as to $62.82 made on execution.

Amos Jarvis vs. Bosell-Grimson Motors, Inc.; et al; order of defendant Harry U. Miller admitting Bosell-Grimson pledged the certificate of title involved to him in exchange for $300 and could not therefore deliver title to plaintiff and as further answer averring the firm agreed not to sell the car involved until the $300 had been paid, which has allegedly not been done.

Probate Court
Humphrey H. Smith estate; appraisal, $1559.81 cash and $2500 real property, by J. F. Ulrich, Cyril A. Suing and Charles H. Helzel; claim of E. E. and Florence Whelan for $500 for care of decedent for 20 months and for $200 for care of his wife for five months.

Dinner will be served at 12:30 p. m. in the afternoon there will be demonstrations and games with campfire and taton in the evening. Events on Sunday will be breakfast, inspection, church, dinner, breaking of camp and formal closing with presentation of awards.

Total Eclipse to Be Watched Here
Salem residents may peer at tonight's total eclipse of the moon through eight and 12-inch reflector telescopes to be set up on the courthouse lawn by the Salem high school chapter of the Future Craftsmen of America, members announced yesterday. A nominal charge will be made to raise funds to complete an eight-inch telescope for use at the school.

Although the eclipse will not start until 10:57 p. m., the boys will set up the telescopes, loaned by B. L. Bradley, local amateur astronomer and scope designer, early in the evening to offer sky gazers a chance to see the planets and important stars. The moon will be in total eclipse from 12:18 a. m. until 1:09 a. m. Saturday morning and will not be clear of the earth's shadow until 3:45 a. m.

Astronomer Bradley recently donated the high school an eight-inch glass refractor, ground by himself, for the school telescope the Future Craftsmen will build.

Wharton Unaware Martin Owns Dam

"It is funny my boss did not tell me that he owned the Bonneville dam," Wallace Wharton, executive secretary to Governor Charles H. Martin, declared Thursday.

Wharton said he referred to a recent statement by Henry L. Hess, democratic candidate for governor, that Martin would sell the dam for $25 million.

"I am surprised that Governor Martin would sell the project so cheap for the reason that it cost more than $75,000,000," Wharton continued.

Wharton said the Hess charge proved one thing—that Governor Martin must be allied closely with the national administration. "If this was not true the governor would not have owned the dam," Wharton concluded.

Costs of suspension bridges of two types for the proposed new structure over the Santiam river near Glad were submitted to the county court yesterday by G. S. Paxson, state bridge engineer. A suspension bridge with treated timbers would cost $21,234 and one with plain timbers, $20,194, he said.

The engineer already had advised the court a deck truss bridge for this crossing would cost $17,315.

The court indicated work might be undertaken on the new bridge this summer. As it joins Linn and Marion counties, both units would contribute to its cost.

New Officers Are Inducted at SHS

Nelson President; Praise Accorded for Progress Made in Past Year

Eleven newly elected Salem high school student body officers were safely inducted into their offices yesterday, following Retiring President Bill Smith's talk to the entire assembly, in which he related the forward strides that have been made during the past year in student government.

Principal Fred Wolf complimented the retiring officers on the splendid record they have made for the year, and gave encouraging greetings to the new set.

Concluding the assembly, and at the behest of Bob Ewing, the high school trio sang a novel, comic arrangement of a song entitled "Buy An Annual." It was an effort to get students to procure copies of the student year book.

Officers who took their chairs yesterday, being inducted by the retiring officers, were: President, Merlin Nelson; vice president, Betty Annunen; secretary, Florence Upjohn; Clarion editor, Percy Smith; Clarion manager, Bonner Phelps; Clarion annual editor, Joe Shea; Clarion annual manager, Bud Moynihan; forensic manager, Bill Philmore; sergeant-at-arms, Eugene Jarvis; song leader, Dorothy Caster; yell leader, Burson Ireland.

Les Hite and his "Hollywood Howl" featuring Peppy Prince, the master of the drums, and many other entertainers have a bag full of new and sparkling Hite arrangements to comprise the choice entertainment treat that awaits local dance lovers tonight at the Salem armory when the nationally famous maestro and his band stop here for a special one-night engagement.

The orchestra is now making its second Pacific coast tour after nine years at the Cotton club in Hollywood.

Long a reigning favorite on the Pacific coast, Hite's tremendous national popularity has no doubt been enhanced by his highly radio broadcasting over the Columbia and Mutual National networks as well as the many screen successes that he made with the band. For with his band, Hite has been in musicals as well as several shorts, such as the nationally famous "Rhapsody of Swing," in which the band was featured. His last feature was with Bing Crosby in "Dr. Rhythm."

