

Four Salem Maids Will Be Married at Impressive Ceremonies Today

Indoor weddings were featured for this weekend, fortunate indeed for both guests and bridal parties. Several weddings are planned for today, several were performed yesterday.

Miss Jones to Marry in Yakima

The marriage of Miss Bernita Josephine Jones to Mr. Paul Edward Sharp is an event of this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Yakima, Wash., at the home of Mr. A. E. Horton. Miss Jones is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Jones of Silverton and the groom is the son of Mrs. W. N. Sharp of Salem.

The bride will wear a crepe romaine dress with bolero jacket of wheat and will wear Paris sand accessories, she will wear a corsage of sweet peas, gardenias and roses. For going away she will wear a matching wool coat over the silk dress.

Miss Jones attended Silverton and Salem schools and has been employed at the H. L. Stiff Furniture company for several years. Mr. Sharp attended Tennessee Military institute and Hill Military academy. The couple will be at home in Salem following a short wedding trip.

King-Ringo Vows Today

Miss May Ringo, daughter of Mrs. Carrie Ringo, will become the bride of Mr. Irving King of Hines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. King of Portland, at a simple ceremony this afternoon at the Ringo home at 3 o'clock. Rev. Lynn Wood will read the service in the presence of immediate members of the two families and a few close friends.

The couple will exchange their vows in front of the fireplace and the mantel will be centered with a bouquet of yellow gladioli, blue delphinium, palms and ferns. Preceding the ceremony Miss Dorothy Foster will sing "I Love Thee" and will be accompanied by Miss Marian Chase who will also play the wedding march.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Glenn Ringo of Roseburg, will wear a floor length gown of white lace fashioned on princess lines and made with leg-o-mutton sleeves and high neckline. On the bodice are satin covered buttons. She will wear a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair and carry a white prayer book with white satin streamers of orange blossoms.

Miss Esther Spiers of Roseburg will be the bride's only attendant. She will wear a gown of yellow organdy fashioned princess style and carry an arm bouquet of talisman roses. Mr. Lorenzo Matthews of Portland will be best man for Mr. King.

A reception will follow the wedding and the table will be centered with the bride's cake. The buffet will be decorated with a bouquet of delphinium, roses and gladioli. Mrs. V. E. Newcomb will cut the wedding cake and assisting in the serving will be Miss Olivia DeVries, Miss Eleanor Barth and Miss Ruth West.

The couple will leave for a short wedding trip and for traveling the bride will wear a light royal blue suit with white accessories.

The couple will reside in Burns and Mr. King is in the purchasing department of the Hines Lumber company. Miss Ringo attended Salem schools and is a graduate of Willamette university. She has been teaching at Burns this last year.

Miss Drager To Wed

The Knight Memorial church will be the setting for an impressive ceremony this afternoon at 4 o'clock when Miss Mildred Drager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Drager, will become the bride of Mr. James T. Briggs of Ashland.

Rev. H. C. Stover will read the service in the presence of members of the two families and friends. The altar will be banked with a large bouquet of peach gladioli and blue delphiniums and flanked with white tapers in candelabra. Miss Marjorie Scobert of Eugene will play the wedding marches and several numbers before the ceremony.

The bride will wear an afternoon ensemble of leaf green crepe fashioned with lace top and bolero jacket. Her accessories will be British tan and she will wear a corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. William Mosher (Eleanor Yarnes) will be the bride's only attendant and will wear a navy blue marquisette frock with print of white flowers. She will wear white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mr. William Briggs of Portland will serve as best man for his brother.

A reception at the Drager home on State street will follow the wedding. The serving table will be centered with a bouquet of summer blooms and matching tapers. Mrs. Alex Jones will preside at the turns and assisting in the serving will be Miss Mary White and Miss Vernita Van Fleet.

The couple will leave for a wedding trip along the coast and will make their home in Ashland where Mr. Briggs is connected with the Southern Pacific. Miss Drager is well known here and attended Salem schools. She is a graduate of Willamette university and a member of Alpha Phi Alpha sorority. For several years she has been teaching at the Ashland high school. Mr. Briggs attended Oregon State college.

Garden Ceremony Today

This afternoon at 4 o'clock in the beautiful gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert R. Derry, Miss Alta Kershner, daughter of Mrs. E. M. Kershner, will become the bride of Mr. Arthur A. Rieck, son of Mr. Fred W. Rieck. Dr. James E. Milligan will perform the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends.

Preceding the service Mrs. Horace Thomas will sing "At Dawning" and "Because" and Miss Geraldine Arnett will play the accompaniments and wedding marches. The vows will be exchanged at one end of the garden in a natural setting.

