

First Pictures of Interior of New Capitol Preview Opening

State Capitol Ready Tuesday

Although Three Items yet to Be Done eKys to Be Presented

Although three items still remain on the calendar of capitol completion, Oregon's new capitol will be presented to the state Tuesday by architects and builders, with the reconstruction commission scheduled to make final inspection at that time and accept the structure for the people of the state.

While the governor's three-room suite is the most luxurious ever used by an Oregon executive, it is the massive lobby to which architects point with pride. Compared to a giant vault, it extends upward 150 feet to the skylight and cylindrical dome.

Centered by a bronze replica of the Oregon seal, the lobby is furnished with walls of rose-colored Travertine marble from Montana quarries. No murals will be placed here or the rotunda until October.

Only Chamber Furnished Only furnished rooms at present are the legislative chambers, which boast a complete set of desks and carpets. Names of men who have made Oregon history are inscribed around the walls.

Individual offices, back of their respective chambers, have been furnished for the speaker and president of the two law-making bodies.

Lion's share of the space is allotted to the secretary of state, his offices covering the entire east portion of the first floor and a portion of the basement. Remaining rooms on the second, third and fourth stories are unassigned, but will probably be used for committee rooms.

A cafeteria will be situated in the basement, along with the building superintendent's office and filing rooms for the purchasing department.

Items still called for in the completion program include: placing of the "Pioneer" statue atop the dome, murals and marble sculpture groups; landscaping, scheduled for completion in the fall; and furnishing for the governor, secretary of state and treasurer quarters.

Sisters From Neighbor Parish Are Conducting School, Hubbard Church

HUBBARD—Sisters Evangeline and Blanche of Mt. Angel are conducting a school of religious education at St. Agnes Roman Catholic church. The school meets every evening at 6:30 o'clock and is for the younger boys and girls of the church.

Mrs. A. Ammel of Minneapolis, Minn., is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Foster. Mrs. Ammel's son is married to a daughter of the Foster's.

James Rand Is IEU's Chairman

DETROIT—James Rand of Detroit was named chairman of the Industrial Employees' union at a meeting held at Idanha this week. Tom Bowers of Idanha was elected vice chairman and John Miller of Idanha, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Mary Kinney Called by Death

Mary Kinney, who held an important role in women's politics in this state in the middle '20s, being state senator from Clatsop county in 1923-25 and state representative from the county in 1921, died Thursday at her Seaside, Ore., home after an illness of many months.

The widow of William S. Kinney of Astoria, she was born in Salem April 9, 1859 and graduated from Willamette university in 1878. She was the great granddaughter of Tabitha Moffet Brown, founder of Pacific university at Forest Grove.

Mrs. Kinney is survived by three sons, Robert C. Kinney of Gearhart, Dr. Kenneth W. Kinney of Roseburg and William S. Kinney of New York City, also by a foster daughter, Mrs. Chris A. Bell of Portland. She is an aunt of Mrs. Fred D. Thielsen of this city.

Services will be at the grave at 1 o'clock Tuesday at IOOF cemetery, Salem.

Dallas to Select 2 Board Members

DALLAS—The annual school election for Dallas will be held at the junior high school Monday, June 20. Voting will take place from 2 to 7 Monday afternoon.

Two school directors are to be elected at this time, J. A. Inglis and A. R. Hartman, incumbents, have filed as candidates for directors for a three year term.

The proposed budget for 1938-39 will also be voted on at the same time.

Coatimondis Newest Attraction at Auto Park Near Hubbard

HUBBARD—Earl Loney, who operates the Zoo auto park and has a wonderful collection of wild animals, added two new animals this week. They are a pair of coatimondis. The park is located one-half mile north of Hubbard on the Pacific highway.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Kestler of Arnette, Okla., who have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mathews, returned home Wednesday.

Methodists Meet For Conference

Session Is at The Dalles M. E. Church Opening Tuesday Night

Interest of local Methodists will center this week in the annual conference, to be held at The Dalles First Methodist church, starting Tuesday night.

Heading the group attending from Salem will be Dr. Louis Magin, superintendent of the Salem district, and Dr. Sydney Hall, superintendent of the southern district. All Salem pastors will attend.

Dr. J. E. Milligan of Salem First church will preside at the educational banquet Friday night, with Miss Sybil Tucker of Corvallis and Rev. E. Earle Parker of Eugene the speakers. Friday night President Bruce Baxter of Willamette will address the conference meeting, and Saturday night Dr. Charles W. McLaughlin of Seattle will speak, both subject to carry phases of the Aldersgate experience.