Complete Plans For Air Show

20-30 Club Circus Sunday to Include Repertoire of Flying Feats

Announcement of the complete program for the air circus to be sponsored Sunday at the Salem airport by the local 20-30 club was made last night by Dick Devers, program chairman for the meet.

Each contestant will be eligible to compete in eight different flying maneuvers, and as the planes will be divided into four classifications on the basis of horsepower, there will be 32 events in all.

Air Feats on List
The maneuvers include spot landings, half-circled landings on a given spot, simulated bomb dropping, paper cutting, balloon bursting, precision spins, a local field race and a cross-country race from Swan Island airfield to the Salem port.

In addition there will be a spectacular parachute leap in which the jumper will fall free for 7500 feet before opening his chute, and several clown stunts and exhibitions.

Featherers to Enter
Representatives of the 20-30 club drove to Portland yesterday to complete arrangements for the cross-country flight and to instruct fliers in attending the circus. Several members of the Sportsmen Pilots of Oregon plan to fly to Salem Sunday, according to officials of that organization. The time for the meet is 2 to 6 p. m. The same program will be held the following Sunday in case of bad weather.

Portland Pastor At Presbyterian

In the absence of Dr. Grover C. Birtchett the pastor, the pulpit of the Presbyterian church will be filled Sunday morning by the Rev. W. L. Van Nuy, D.D., of Portland. Dr. Van Nuy is the field representative of the Presbyterian board of Christian education, and has been very active in the denominational work for young people.

The choir, under the direction of Prof. William H. Wright will sing two anthems, "They that Sow in Tears" from Goun's cantata The Holy City, and "Seek Ye the Lord" by Roberts.

An interesting hymn service has been prepared by members of the choir, and will be presented at 7:30 p. m. Using the theme "Church Union in the Hymnal," hymns have been chosen from Methodist, Congregational, Roman Catholic, Unitarian, Baptist, and Presbyterian sources, and will be sung during the service.

The choir members who will tell the stories of the hymns and their writers are: Miss Violet Carter, Miss Twila Harrison, Mrs. Kenneth Klein, Miss Marjorie Marcus, Mr. Merrill Ames, and Mr. Willard Bartlett.

Salem Cachet

Here's the special Air Mail cachet arranged by the Salem Stamp society which Postmaster H. R. Crawford's crew will attach to all airmail letters going out from the Salem post-office during National Air Mail week, May 15 to 21. Already a large number of letters have been received from stamp collectors awaiting the capital cachet.

CCC's Education Program Outlined

Boys Learn Rapidly, Lions Told; Nominations for Club Offices Told

Illiterate boys in the CCC camps complete work of the lower school grades at the rate of a grade per month, and others who have had some previous schooling complete the seventh or eighth grade in three months, Captain G. B. Wood from Camp Mill City told the Salem Lions club members at their luncheon Thursday.

This rapid progress is made in spite of the fact that the educational work is scheduled so as not to interfere with the boys' regular duties. Captain Wood explained. The boys take great interest in their studies; out of 176 boys in the camp, only five newcomers are not now taking courses although the study is voluntary.

Nine boys recently passed the state eighth grade tests and 30 more will take them soon, the speaker said. Vocational work is also given, and many of the boys find themselves ready to step into jobs when discharged from the CCC, while others go on to high school or college who would not have prepared themselves for such courses had they not enrolled in CCC.

Northwest Is Ahead
None of the boys who enroll in the northwest are illiterate. Captain Wood explained; this district is far ahead in the matter of education but the boys from the southeastern states are more polite and more amenable to discipline.

The Lions' nominating committee announced the following nominations for the election May 26:
For president, Andrew Burk, Howard Jenks, Al Ramseyer; for vice-president, Glen Gregg, John G. Marr and Dr. Estill Brunk; for second vice-president, Arthur

Dr. Lovell Joins Summer Faculty

Willamette Professor to Teach History During June and July

Reginald I. Lovell, graduate of an English college who received his doctorate at Harvard university, and is now professor of history at Willamette university, will be a member of the 1938 summer session faculty of the state system of higher education, where classes will be held from June 20 to July 29.

The three courses taught by Dr. Lovell will be English history—dealing with the period between 1660 and 1815 and with its important economic and social developments; Modern Europe since 1870—devoted to the inception and gradual development of the forces that lead to the World war; and a reading and conference course in European history.

During 1937 Dr. Lovell taught summer school classes at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, where he was previously a member of that institution's staff. It was in the fall of last year that he took up his present post at Willamette. During the period from 1935 to 1937 Dr. Lovell was on the University of North Dakota faculty. He tutored at Harvard from 1927-33.

Hunt, Leslie Sparks, George Rhoten; for third vice-president, Arthur Bates, Floyd Miller and Dr. Waldo Zeller; for directors, Tommy Hoxie, Verne Kirkland, Ed Majek and Vern Mathis.