The bride, who will enter on the arm of her uncle, Mr. G. V. Pontious, will wear a lovely floor length gown of pale yellow marquisette mousseline. The frock is fashioned with a tight bodice, gored skirt and puffed sleeves. She will wear a yellow coronet in her hair and carry an arm bouquet of pink baby gladioli, yellow rose and candytuft.

The bride's honor attendant will be Mrs. George Jacobson of Hillsboro who will wear a frock of ashes of roses net trimmed in powder blue. She will carry an arm bouquet of pale blue delphinium and yellow gladioli.

Mr. E. J. Peterson of Portland will serve as best man for Mr. Rieck.

A reception in the gardens will follow the wedding ceremony. The serving table will be centered with the bride's cake encircled with a wreath of pansies. Mrs. Jack Siegman of Portland will cut the wedding cake and Mrs. Minnie Winterhult will cut the ices. Miss Maxine Weston of Portland and Miss Geraldine Arnett will assist in the serving.

The couple will leave for a wedding trip to Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., and other northern points. For traveling the bride has chosen a smart two-piece tailleur of aqua blue with blue and white accessories.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kershner will wear a gown of navy blue lace with corsage of sweet peas and roses.

Miss Kershner is well known in Salem and is librarian at the Salem high school. She is a graduate of Willamette university and later took advanced work at Columbia university. Mr. Rieck was educated in Tacoma and is now in business in Salem where the couple will reside. They will be at home, 2327 South Commercial street, after July 1.

AMONG THE JUNE BRIDES are, left, Mrs. Robert M. Needham who was married at a church ceremony in Portland yesterday. She is the former Maxine Rankin. At the right is Mrs. Palmer Dawes, the former Mildred Roberts who was married yesterday in St. Helen's hall chapel in Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Dawes will live in Newark, Ohio. Miss Rankin Is Wed Saturday in Portland

Simplicity marked the wedding of Miss Maxine Rankin, daughter of Mrs. W. C. Rankin of Portland, and Mr. Robert M. Needham, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Needham of Salem, which was solemnized yesterday afternoon in the chapel of St. Stephen's cathedral in Portland at 4:30 o'clock. Only intimate friends of the couple and members of the two families witnessed the ceremony which was read by Dean Horace M. Ramsey. At the altar were two bouquets of mixed summer flowers and lighted tapers. Mr. Carl Denton played the wedding marches.

The bride who was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. John S. Rankin, wore a stunning dress suit of toast colored wool. The jacket was embellished with beige fox fur. With it she wore a Paris sand georgette blouse, shoes and purse and beige turban and gloves. She wore a corsage of purple orchids and carried a white prayer book. Miss Genevieve Biedel of Portland was her sister's only attendant and wore a light green wool suit with black accessories and corsage of gardenias.

Reception Followed
Mr. Winfield Needham who arrived from Stanford Friday was best man for his brother, Mr. Charles Wiper, jr. of Eugene was the usher.

A reception in the parish house followed the wedding. The serving table was centered with a bouquet of white roses in a crystal bowl guarded by white tapers. Among those attending were Mrs. George H. Robertson (Jessie Steele) of Portland, Miss Alice Falk, Miss Esther Baird and Miss Eleanor Fundman all of Salem. The couple left immediately for a wedding trip to San Francisco and other southern points. Mr. and Mrs. Needham will return to Salem to reside and will be at home at Winona Court.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Needham are popular members of the younger set of the capital. Mrs. Needham attended Albany college and has been employed at Ladd and Bush bank. Mr. Needham is a graduate of Salem schools and of the University of Oregon where he was a member of Phi Sigma Kappa. He is now in business with his father at Needham's Book store.

Seen and Heard

By JERYME UPSTON

WEDDINGS and announcements are keeping the younger set busy these days remembering dates for pre-nuptial affairs, the hour and day of the wedding and suspecting who will be the next to reveal her betrothal. . . . At one of the loveliest teas of the early summer season for which Mrs. Clarence Keene was hostess a week ago the engagement of her daughter, Elizabeth, to John Michael Cosovitch of Astoria was made known. . . . A number of Portland, Salem and Silverton folk called during the afternoon. . . . Elizabeth was most attractive in an all-white gown of taffeta and Mrs. Keene wore blue and silver lame. . . . Gorgeous bouquets of delphinium in all the pastel shades were arranged in blue glass bowls in the living room. . . . The tea table was centered with a huge bouquet of delphinium and roses. . . . Peggy Munger who has recently moved to Portland was among the servers as was Kathryn Laughridge who wore black and white jacket.

