

Hogg Winner, Championship

Noses out Jimmie Riddell, Contest at Successful Polk Lamb Show

MONMOUTH — The first fat lamb show ever held in Polk county was held here Saturday, and was pronounced a most successful event. Arrangements were supervised by County Agent W. C. Leth. More than 20 pens of fine lambs were judged. A large number of Future Farmers and 4H club boys and girls exhibited their own showmanship and lambs.

Keen competition was waged for grand champion lambs of the show between a Hampshire lamb, owned by Ronald Hogg of West Salem, and a Lincoln lamb owned by Jimmie Riddell, Monmouth. The judge finally placed the ribbon on Hogg's lamb. An equally close contest occurred in choosing the champion pen of 2 lambs. Eldon Riddell's South-downs won over William Riddell's Romney lambs. These two decisions were so close as to almost require the toss of a coin.

Bob Lorence was awarded first place in the Future Farmers' judging contest; Melvin Coney, second; Donald Rowland, third; Perry Carmichael, fourth; and Albert Riney, fifth.

Individual medium wool lambs: 1—Ronald Hogg, West Salem, Hampshire; 2—Harold Wells, Independence, Hampshire; 3—Eldon Riddell, Monmouth, Romney; 4—Henry Dickinson, Independence, Shropshire; 5—Frances Carmichael, Monmouth, Dorset Horn; 6—Perry Carmichael, Monmouth, Dorset Horn; 7—Joe Harland, Beckreall, Dorset Horn; 8—Marvin Rock, Monmouth, Hampshire; 9—Evelyn Wells, Beckreall, Hampshire.

Pen of 2 lambs, medium wool: 1—Eldon Riddell, Monmouth, Romney; 2—Ronald Hogg, West Salem, Hampshire; 3—Harold Wells, Independence, Hampshire; 4—Henry Dickinson, Independence, Shropshire; 5—Joe Harland, Beckreall, Dorset Horn; 6—Perry Carmichael, Monmouth, Dorset Horn; 7—Jack Stump, Monmouth, Lincoln; 8—Ralph Winger, Monmouth, Romney; 9—Clow Sisters, Independence, Lincoln.

Pen of 3 lambs, long wool: 1—Jimmie Riddell, Monmouth, Lincoln; 2—William Riddell, Monmouth, Romney; 3—Jack Stump, Monmouth, Lincoln; 4—Jack Wells, Independence, Romney; 5—Riddell Bros., Monmouth, Lincoln; 6—Ralph Winger, Monmouth, Romney; 7—Clow Sisters, Independence, Lincoln; 8—John Lorence, Monmouth, Cotswold; 9—John Lorence, Monmouth, Cotswold.

Pen of 4 lambs, long wool: 1—John Lorence, Monmouth, Cotswold; 2—John Lorence, Monmouth, Cotswold; 3—Clow Sisters, Independence, Lincoln; 4—Riddell Bros., Monmouth, Lincoln; 5—Jack Stump, Monmouth, Lincoln; 6—Ralph Winger, Monmouth, Romney; 7—Barbara Wells, Independence, Lincoln.

Purebred Predominating.

Purebred lambs predominated over the cross-bred lambs, both in mutton quality and in the number exhibited.

The show was assisted by H. A. Lindgren, head of the extension department of Oregon State college; by O. M. Nelson, head of the sheep and wool department; by A. W. Oliver, head of the meat department; and by Claude Stensloff, Salem, official judge.

O. M. Nelson showed the difference grades of wool, before and after scouring, using for demonstration an 8-pound fleece of eastern Oregon fine wool that depreciated 66 and two-thirds per cent in weight when scoured. Nelson stated that valley grown wool usually loses only about 50 per cent weight from scouring.

Crowd Views Church Rites

Picturesque Corpus Christi Ceremonies Are Held at Mt. Angel

MT. ANGEL — St. Mary's church was packed to the doors for the high mass at 10:00 o'clock Sunday morning. Most of the congregation and many visitors from other towns attended the services and took part in the public procession that followed.

Each year the solemn and picturesque Corpus Christi ceremony, carried out with all the old world fervor, attract many outsiders. The streets through which the blessed sacrament is borne, preceded by the long line of devotees, were closed to traffic during the procession.

This year the procession after leaving the church went east to the home of Mrs. Eliz Schmalz, where the first altar was erected, and from thence to the Otto Weillman, to Leo Barr for the third benediction and then back to the church.

The Mt. Angel band played and St. Mary's choir sang while marching and at the services at the three altars. Rev. Placidus Fuerst led the choir.

Carrying the blessed sacrament was Rev. Vincent Koppert, assistant pastor, assisted by Rev. Luke Eberle and Rev. Martin Pollard from the Benedictine monastery.

southeast of town, to fight fire in his home. But on account of the scarcity of water and the headway the fire had made already, the firemen were unable to do anything. The house and contents were all destroyed.

Origin of the fire could not be learned. Trout is unmarried.

Court House Vote Coming up Today

FOX VALLEY — Sheriff Herbert Shelton of Linn county was a business caller in the Fox

Valley district Friday. A special election is to be held in Linn county Tuesday, June 21, to decide on building or not building a new courthouse. The Fox Valley precinct voted last year in favor of the new building.

