The Oregon Statesman

"No Facor Sways Us: No Fear Shall Awe" From First Statesman, March 18, 1851

CHARLES A. SPRAGUE - - Editor and Publisher THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING CO. Charles A Sprague, Pres. - - Sheldon F. Sackett, Secy.

Member of the Associated Press ated Press to exclusively smiltled to the use for publica-

Some One Must Work

With all the effort being made for social security one fact seems to be overlooked : some one must work. Some one dian fighter gave great satisfacmust chop wood and dig coal. Some one must plow fields and tion, not only on account of his harvest wheat. Some one must pound a typewriter or a linotype. Some one must launder the clothes. Some one must lay bricks. Some one must string wire and plug telephone connections. Some one must weave cloth, and some one must make it into clothing. Some one must wash dishes, deliver mail, pump gasoline.

There is no form of annuity insurance, no form of pensions, no form of relief, no form of inheritance which will exempt society from labor if it wants to survive and if it wants it to his company with this brief to maintain a high level, of so called civilization. A few escape work through inheriting great wealth. Some may dodge work by being willing to accept the dole. Some may depend on relatives and get along without labor. But for the vast majority of men and women work is their lot. And that, be it understood, is no disgrace and within reasonable limits no hardship at all. It is a blessing, an outlet for energies, and for cre- ed and riding along the road hathe talents.

Let no form of social security minimize the dignity and lessen the necessity of honorable toil no matter what the va- That was John W. Grim, of the riety. There is no method of money tinkering or finance leg- 1847 immigration, noted early erdemain which will remove the need of work. We cannot eat | Oregon ploneer. banknotes; and if banknotes become as abundant as pieces of newsprint we cannot eat with them.

The end of the depression will not come by inflation or by some fantastic scheme of financing and playing tricks with credit. It will come when the great body of employables are at work on productive jobs, and when the fruits of their labors can pass freely into consumption. Too many folk are trying to lift themselves and the world out of the trough by tugging at bootstraps. They overlook the simple truth that some one-most everyone-must work.

Distribution of Public Funds

At the meeting of county judges and commissioners in Albany this week one of the items considered was the pressure of relief on county treasuries. It was remarked that in Francis Fuller Victor in "Indian many counties larger relief loads were assumed at the ex- Wars of Oregon," page 175: pense of highway improvement. That is exactly what has happened in Marion county. When the old age pension law went into effect the county's budget was actually decreased,-at the expense of highway work. This meant of course that men as if boastful of their prowess, who had depended on county road work for a living were out Gray Eagle exclaiming. There's have before me an announcement lations. I quote: their employment. Maybe some of them were forced on relief Tom McKay; I will kill him; but made by AAA on July 23, and

One thing which must be guarded against is robbing Peter to pay Paul. The aged must be cared for, but if provision for old age pensions means to rob an equal number of others | Charles McKay shot Five Crows, "These regulations"-I quoteof their living there is no social gain, just a transfer of benefits. This may be illustrated in the case of Colorado which adopted a pension program of $45 a month and imposed new taxes to provide the amount. What has happened is that now tribe. They had danced out be- regulation of tobacco planting ago, in the case of potatoes much. the monthly pensions are down to $34, but to provide that the fore their braves yelling that they than this. But I confine myself dole to reliefers was reduced to an average of $3.88 in July, not counting commodities. The aged are better off, but the rest of the poor people are worse off.

What is needed is a balanced program in which there will be as fair and equitable a division of available funds as possible, giving proper care to the aged and the destitute, and at the same time endeavoring to keep up needed highway work not only for the benefits which are derived from good roads but also to give employment to those accustomed to depend on this class of work.

Telegram to the Sage

In his usual quiet, unperturbed manner he came into the editor's office the other day, handed the writer a telegram with a casual remark about "What do you think of this?" "What is it," we replied, "a movie contract?" as we drew the yellow message from the envelope. "It's the next thing to we exclaimed after reading it.

The message was one to D. H. Talmadge, Statesman col- queried the anxious settlers. umnist, inviting him to New York for a radio performance, and it was the Sage of Salem himself who brought it in.

"Of course you're going," we announced as the Sage waited with some show of bewilderment. Maybe it seemed like a dream to him and he was waiting for us to shock him back to reality. At least the Sage behaved fully like the philosopher he is, without excitement, without show of elation, and with a characteristic humility which make folk love him. fornia. Shut in, Oregon must Of course the Sage is going, back to the New York he left | fight her way alone." in 1898; only it will not be the same New York.

We told him to go just as he is, just plain homespun. In the role of country editor turned philosopher he should create a real sensation in New York. There is none like him since old Ed Howe passed from the scene. His seamed face illuminated by two bright and kindly brown eyes, his subdued but cheery little chuckle: he need not worry about his reception in New York. Salem will give him a good send-off, and a cordial welcome home again.

