to fly over without halting and then pass Krasnoyarsk and Khatanga before winging into Yakutsk.

Fourth Leg To Take 11 Hours

This fourth leg was expected to take about 11 hours.

Early summer dawn was just breaking over mid-Asia when the flying laboratory got away.

Hughes spent about four and a half hours in Omsk.

Hughes landed his huge monoplane more than 20 hours ahead of the comparative globe-circling time of Post which he set out to beat.

It was still daylight in this ancient, northern city, center of caravan routes and important station on the trans-Siberian railway, when the millionaire sportsman pilot and his four companions set their twin-motored plane down at 9 p. m. Moscow time (1 p. m. EST).

Omsk, 6806 miles from New York, is approximately the halfway point of the scheduled 14,700-mile course.

The plane's wheels touched the Omsk field only 42 hours and 40 minutes after the takeoff from New York in a flight to better the 1933 record of Post, made in seven days, 18 hours and 49 minutes.

Compared with Post's time of 65 hours and 17 minutes from New York to Novosibirsk—slightly more than two hours flying time beyond Omsk—Hughes' gleaming cruiser was nearly a day ahead.

The American flier covered the 1380-mile distance from Moscow in seven hours, 35 minutes.

He left the Soviet Russian capital at 1:15 p. m. (5:25 a. m. EST) after a stop of but two hours and 12 minutes for refueling.

His previous hops were covered in 16 hours and 35 minutes, New York to Paris; and seven hours, 46 minutes, for the 1675-mile leg from Paris to Moscow.

He still had nearly 4000 miles of Siberian steppes to cross before striking out over Bering Strait for Fairbanks, Alaska, and home.

Here's Highest and Highest Priced Garden

Precarious perch!

Corner of the sky garden

One of the most unusual jobs in the United States is that held by John Buckley of New York whose duty it is to plant and care for the sky garden atop famed Rockefeller Center. Eleven stories above the street is this terraced roof where vegetables and flowers grow in an attractive atmosphere of shrubs and trees. This miniature garden, probably the most expensive piece of aerial agriculture in the world, has a vegetable plot 250 feet square and winding walks landscaped in a manner which would do credit to any country home. Now accustomed to his unusual job, Buckley goes about his duties with a casual manner which seems to foretell the distant day when sky gardens will be common.

Six Nazis Given Sentence in NY

Violation of Civil Rights Law Charged Against Germanic Group

RIVERHEAD, N. Y., July 12—(AP)—A Suffolk county jury deliberated less than two minutes today and then convicted six officials of the German-American Settlement League, Inc., and the league itself for violation of the state civil rights law.

Judge L. Barron Hill, in meeting, out near maximum sentences, said he would ask the district attorney's office to forward minutes of the trial to "the proper authorities" in Washington.

He characterized certain actions of the defendants at the trial as "amazing," referring to one of the defendants who gave the Nazi salute to the American flag in the courtroom and when asked if that was the American salute, replied: "No, but it will be!"

The specific charge accused leaders of the league—an affiliate of the German-American Bund which claims 400,000 members—of conducting a secret oath-taking society without filing a list of members with the secretary of state.

Judge Hill imposed the maximum fine of $10,000 against the league and sentenced Ernest Mueller, league president, to serve one year in the county jail and fined him $1,000.

The other defendants were fined $500 each and sentenced to one year in jail, but the sentences were suspended during good behavior.

Engineers Quiet For Mink's Sake

ASTORIA, July 12—(AP)—Army engineers, who were told several weeks ago that operations of the Brookfield company on a Lewis and Clark river dike might cause

another mink at a nearby fur farm to devour their young, authorized the company to continue work today.

Workers were ordered to proceed quietly, however, and to refrain from burning brush near the Lewis and Clark mink farm.

The coast guard board resumed today a hearing on a claim for $6750 by mink farmers who said low-flying coast guard amphibian planes had frightened mother mink into frenzies.

Veteran Stricken By News That Son Is Killed by Car

Robert Burness, of Garibaldi, leader of the Tillamook boys' and girls' band sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of that district, collapsed Tuesday morning when he received a telegram that a son, about 12, was killed when run over by a truck. After receiving first aid Burness was placed in care of a physician and flown to the coast by Lee U. Eyerly. The lad's name is not known here and the telegram gave no details of the accident. Burness was attending the state encampment here.

