

Mothers' Circle Finishes Season

GRAND ISLAND—The Mothers' Circle club recently held its last regular business meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Fred Finnicum with 13 members and one guest, Mrs. Grace Duren, present. The president, Mrs. E. A. Laffey, appointed Mrs. Eivin Mandigo and Mrs. Charles A. Ferguson to formulate a tentative program for next year.

Readings in honor of Children's day and Father's day were given by Mrs. Dale Fowler. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her sister, Mrs. Agnes Tompkins and Mrs. Dale Fowler. The club annual picnic will be held sometime in July.

Chapelle Is Handed Fine and 30-day Jail Sentence

DALLAS—E. J. Chapelle was brought to Dallas to serve out a 30-day sentence in the Polk county jail. Chapelle was arrested by West Salem authorities May 30 on a charge of driving while drunk. He appeared before the justice of the peace there where he was fined $250 and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Cardenas Cleans Up on Revolution

Taking personal charge of stamping out the rebellion fomented by Cedillo in the province of San Luis Potosi, President Lazaro Cardenas of Mexico made his headquarters there, devoting his time to reorganizing the government and meeting the citizenry, above.

Farrands Happy To See Oregon's Farm Land Again

LIBERTY—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Farrand returned home Friday from Essex Junction, Vermont, where they spent nearly six months visiting his father, F. H. Farrand, who is in poor health.

They returned by the northern route, through Montreal, Toronto, Chicago, making stopoffs in Ohio and New York state. The last part of the trip was through North Dakota, Montana, Spokane, Washington to Portland.

They state that they did not mind the winter as much as expected as Vermont had no unusually hard winter though a good deal of snow.

They also believe there are less people on relief in Vermont than elsewhere and that disturbance and unrest is not so prevalent among the Vermonters as noticed throughout the rest of the country. Vermont, they state, is the rockiest place they ever saw put into cultivation. They marveled that the farmers there had the patience and hardihood to dig up and cart the rocks from the land. Rock walls are everywhere and are at present being used as a source of supply for road building material in the state's

Alaska Residents Visit Scio Brother

SCIO—J. J. and A. B. Cain are here from Juneau, Alaska, on a visit at the home of their brother, R. M. Cain, pioneer Scio merchant. The men from the territory are publishing the Alaska Catholic, said to be published farthest north of any paper of this denomination under the American flag. At the People's theatre in Scio Tuesday night, the Alaska men presented on the screen many interesting scenes in their home territory.

Frank Holub of Ione, eastern Oregon, has been in Scio community this week attending to business matters and visiting relatives and friends. He was reared in the Scio area but left with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Holub, several years ago. His father died about a year ago. The Holubs have about 3000 acres in their holdings, 1000 acres in grain crops. Prospects for a good crop were encouraging, Holub said.

Scio Czech Colony Soon 40 Years Old

SCIO—Saturday, June 4, will mark the 40th anniversary of J. F. Wesely's arrival in the Scio community. In company with his uncle, Albert Young, and three cousins, Wesely came by train from Kansas, arriving June 4, 1898. Wesely was instrumental, through correspondence published in national Czech papers about farming conditions in this section, in increasing the Czech colony here. The number of Czech families now residing in this vicinity is approximately 180, the largest of that nationality on the Pacific coast.

An unusual feature at the lamb show in Scio this year was of road here is in progress.

a ewe with her four lambs, weight of each lamb being about 50 pounds. This family was exhibited by R. L. Jackson farmer a few miles southwest of Scio.