Bishop W. E. Brown, DD, LLD, of the south and who will preside at the conference, will give the opening address Tuesday night, conference sermon and conduct the ordination on the closing Sunday morning.

Pacific Sailors Union Votes AFL Reaffiliation

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18—(AP)—Members of the Sailors Union of the Pacific, the San Francisco Examiner said Friday, have voted more than 2 to 1 to give up their independent status and reaffiliate with the AFL, which they left in 1935.

Devi's Lake Show Ruled by Twins

Charming Girls Queens of Thrill-Packed Regatta Closing Today

DEVI'S LAKE—For the first time in the history of any civic celebration in the Pacific Northwest, twin queens rule over the Devils Lake Regatta here this Saturday and Sunday, June 18 and 19.

Miss Ada Middlesworth and Miss Ida Middlesworth, twins of Otis, mounted their specially constructed and decorated dais for their coronation by Admiral Earl Riley of Portland.

Complemented by four princesses, Miss Iola Haas, crown princess of Sheridan, Miss Frances Wilson of Hebo, Miss Claire Williams of Lincoln Beach, and Miss Lily Larson of DeLake, the royal court will have twin fawns as mascots.

A fireworks display thrilled spectators Saturday night on the beach, while the Queen's Ball at the Oceanlake pavilion brought the first day's events to a close.

UCC Changes Date For Claim Weeks

To Adopt Calendar Style for Benefit Checks Starting July 3

Beginning July 3, the state unemployment compensation commission will adopt the calendar week, ending each Saturday at midnight, as the claim week for benefits to covered jobless workers in Oregon.

Simplification of administration and facilitated handling of partial employment claims prompted the commission to adopt the ruling, according to Administrator D. A. Bulmore.

Instead of designating an individual's claim week as the seven consecutive days following initiation of claim, each week in the year will be numbered and continued claims will be categorized from 1 to 52, depending on the week in which the continued claim is filed.

Employers have experienced considerable difficulty in checking amounts of earnings reported by claimants who are on a reduced hour basis. Some firms have reported as many as six variations in the reporting schedules of employes in the same plant.

The average worker's conception of a pay week is from Saturday to Saturday and when employes are paid from Wednesday to Wednesday, for instance, employers have found it difficult to

Methodists Meet For Conference

Session Is at The Dalles M. E. Church Opening Tuesday Night

Interest of local Methodists will center this week in the annual conference, to be held at The Dalles First Methodist church, starting Tuesday night.

Heading the group attending from Salem will be Dr. Louis Magin, superintendent of the Salem district, and Dr. Sydney Hall, superintendent of the southern district. All Salem pastors will attend.

Dr. J. E. Milligan of Salem First church will preside at the educational banquet Friday night, with Miss Sybil Tucker of Corvallis and Rev. E. Earle Parker of Eugene the speakers. Friday night President Bruce Baxter of Willamette will address the conference meeting, and Saturday night Dr. Charles W. McLaughlin of Seattle will speak, both subject to carry phases of the Aldersgate experience.

Bishop W. E. Brown, DD, LLD, of the south and who will preside at the conference, will give the opening address Tuesday night, conference sermon and conduct the ordination on the closing Sunday morning.

Pacific Sailors Union Votes AFL Reaffiliation

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18—(AP)—Members of the Sailors Union of the Pacific, the San Francisco Examiner said Friday, have voted more than 2 to 1 to give up their independent status and reaffiliate with the AFL, which they left in 1935.

For the first time in Salem pictures of the interior of the new state capitol, nearly completed, are shown in The Statesman today. The building will be finished nearly six months ahead of schedule and little over a year since its cornerstone was laid by Governor Martin just a year ago this week, Tuesday, the same day the cornerstone is to be laid for the new state library across Court street from the capitol, state officials will inspect the new building preparatory to taking over the keys from the contractors. To the left is an interior view of the house of representatives, inset is the stairway leading from the main floor of the building to the senate chamber.

(Courtesy The Oregonian.)

UCC Changes Date For Claim Weeks

To Adopt Calendar Style for Benefit Checks Starting July 3

Beginning July 3, the state unemployment compensation commission will adopt the calendar week, ending each Saturday at midnight, as the claim week for benefits to covered jobless workers in Oregon.

