

Telephone Exchanges for Monmouth and Independence May Go

Salem Hookup Foreseen now

Slightly Higher Rate With 5 Cent Toll Between 2 Towns Rumored

MONMOUTH—The long time discussion as to whether or not Monmouth would be enabled to retain a telephone exchange seems to have been negatively decided this week. Manager H. V. Collins of Salem and District Traffic Manager L. E. Clyde, Portland, were here Tuesday with C. L. Sundberg of Dallas. According to present plans both the exchange here and the one at Independence will be done away with and these subscribers will be hooked up with Salem for service by April. Local business men want dial phones, and it is rumored that a rate increase of 50 cents per month for business phones will come with the new setup, and a toll of 5 cents will be charged on calls between Monmouth and Independence.

May Lower Farm Rate
Farm line rates may be lowered from $6 to $5 per year for switching charges. All dial phones will be installed.

The telephone company has for some little time been operating here without a franchise. The city council is interested in getting the telephone poles removed from Main street as a movement to widen the streets has been urged by business men for some time.

It seems probable that an arrangement may be worked out in the near future to accomplish this.

Community Club To Picnic Sunday
Real Wild Blackberries Are Plentiful at Suver; 3 Buy Combines

SUVER—Suver community club is to have its annual picnic at Helmick park Sunday, July 10. A basket lunch will be served with Mrs. C. D. Ritchey, Mrs. E. B. Gobat and Mrs. B. R. Douglas in charge. Mrs. Emma Benedict, Mrs. Laveta Suver and Mrs. Melvina Dodson are arranging entertainment.

Wild blackberries are plentiful this year and local folk are taking advantage of the free berries, coming back with many gallons.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Allen and two sons moved last week from the Kester dairy to a small house on his father, O. M. Allen's farm. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Buckmaster have moved into the house vacated by the Allens and Buckmaster will do dairy work for Ralph Kester.

Three Busy Combines
Gus Fleischman and Carl DeArmond each have purchased a new combine. Earl Brown of Airlie is also the owner of a new combine.

Sylvester Ridders, of the US navy and who is to be stationed at Bremerton this summer, spent Monday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ridders. He was accompanied by Miss Nellie Richter of Dallas.

E. DeArmond has finished putting a new foundation under their house.

Mrs. Wilmet Kester and Mrs. Otto Hille will entertain the Ivy club Wednesday afternoon, July 13, at the home of Mrs. Kester.

Gettysburg Yarns Bring Memories To N. J. Bowers

WEST SALEM—The papers in recent days have contained much about the battle of Gettysburg, and these stories have brought to N. J. Bowers, 1016 North 6th street, recollections of the battle intelligence which filtered to his home 75 years ago. Bowers was a boy of 14 years at the time the historic battle was fought.

"I lived about as far away from the battle scene as from here to Seattle, Wash., but I had an uncle who lived only 30 miles away, and who said at that time that he heard the roar of the cannon at Gettysburg."

"A day or two after the battle, father and my Uncle John, only brothers, were hauling wheat sheaves and storing in the large barn. I recall that they were talking about this battle," Bowers says.

To The Newspaperboys of America:

Like thousands of other business men of today, the first money I ever earned was for carrying a morning newspaper route in Grand Rapids, Michigan, where I grew up.

In order to increase my income I shortly thereafter got a job as an afternoon carrier also, so as to contribute my bit to the support of my family, and become a self-supporting unit of society.

This experience was invaluable to me because it taught me very early in life the value of a dollar, how hard it was to earn one, and how much harder it was to save one. I shall never cease being grateful that necessity was put upon me at eleven years of age to earn my way. The influence which that had upon my subsequent life was marked, and whatever success I have achieved is at least partially due to the responsibilities I learned as a newspaperboy.

THRIFT—A GOOD HABIT BEST FORMED IN YOUTH

The "thrift habit" is but one of the many practical lessons learned by today's newspaper boys — thereby laying the foundation for better citizenship when they take their places in life a few years hence.

Thousands of today's newspaper boys are regularly "setting aside" a portion of their earnings for future needs. Many are using these savings to obtain a college education; others to get a start in business when they finish their schooling.