Ancient Walker Preparing Hike

GRANTS PASS, July 12—(AP)—If Adam Ziegler, 55-year-old athlete, does a marathon here from San Francisco, via his feet, he can look for no pot of gold such as showered Flying Cloud. In fact, 100 postcards of himself seems to be the whole prospect of reward.

Ziegler, warmed up by a 106-mile walk from Truckee to Sacramento, was poised today in San Francisco to take off on his walking-running jump to Grants Pass, via the Redwood highway, hopeful of breaking the record of seven days set 10 years ago for the 470-mile trip by the Indian, Flying Cloud.

The 55-year-old walker hopes to do the trip in five days. Ziegler, who was an entrant in the famous Pyle bunion derby of other years, said all he was waiting for was an automobile from Grants Pass to check his time.

However, the question of whether he gets an official timer is up to Clyde Edmondson, of the Redwoods Empire association in San Francisco.

Loyalist Troops Are Holding Own

HENDAYE, France—(At the Spanish Frontier), July 12—(AP)—Spanish government troops were reported tonight to be holding their own in the wild Espadan mountains north of Valencia after stopping an insurgent push toward key highway cities.

Despite previous admissions of retreat, government forces reported they were holding the highest peak in the range and surrounding strategic positions.

Core Curriculum Theory Discussed

Competent Teachers Need for Making Education Theory Success

EUGENE, July 12—(AP)—The Core curriculum theory of education rests upon competent teachers and an up-to-date curricula. C. C. Trillingham, Los Angeles, and Dr. A. G. Macomber, University of Oregon professor of education, told a conference of educators assembled here to study how to put the theory into practice in Oregon.

The speakers explained the theory as a fusion of related courses starting as early as the age of six and continuing through high school. Instead of studying arithmetic, grammar, spelling and the like, teachers would instruct on the basic functions of life.

Such functions would include study of the development and conservation of human resources, non-human resources, production, distribution and consumption of goods and services, communication, transportation, recreation, achieving spiritual and aesthetic needs, organizing and governing and education.

The primary purposes is to teach the child to relate what he learns to actual experiences.

Martial Lay May Be Palestine Lot

JERUSALEM, July 12—(AP)—Martial law was believed imminent tonight in the Haifa area of Palestine, where British marines fought an armed guerrilla band.

Another battalion of British troops was landed to aid in quelling Jewish Arab disorders. Marines from the British battle cruiser Repulse hurried to aid the detachment battling a barricaded band near Haifa.

The new clash came after a Jewish bus was overturned and bombed, with injuries to one passenger.

Sydney Moody, acting government chief secretary, was in Haifa, conferring with northern district Gov. Morris Bailey and Comdr. J. H. Godfrey of the Repulse on advisability of proclaiming martial law.

Such a proclamation was expected, at least in the northern district, where Haifa has been the main trouble point in disorders which resulted in 329 casualties since July 5. The casualties included 47 Arabs and 24 Jews killed, 146 Arabs and 87 Jews wounded, and five British soldiers wounded. In addition, 15 Arab members of organized units have been killed and scores wounded.

Martin Installed In new Quarters

Governor Charles H. Martin formally moved into his new quarters in the state capitol building at 4 p. m. yesterday. The governor indicated that he would be at his desk all day tomorrow.

The executive department in the new Oregon capitol building is equally as elaborate as the governor's quarters in the Washington state capitol and contains all modern conveniences. The Washington capitol cost $5,000,000 and the Oregon capitol $2,500,000.

Included in his suite are a reception room, public office, private secretary's office, conference room, stenographers rooms, governor's private office, and quarters for his assistant private secretary. A shower bath, such as installed in the offices of the state treasurer and secretary of state, was omitted from the governor's suite.

than the average that the commission had paid for other property in the two blocks sought for capitol site extension, on a basis of area.

It was brought out in closing arguments by the defense, represented by John H. Carson and Custer Ross, that the per square foot prices paid by the state had included: Henry Meyers, $1.84; Staley, $1.31; Kimball, $3; Frank Meyers, $2.44; Baumgartner, $1.81; Huntington, $2.38; Williams, $1.98; Bowersox, $2.12; Lachmund, $2.62; Bean, $2.27.

The average in the Frizzell case amounts to about $1.83 in comparison to the average of $2.18 according to defense figures.

Defense Says Offer Low

The defense stressed these comparisons in contending that the state's offer in the Patton case was unreasonably low. The state attorneys, J. M. Devers and Rex Kimmel, relied largely upon the appraisals of the Salem Realty board appraisal committee and that of Albert E. Buller.

