W. D. Olden Suffers Burns in Fifth Blaze From Unknown Cause Reported In South Hills Area Since May 16

LIBERTY—W. D. Olden suffered third degree burns on his legs and less serious burns on his forehead early Friday morning when he made a futile attempt to save his automobile from his burning garage in the fifth mysterious fire that has occurred in the hills section since May 16.

The Oldens were awakened about 1 a. m. Friday morning by the barking of a dog, and looking out saw flames shooting from the garage. The garage, a toolhouse and workshop, the car, a tractor and about $1000 worth of tools were destroyed. Insurance was carried on the buildings.

Several hundred gallons of gasoline, in sunken tanks, burned also and this fire, which was started by a blaze at the Mason Blashop place had not firefighters been prepared for just that.

The Salem first aid car and chemical engine of the fire department both did service here as result of the fire.

Poultry Measure To Be Considered
Ordinance to Regulate Poultry Dressing Firms in City

The new six-section ordinance regulating the keeping, slaughtering or dressing of fowls within the city limits of Salem, to be reported back into the city council Monday night from the health and sanitation committee, puts stringent restrictions upon an industry the operation of which has long been a controversial matter with Salem citizens.

Provisions of the bill make it unlawful to have live fowls in possession for commercial purposes, or to operate any place for slaughtering or dressing poultry in the city in any but a class three business district, providing 75 per cent of the property owners within 150 feet do not object, and in parts of class four unrestricted districts which are 150 feet distant from residential districts.

The bill also makes it unlawful to have in possession more than 24 live fowls except in the forementioned districts.

Initially provided for violation of the ordinance is a fine of not exceeding $500 or imprisonment in the city jail not to exceed 60 days, or both. The bill provides that each day of violation of the ordinance shall be considered a separate offense.

Sewing Project Notice Received
Official notice of approval of a $1,116,694 statewide relief sewing project was received yesterday at the district WPA headquarters here yesterday. Under its projects such as the sewing room operated in Salem for several years will be grouped together for administrative purposes.

The city and county have been contributing $125 a month toward the sewing room here and are expected to continue to do so under the new setup.

The WPA this week requested permission of the school board to use the old high school gymnasium for the sewing room, which is to be moved from the Chambers building by July 1.

Seven Fatalities Listed for Week
There were seven fatalities in Oregon due to industrial accidents during the week ending June 16, the state industrial accident commission reported yesterday.

The victims were Clyde H. Hall, Portland, frame maker; Bert E. Thayer, Clondale, electrician; Hogan E. Erickson, Clatskanie, rigger; Roy Carter, Detroit, loader; William R. Cummings, Monmouth, city marshal; Glen Hallamok, electrician, and Dewey R. Byrne, Klamath Falls, logging superintendent.

There were 745 accidents reported to the commission during the week.

Coast Guns Bark At Fort Stevens
ASTORIA, Ore., June 7.—(AP)—Coast artillery guns barked again today as the 249th regiment fired sub-caliber, one-pound shells from six and ten-inch guns in batteries Pratt and Rusk at Fort Stevens. Their fire was directed at a red triangular target towed a mile and a half off the Columbia river by a tug.

Another battalion fired three-pounder sub-caliber shells from mortars of battery Clark. Artillerymen will fire giant shells weighing from 600 to 1000 pounds next week when three batteries of 52 men each begin practice with service ammunition.

Infantrymen today engaged in musketry and anti-aircraft drill.

Protest Transfer Of E. N. Kavanagh
PORTLAND, June 17.—(AP)—The Oregon Wild Life federation today lodged vigorous protest with the United States forest service in Washington, D. C., against transfer of E. N. Kavanagh, assistant regional forester here, to Ogden, Utah.

Kavanagh's transfer "would be a grave error" in the opinion of W. J. Smith, federation president, who said Kavanagh "has worked cooperatively with stockmen and sportsmen and the state game department for years and has achieved a state of harmony between the groups."

He called Kavanagh one of "Oregon's most valuable servants."

Hotel Operators Train new Corps
PORTLAND, June 17.—(AP)—Operators at the 11 Portland strike-bound hotels said today they were training new workers and asserting they had no difficulty obtaining supplies except beer. All claimed they were operating "normally."

In the meantime unions involved in the strike opened a restaurant for unemployed members.

Last of Rioters Out of Solitary

Term Expires for Convict Among 16 Sent to Bull Pen in 1936

The last of 16 convicts sent to the "bull pen" following the riot at the state penitentiary here July 30, 1936, was released from solitary confinement this week. His sentence at the institution had expired.

One convict was shot down and killed during the riot while another was seriously wounded.

Besides the 16 rioters sent to the "bull pen" a number of others were assigned to correction cells where they remained for several months.

Privileges of the convicts have been restricted materially since the riot and reading material limited to the prison library and a few magazines. Newspapers have been taboo and radio programs have been limited to once or twice a week.

Warden Lewis said most of the prisoners sent to the "bull pen" as a result of the riot have not caused any trouble following their release. Sentences of several of these prisoners have expired since the disturbance.

32 new Citizens Swear Allegiance

Citizenship in other nations was exchanged for that in the United States by 32 men and women who took the oath of allegiance at the final naturalization hearing conducted at the county courthouse yesterday night.

The women in the group several had lost their US citizenship by marriage.

The only two candidates appearing at yesterday's court who were not on the advance list issued by County Clerk U. G. Boyer Thursday were Lulu Blanche Fisher and Anna Fay Simpson. Both originally were American citizens but had become Canadian citizens.

Filing of preliminary naturalization petitions will be opened in September and petitions heard in December, Thomas S. Griffing, assistant director of naturalization, said before returning to Portland.

40 Already Join Flaxarian Group

MT. ANGEL—Farmers and business men are urged to join Mt. Angel's newest organization, the Flaxarians. E. G. Unger and J. C. Beck, the organizing committee, report that 40 men have already signed up and ordered the Flaxarian white linen suits.

The suit consists of white linen coat and trousers, white felt hat with a band bearing the name Flaxarian, a red necktie, and a red and white arm band.

The Flaxarians will meet on the St. Mary's school grounds Wednesday night, June 22, for their first drill practice. A special drill master will be there to give instruction.

Realtors Leaders Graham Declares

Cities and towns are paying more attention than ever before to real estate men because they are recognized as competent civic leaders, members of the Salem Realty board were told yesterday noon by William L. Graham, deputy state real estate commissioner. Their knowledge of property values and taxation is invaluable to governmental units, he said.

Graham urged the realtors to study their business and become proficient in it, to develop creative salesmanship and to win its "passport to success—loyalty, knowledge and enthusiasm."

The beauty, fertility and prospect of great sources of electrical power are turning eyes of the nation to Oregon and the northwest, Graham reported, in telling of a recent trip to Washington, D. C.

Music for the luncheon was provided by William Wright, pianist, accompanied at the piano by Prof. Frank Churchill.

At next Friday's board luncheon, the last until fall, State Treasurer Rufus C. Holman will speak on "The Power to Tax is the Power to Destroy." C. V. Johnson, president, announced.
