Early Leaders In State Races

Davison only 301 to 300 in the fourth ward. The advantage alternated as returns came in. Alderman David O'Hara coasted to victory in the fifth ward with no opponent on the ballot.

Fred A. Williams, veteran councilman and one-time city attorney, and W. W. McKinney appeared decisively defeated by Glenn H. Gregg for the sixth ward council seat. Gregg piled up 502 votes to Williams' 228 and McKinney's 152 in incomplete returns from the ward's four polling places.

Ahead at one time, Dr. W. A. Johnson, incumbent, had lost the lead to C. F. French in the seventh ward race for the council seat being relinquished by Merrill D. Ohling. Latest tally gave French 470 to Johnson's 331, with incomplete returns from each precinct in the ward.

A. Warren Jones and Paul H. Hauser lacked opponents to their reelection as city recorder and treasurer, respectively.

The strong support given him led Chadwick to express his appreciation to the voters formally. "I am indeed grateful for the confidence you have shown me with the fine vote given me for the office of mayor," Chadwick's statement said. "It will be necessary for me to have a runoff with either of my opponents, I assure you that I shall continue my campaign on my platform, to keep Salem a clean city, and, if elected, to carry on businesslike administration of the city government of Salem. I thank you all."

Congressmen Work As Oregon Votes

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(AP)—Oregon's three representatives professed to be unworried as they spent the day at their desks while voters at home balloted on whether to return them to office.

None of the three, James W. Mott, republican, of Salem; Nan Wood Honeyman, democrat, Portland; and Walter M. Pierce, democrat, La Grande, returned home to campaign.

Duncan and H. R. Jones were next in order but Walter Fuhres was a 37 five votes behind Jones and there was ample opportunity for a change in these standings, with Rome, Gouley also very much in the running.

Douglas McKay, incumbent, led the field of three for the two nominations for state senator, with Ronald Jones a good second. For county commissioner, Jim Smith, who formerly held this office, was nearly 300 ahead of Leroy Hewlett, incumbent.

Sprague's lead here was not as heavy as it was elsewhere in the state, but was expected to increase as Salem returns were tabulated. A majority of the 35 precincts figuring in the midnight total were from rural districts. Earlier incomplete tabulations of Salem precincts had given Sprague a much greater margin. These figures were not included in the midnight total.

Rufus Holman was leading Robert N. Stanfield nearly 3-to-1 for the nomination for US senator. James W. Mott was more than ahead of Walter Norblad for state representative. C. H. Gram's lead over David F. Graham for labor commissioner was about the same.

Trade Recovery Is Forecast Soon

But War Blocking Social Progress, Says Labor Chief at Geneva

GENEVA, May 19.—(AP)—Harold B. Butler, director of the international labor office, predicted early business recovery in the United States, but warns that war is blocking world social progress and threatens to precipitate a "total collapse."

In his annual report, the British chief of the labor bureau, a League of Nations organization, reported favorably on basic economic conditions, but declared "war is already invading the social field."

"It has already blocked some of the main agencies of advance," Butler reported, "and may soon begin to sap the social edifice which this generation has raised. Should another general war break out, a total collapse is practically certain."

When it was extinguished she entered the house and met a man she believed to be a fireman and explained that the fire was out. He left hurriedly. Later Mrs. McNab reported a jewelry box and contents valued at more than $200 had been taken from her bedroom.

Andrew C. Burk, Marion county sheriff and candidate for nomination for congress, led his two opponents by a vote more than double their combined total, in the returns from his home county.

Sprague Declares Honor Appreciated

As statewide returns continued to bring in reports of a substantial lead in almost every county, Charles A. Sprague, Salem candidate for republican nomination for governor, made the following statement in response to an Associated Press request:

"It is a great honor to be chosen as the nominee for governor of a state. I deeply appreciate the honor which early returns indicate has been conferred on me by the republican voters of Oregon; and express my genuine gratitude to those whose support has won the nomination for me, and to the newspapers of the state for their kindly assistance.

"The nomination is a call to further duty. I accept the assignment and announce my intention to wage a vigorous campaign to bring victory in November."

High Price for Rogue Pine Bid

MEDFORD, May 20.—(AP)—Karl L. Janouch, supervisor of the Rogue river national forest, said the Rogue River Sugar Pine company's bid of $7.75 a thousand for 2,700,000 feet of white pine in the Copeland creek district was believed to be the highest price paid in Oregon and Washington for any timber except Port Orford cedar.

The company started cutting today. The timber will be processed at the firm's plant in Central Point.