Simplification of administration and facilitated handling of partial employment claims prompted the commission to adopt the ruling, according to Administrator D. A. Bulmore.

Instead of designating an individual's claim week as the seven consecutive days following initiation of claim, each week in the year will be numbered and continued claims will be categorized from 1 to 52, depending on the week in which the continued claim is filed.

Employers have experienced considerable difficulty in checking amounts of earnings reported by claimants who are on a reduced hour basis. Some firms have reported as many as six variations in the reporting schedules of employes in the same plant.

The average worker's conception of a pay week is from Saturday to Saturday and when employes are paid from Wednesday to Wednesday, for instance, employers have found it difficult to

Methodists Meet For Conference

Session Is at The Dalles M. E. Church Opening Tuesday Night

Interest of local Methodists will center this week in the annual conference, to be held at The Dalles First Methodist church, starting Tuesday night.

Heading the group attending from Salem will be Dr. Louis Magin, superintendent of the Salem district, and Dr. Sydney Hall, superintendent of the southern district. All Salem pastors will attend.

Dr. J. E. Milligan of Salem First church will preside at the educational banquet Friday night, with Miss Sybil Tucker of Corvallis and Rev. E. Earle Parker of Eugene the speakers. Friday night President Bruce Baxter of Willamette will address the conference meeting, and Saturday night Dr. Charles W. McLaughlin of Seattle will speak, both subject to carry phases of the Aldersgate experience.

Bishop W. E. Brown, DD, LLD, of the south and who will preside at the conference, will give the opening address Tuesday night, conference sermon and conduct the ordination on the closing Sunday morning.

Pacific Sailors Union Votes AFL Reaffiliation

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18—(AP)—Members of the Sailors Union of the Pacific, the San Francisco Examiner said Friday, have voted more than 2 to 1 to give up their independent status and reaffiliate with the AFL, which they left in 1935.

For the first time in Salem pictures of the interior of the new state capitol, nearly completed, are shown in The Statesman today. The building will be finished nearly six months ahead of schedule and little over a year since its cornerstone was laid by Governor Martin just a year ago this week, Tuesday, the same day the cornerstone is to be laid for the new state library across Court street from the capitol, state officials will inspect the new building preparatory to taking over the keys from the contractors. To the left is an interior view of the house of representatives, inset is the stairway leading from the main floor of the building to the senate chamber.

(Courtesy The Oregonian.)

UCC Changes Date For Claim Weeks

To Adopt Calendar Style for Benefit Checks Starting July 3

Beginning July 3, the state unemployment compensation commission will adopt the calendar week, ending each Saturday at midnight, as the claim week for benefits to covered jobless workers in Oregon.

Simplification of administration and facilitated handling of partial employment claims prompted the commission to adopt the ruling, according to Administrator D. A. Bulmore.

Instead of designating an individual's claim week as the seven consecutive days following initiation of claim, each week in the year will be numbered and continued claims will be categorized from 1 to 52, depending on the week in which the continued claim is filed.

Employers have experienced considerable difficulty in checking amounts of earnings reported by claimants who are on a reduced hour basis. Some firms have reported as many as six variations in the reporting schedules of employes in the same plant.

The average worker's conception of a pay week is from Saturday to Saturday and when employes are paid from Wednesday to Wednesday, for instance, employers have found it difficult to

Former Saver Youth Tells About Hooking 3-Foot Salmon Catch

SUVER—Eugene Hookema, 10, and Vernon Haight, 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Haight, who lived here at the Ralph Kester dairy until last fall have a real fish story to tell.

Last week the boys, in the Alsea river, hooked a salmon which weighed 22 pounds and measured three feet and two inches. Vernon and his parents residing on the Dick Yates ranch at Alsea now.

Rose, 9 year old Jersey cow owned by H. F. Couey became the mother of twin heifer calves last Wednesday. Both calves are large, one red, the other spotted, and both are doing fine.

Interior of board of control meeting room.

Governor's reception room, with map of state.

The "Circuit Rider," in its new location.

Legislative halls of the new statehouse are sedately decorated. The senate chamber with rostrum at right is shown above. Figures of fish and grain on the floor denote the state's industries. The central entrance to the capitol is shown at top and in the center inset is a vertical view of the interior of the dome.

(Courtesy The Oregonian.)

First interior views of Oregon's new capitol building. The building is fast nearing completion and state offices are expected to be moved in shortly after July 1. Directly above is an over-all view of the capitol's already familiar exterior.