Witnesses Tuesday forenoon were Ed Rostein, real estate man who estimated the property's value at $59,024.47, and O. K. DeWitt, who had cooperated with Rostein in making the appraisal and backed up his contentions.

F. N. Derby, the final witness, said he paid $25,000 for the Fleming property which figured largely in testimony and argument because it was a private sale.

Investigate Death of Heiress

Ontario authorities launched an intensive investigation into the death of Mrs. Maybelle Horlick Sidley, American heiress to a $7,000,000 fortune, after her death at the Toronto mansion of W. Perkins Bull, Canadian barrister, where she had been staying for the past year. The investigation was ordered by Attorney General G. D. Conant of Ontario because of the millions involved and the fact that she was an American citizen.

Buying Flurry Is Cause of Upswing

NEW YORK, July 12—(AP)—The midyear market was resumed in Wall street today with a flurry of buying in stocks which sent prices to around the tops of the upswing, reached 10 days ago.

After several days of indecision, in which the market fluctuated narrowly, traders switched to the buying side and sent leading issues up $1 to more than $4 a share.

The average price of 60 representative issues rose $1 to $46, biggest rise since July 1, and within 40 cents of the 1938 peak reached the Saturday before independence day weekend.

Sixty-five individual issues reached new top prices since last autumn, and hundreds more came within striking distance of their recent highs.

Sees Friend Sink Before His Eyes

SPOKANE, July 12—(AP)—Earl William Pollitt, 37, Spokane pipe layer walked off the end of a log boom in the Spokane river today while a life-long friend watched helplessly.

Christ Schuler, who said they had been friends since boyhood, said Pollitt walked off the end of the boom into swift water, grasped a log nearby, slipped loose and sank. The body was recovered an hour later.

"I shouted but he didn't seem to even hear me," Schuler said.

Ask Yamhill Courthouse

McMINNVILLE, July 12—(AP)—Yamhill county planned today to apply to the PWA for assistance in constructing a $300,000 courthouse.

holes in warehouses and wharf buildings.

Barbed wire entanglements, trenches and sandbag redoubts were erected in the streets.

Most civilians had fled. Foreign missions established an emergency refuge zone at Kuling, a mountain resort 13 miles away.

Eighteen bombers carried out a raid on Wuchang, across the river from Hankow, and killed or wounded 200 Chinese.

United States missionary institutions, including Boone university, St. Hilda's school, St. Joseph's hospital and Christian Missionary Alliance mission were endangered by some of the 100 bombs dropped.

Medford Unionists, Mill Heads Confer

MEDFORD, July 12—(AP)—Industrial employees union representatives of millworkers and the management of the big Medford corporation, lumber producer, met last night in what was described by James H. Owen, general manager as a "backfire chat to discuss differences."

Owen said all questions were settled amicably, although the matters at issue were not divulged. The plant employs about 390.

Flames Destroy Studio At Newport Owned Here

NEWPORT, July 12—(AP)—A building housing a photo studio and owned by Mrs. Mildred Dwyer, Salem, was destroyed by fire today with an estimated loss of $1200.

Harboring Charge Placed on Woman

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12—(AP)—United States Commissioner Kenneth Frazer today bound Mrs. Jean Miller, operator of a small Portland hotel, over to the federal grand jury on a charge of harboring and concealing Anthony Garguilo, accused of kidnaping an Idaho farmer.

Mrs. Miller was released on bond after her attorney made an unsuccessful effort to have it reduced from $5000.

D. D. Swenson, agent in charge of the federal bureau of identification, told Frazer Garguilo had been arrested at the hotel after Mrs. Miller previously said he was not there. Swenson also said $300 had been left at the hotel by Garguilo, alias Charles McCullough and taken as evidence.

Garguilo and Lee W. Tomblinson, Portland special police officer, are accused of abducting Thomas Lowe, Idaho, and taking him to Spokane, where, as "Unitario Stavian marsha," they took $970 "bail" from him. They will be given preliminary hearings Friday.

Windsors not to Meet King George

CANNES, France, July 12—(AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor sailed today on a yacht cruise of Italian and Dalmatian waters that will keep them away from France throughout the state visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth in Paris July 19-22.

All possibility of the first meeting between Edward and George since the elder brother's abdication Dec. 12, 1916, thus seemed definitely eliminated, though it never had been very probable.

Medford Man Suicide

MEDFORD, July 12—(AP)—Apparently despondent over domestic difficulties, Frank Mitchell, about 45, killed himself with a bullet in the brain, Coroner Frank Perl said today.