Roy Davidson, who has been quite ill at his home the past week, was taken to a Salem hospital for medical treatment. Mrs. Christina Dickson of Prairie City and Mrs. Walter Fields and small stepson of Baker were visitors at the Albert Ring home Wednesday.

Duane Downing has returned from the two-weeks 4H club summer school session at Corvallis.

Granger's Column

BRUSH COLLEGE — Mrs. Charles McCarter entertained the Brush College grange home economics club with a 1 o'clock buffet lunch at her home Thursday. Mrs. C. L. Blodgett, president, presided at the business meeting when a general discussion on sewing exhibits for the Polk county fair in the fall was held. Each member volunteered to assume various committee work, such as canning and making jams and jellies. Mrs. Wayne D. Henry reported that the sales slip scholarship to summer school was awarded to Corydon Blodgett, 4H clubber. This year the club plans to gain sales slips for two scholarships. Mrs. W. M. Stoddard and Mrs. Wayne D. Henry were appointed to submit plans, drawn by the home economics club members, to the building committee for the new grange hall.

Altruistic Work Is June Theme

SILVERTON — Altruistic work was stressed at the June meeting of the Pythian Sisters. The report was made that the altruistic work accomplished by the local group will be sent the Junior supreme representative, Barbara Groves of Portland, who will report the work together with work of other Oregon temples at the supreme temple meeting in Chicago in August.

The Altruistic club will continue through the summer with one meeting a month rather than the two which have been held heretofore. The next meeting of the club will be June 22 at the home of Mrs. L. C. Eastman.

Convention in Pendleton

For the first time in many years the grand temple will meet outside of Portland, and will be held in Pendleton in October. Mrs. Arthur Nelson is grand representative, with Mrs. E. Z. Kaufman as alternate. Mrs. Helen M. Wrightman, past grand chief, also plans to attend from Silvertown.

Pythian Sisters will not hold regular lodge session during the summer. Their first meeting again will be September 1. September 20 rally night will be held.

Hay Baling Under Way on 'Bottom'

MISSION BOTTOM — Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Morton and Beverly and Carl Stupp arrived Tuesday from Villa Park, Illinois, to make an indefinite visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Metcalf. Beverly and Carl Stupp are grandchildren of the Metcalfs.

Baling of alfalfa hay started at W. P. Colard's Friday and picking of Royal Anne cherries will start in the Lefe Townsend orchard this week. The cherry crop is light but the alfalfa is very good.

Paul Townsend moved his combine into Fred Viecko's field to thresh turnip seed.

Hobbies Revealed By Loyal Guards

SILVERTON — Mrs. H. J. Iverson, president, presided at the social meeting of the Loyal Guards class of the Methodist church, held in the church parlors Friday afternoon. The class voted a contribution toward the laying of a new sidewalk adjacent to church property. Mrs. Oscar Wigle invited the group to meet at her home on the Salem road for the next meeting, July 15.

Mrs. Joe Winter conducted the devotions and Mrs. Chauncey H. Whitman directed the program. Each one told about her special hobby. Hobbies varied from knitting, raising pigs, sewing, gardening, reading, washing dishes, paring potatoes, cutting out recipes, an eager desire to see what is inside sealed packages, words, and so on.

The hostesses, Mrs. Jack Tuzgle and Mrs. Edward Porter, served a tea at two long tables, each centered with two crystal bowls of pink sweet peas.

Annual Picnic of Study Club Held

AMITY — The annual picnic of the Amity Study club was held Friday at Hirt's park near Dundee. A covered dish dinner was served. Former members present were Mrs. F. W. Newman of Junction City, Mrs. F. W. Royal of Portland, Mrs. Charles Newman and Mrs. Edith E. Jones of McMinnville, Mrs. W. E. Taylor, Mrs. M. E. Brown and Miss Florence Blair of Amity, Miss Lois Newman of Los Angeles, Calif., was a guest.

Recent Bride Is Honored, Shower

LYONS — Miss Esther Lyons was hostess at a shower at her home honoring Mrs. Lyle Ferguson (Marjorie Miller) of Mill City, a bride of June 11. Present were Helen Hiatt, Constance Bodeker, Lois Tolland, Wave Lyons, Lucille Lewis, Cleta Marie Crabtree, Ruth, Henrietta and Esther Lyons and the honored guest.

Lois Stevens and Betty Jean Bodeker returned home Friday from Corvallis where they have spent the last two weeks attending 4H summer school.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wagner and daughter, Carleta, have moved to Mill City. Mr. Wagner was recently injured in a motorcycle accident. They have spent most of the winter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Tolland.

Miss Dolores Kellie of Portland is spending a two weeks vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lewis. Miss Kellie is a cousin of Mrs. Lewis.

Calf in Garden At Weddle Home Is Really Deer

JEFFERSON — One morning last week, Mrs. Margaret Weddle received quite a thrill, when she looked out of her kitchen door at her home in the south part of Jefferson, seeing what she thought might be a calf in her garden. After closer observation she noticed that it was a deer. The neighbors also saw it at the time, and later in the day, feeding in that part of town along the river. It is a mystery how the deer happened to wander into town.

Dry Weather Brings on Irrigation Work Early

WEST STAYTON — Farmers here are well pleased with the light rain that fell late last week. Due to lack of rain, irrigation had to be started earlier than usual. Most bean yards are tilled and the heat are looking good in this section.