COMMENCEMENT at Willamette a week ago and a time for reminiscing among the old grads and at the same time a thrilling week for the seniors. . . . Glimpsed at the graduation exercises. . . . In Mrs. Bruce Baxter's box, Mrs. Lloyd Douglas, wife of the speaker of the day, wearing a Paris sand ensemble with large chapeau. . . . Mrs. Paul Wallace, wife of the president of the board of trustees, was smart as usual in a dark tulle, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Pantan. . . . Attending the commencement of her youngest son Charles, was Mrs. James Heitler who wore navy blue (trimmed in white). . . . Mrs. Heitler is a graduate of Willamette and Charles received his law degree. . . . Mrs. J. A. Harris (Dorothy Durkee) of North Bonneville stunning in all purple with accessories to match. . . . the next day Dorothy was one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of Mary Jeannette Sargent and Charles Neville. . . . the Nevilles also graduated on Saturday and went north on their honeymoon in a new car, a wedding gift from Mary Jeannette's parents). . . . Frances Stewart, May queen of several years ago was back on the campus and has been teaching at one last year. . . . From Pendleton came Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Leadbetter (Grace White), the latter wearing a British tan frock with pleated skirt and matching straw poke.

At the annual senior breakfast on the campus Saturday morning eight couples "took a walk" hand in hand around the breakfast table announcing their engagement. . . . Those who participated in the game willamette custom were Mary Viken and Lillian Hart, Vera Rierson and Lorence Tompkins, Arthur Steele and Ruth Bunzow, Ralph Nohlgren and Jean Holtingworth, Ty Gillespie and Roberta McGilchrist, Stanley Neuens and Virginia Pugh, Charles Neville and Mary Jeannette Sargent who were married June 13 and Al Perry and Jean Bell Perry who announced they had been married in April.

A GENUINE SURPRISE was in store for the guests who called at the open house for which Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bishop and Carl Gabrielson were hosts last week at the Bishop home in Portland in welcome to Charles Kay Bishop and his guest, John William Cutler of Providence, R. I., who came west with him from school in Philadelphia. . . . Like many easterners John asked about the Indians, which gave the hosts an inspiration for their party. . . . The Bishops were acquainted with five chiefs who were here for the Rose Festival and in the living room these five tall chiefs stood dressed in ceremonial costumes as the guests arrived, indeed a complete surprise and thrill for John Cutler. . . . The chiefs represented the Walla Walla, Umatilla and Plute tribes of eastern Oregon and were complete with war bonnets. . . . By the end of the party they had danced their war dances and shaken their tomahawks at all the guests.

MORE SCHOOL. . . . for Esther Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Black, who is leaving the middle of the week for Berkeley where she will attend the summer session at the University of California and will reside at the International House. . . . in the fall she will return to LaGrande where she is girls' physical education director.

Jean Anunson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anunson, is leaving the end of the week accompanied by her parents for Miss College where she will enroll for the summer course and study further in physical education. . . . Miss Gale Curry, physical education director at Willamette, will also study at Mills this summer.

From the bay region comes word from Helen and Margaret Purvine. . . . Helen has been at Mills college on a fellowship and this summer plans to attend the University of California and in the fall will return to Mills where she has an offer of another fellowship. . . . Margaret is also planning to attend the university and continue her social service work in Berkeley.

Margaret Doerge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Doerge, will receive her master's degree in French at the University of Wisconsin Monday. . . . she plans to arrive in the capital Friday to spend the summer months. . . . In September Margaret will return to Madison where she has a fellowship at the university for the next year.

A THRILL for Lois Riggs who attended the Royal Rosarian queen's dinner and ball last Saturday at the Masonic temple in Portland with her fiancé, Joseph Carlon. . . . Lois had the honor of leading the grand march at the ball with Guy Kibbe, Hollywood actor, who was in Portland for the Rose Festival. . . . Kibbe is a friend of the Carlons and Lois met him before the dinner. . . . There were beautiful table decorations at the dining honoring Queen Frances II. . . . the head table was outlined by a tiny white picket fence festooned with Paul spanglet roses. . . . a huge bowl of roses in the center of the table was flanked on either side by tiers of red and white vigil lights.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Elliott are enjoying the weekend in the Dalles with Mrs. Elliott's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bolton. Their daughter, Joan, who has been visiting with the Boltons for the past fortnight, will return home with the Elliotts.

Mrs. Elliott Price and her twins, Lorah Jo and David Andrew, of Camas, Wa., will return to their home today after spending several weeks with Mrs. Price's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Mills.

ART CENTER NOTES

By MAXINE BUREN

Surrealists can't hold a candle to elementary school children when it comes to putting their imaginations graphically onto a sheet of paper. Youngsters at the lower grades, whose mark is on display in the hall gallery of the Salem Art center in the old high school building draw their conception of animals and people more in the manner of caricatures. They are understandable to adults, and I have the feeling of wishing I could draw like that.

Take a look at the red and white horses at the left of the first doorway, then on a little farther see the details in the Field Piper of Hamlet (not labeled, but no question about the title). We lose the natural knack for drawing and we don't regain our talent unless we are artists.

Mr. Val Clear, the director of the center, is a friendly fellow, and brave enough to invite visitors to ask him questions. He says he is ready to talk to citizens even though Mrs. Elise Ehsen is waiting to show guests through the gallery.

Children's and Junior's classes in the mornings are well filled, youngsters are taking advantage of free instruction and freedom from regular school to dash off a bit of art work at the center.

Women are enthusiastic too, who enroll in the "Art Smoker" men's class at night is the only one where potential artists are shy enough or scarce enough so class is still open to members. Dr. V. A. Douglas was a brave beginner and another fellow to register but is glad he is now a full fledged member, well on the way to becoming an artist of note. Mr. Bunce, the instructor likes men's classes and is still waiting for business men to enter. Drawing, modeling or painting will be taught.

Youngsters are allowed full sway with imagination, a large piece of paper, bright paint and then—assistance from the teacher.

Class enrollment necessarily was limited and those who failed to heed the warning of restricted registration must wait until more instructors can be employed.

Thirty good looking women tramped out to the parks of a Wednesday afternoon with one brave Mr. Lemery, to sketch. Other days they work inside. Many have done "art work" but mostly copying, and find this original business a good deal of fun.

The Misses Mary and Thora Hult, moved from Cheire, Oregon for the sole purpose of taking work at the Art Center. They study in the professional class with Mr. Bunce and attend night classes. Soon one will trade places with her mother who will spend the remainder of the time here.

Chadwick Chapter No. 37, Order of the Eastern Star will meet Tuesday night for a short business meeting which will be followed by a program and social hour. This will be Friendship night and all members are asked to bring a guest for the evening. The refreshment committee will be headed by Mrs. J. H. Jennings. This will be the last meeting before the summer vacation.

Miss Mildred Roberts Is Bride of Palmer Dawes at Lovely Ceremony

At a beautiful ceremony in the chapel of St. Helen's hall in Portland Saturday at high noon Miss Mildred Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, became the bride of Mr. Palmer Dawes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Cutler Dawes of Chicago. Bishop Benjamin Dagwell read the impressive ceremony and was assisted by Reverend George H. Swift.

The altar was banked with bouquets of white roses and tall white tapers in candelabra. Miss Lucille Cummings played the wedding marches. Only members of the two families and intimate friends were invited to the wedding and additional guests were bidden to the reception.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, was in a gown of all white embroidered starched chiffon fashioned with square neckline, tight fitting bodice, puffed sleeves and full skirt slightly entrain. She wore a fingertip length veil of tulle which fell from a cap of the material of her gown and was caught on either side with orange blossoms. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of gardenias and white bouvardia.

The bride was preceded to the altar by her three bridesmaids, Mrs. Charles Craggett, Mrs. John Day of Portland and Miss Madelon Brodie of Oregon City, and the matron of honor, Mrs. Conrad W. Paulus.

The brides wore frocks of pink organza fashioned with full skirts and short puffed sleeves and matching poke bonnets. Mrs. Paulus wore pink net dresses and a wide horsehair picture hat of pink. The attendants all carried old fashioned nosegays of pastel summer blooms.

Mr. E. Fritz Slade, uncle of the bride, acted as best man for Mr. Dawes and ushers were Mr. Kenneth Bailey and Mr. Fred and Mr. Colin Slade.

To reside in Ohio The Fritz Slade home on Sherwood drive in Portland was the setting for the reception which followed the wedding. Members of the bridal party and Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Dawes, who came west for the ceremony, received the guests. Mrs. Roberts wore a gown of blue lace with matching hat and corsage of gardenias.

The guest rooms were festive with bouquets of summer flowers and the serving table was in all white centered with an all white bouquet and tall white candles in silver holders. At one end was a three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. T. A. Livesley and Mrs. T. C. Smith, jr., of Portland presided at the urns and Mrs. Kenneth Bailey and Mrs. Daniel J. Fry, jr., assisted in the serving. Miss Gertrude Roberts cut the bride's cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawes left later in the day for a wedding trip and will make their home in Newark, Ohio, where Mr. Dawes is in business. For traveling the bride wore a smart tailleur of ginger wool, beige accessories and a corsage of orchids.

Mrs. Dawes is well known in the capital and a violinist. She is a graduate of St. Helen's Hall and the Dresden Conservatory of Music. Mr. Dawes is a graduate of Northwestern university and the University of Chicago law school.