Marketing and Education

The state board of higher education at its meeting in Eugene this week adopted a proposal for adding a division of marketing in the state system of higher education. Presum- the globe, bound in ten thousand ably this is to follow out a recommendation in the fine report on the subject of marketing made by Chancellor-emeritus W. J. Kerr. Dr. Kerr's exploration of the subject was exhaustive and valuable. However The Statesman disagrees with his conclusion that the state system of higher education should

The higher educational institutions have all they can Burnett its first governor, and carry now to take care of the university, college, normal schools, experiment stations and extension divisions. They are cramped seriously for funds as it is. Hence it is a mistake to assume another function which will cost money, money which is now badly needed in support of functions already being carried by the state system of higher education.

It may be that a division of marketing should be created by the state, but that decision should be made by the legislature, with proper appropriation for its support, rather than by the state board of higher education.

Courthouse Quiescent

There is no indication that sentiment in the county has must extend the work,' said the changed so that the voters would authorize construction of a missionaries. "Some one must new courthouse at this time, even with PWA assistance. Such a proposition was voted down when the election was held ome months ago, although it is true that at that time PWA help was not in sight. It is possible that at a general election the construction would be voted if Salem put on a thorough And with it came Jason Lee. At campaign and went out aggressively to put the thing over. But that might antagonize people in the country and do Salem more harm than good.

We hope to see a new courthouse built, and realize that the present one is inadequate and a fire-risk. But it appears did not—the trader is the Indian's best friend—on the look-out, however, with a loaded gun Yankee education, make an PWA help. Maybe in 1940 FDR will put up 75 per cent of the cost of a courthouse for us, if he is running for a third term. In the interior, How easily the indians might swoop down and capture the caravan.' But they land to study medicine. 'Thomas, why don't you educate the boy out, however, with a loaded gun Yankee education, make an American of him.'"

Cost of a courthouse for us, if he is running for a third term.

Bits for Breakfast

By R. J. HENDRICKS

Capt. Thomas McKay's 7-29-38 estate was probated in Marion county: It was one of the first in our history:

2 2 2 (Continuing from yesterday:) The Bancroft Oregon History, volume 1, has, beginning on page 701, this paragraph:

"On French prairie a company was raised by Thomas McKay, among the Cauadians, which action on the part of this noted Inreputation as a warrior, but as an indication of the course which would be taken by the half-breed population in the event of a protracted war with the natives. A flag was designed for and presented to Captain McKay, emblematic of the provisional government, bearing a lone star and a number of stripes. He presented address:

"This is the flag you are expected to defend, and you must defend it.'

Quoting Bancroft further: "Grim describes McKay as mountranguing the French half-breeds in Chinook. In an hour's time he had 34 men in his company."

His first lieutenant was Charles McKay, of the Red River valley immigration of 1841. Edward Dupuy was orderly sergeant, and George Montour, Baptiste Dorion, David Crawford and Gideon Pion duty sergeants.

3 5 5 Montour, as has been indicated in this series, was father-in-law to Capt. McKay. Baptiste Dorion was a son of the famous Marie Iowa Dorion, the Sacagawea plus of the Astor overlanders under Wilson Price Hunt.

Capt. Thomas McKay drew first blood in the Cayuse war. The battle was above The Dalles, on February 28, 1848. Wrote

"At the commencement of the fighting Gray Eagle and Five Crows rode up near the wagons. threat, Captain McKay shot him tions inspired by it. The an- pound, whichever is higher."

shattering his arm. That was "are issued in accord with the cutstanding chiefs of the Cayuse of 1938." could not be hurt by the white here to what is in the regulamen's builets — that they could tions announced July 23rd, catch them in their teeth and quote the first regulation: swallow them.

5 5 5 In after years, Chief Five Crows visited Lieut. Charles Mc sell without penalty." Kay, at his farm not far from Hillsboro, Oregon, and presented him with a fine horse, a token of his thanks for merely causing the loss of his arm instead of his life.

Eva Emery Dye, in her book, "McLoughlin and Old Oregon," wrote, in describing the alarms over the Whitman massacre and the beginnings of the Cavuse war: 2 21 2

"The Indians regarded the settlers at Champoeg (she meant on French Prairie) as their own "'Will they desert us? Will they join their Indian kindred?'

"Happily Tom McKay solved hat. Like a centaur he rode up and down the prairie. In French. in English, in Chinook, he gathered them in: 'Pierre, Francois, Antoine, come, come to the war!' "The snow proved too deep to get word over the Sierras to Cali-

The regular reader of this column knows that Capt. Thomas McKay, in the fall of 1848, conducted a party of 150 prominent Oregon men, headed by Supreme Judge Peter H. Burnet of our provisional government, to the California mines, in 50 wagons, going through southern Oregon, and by way of the Klamath country, and over the Sierras through the newly discovered Lassen pass, ard that these early Oregonians, with others going from this then sparsely settled section, were the first gold rushers, heading a mad procession from every corner of ways by a thousand routes for California; and that these newly arrived and intrepid pioneers from over the Calapoolas, the Cascades and the Sierra Nevadas, took the lead in making a state out of California, with Peter H in breaking the newly fledged commonwealth, pell mell, into the union, without any credentials higher than self assurance brass. This was the beginning of Oregon's motherhood of states in all the vast and rich section draining to Balboa's great ocean. Eva Emery Dye, in her "Mc-Loughlin and Old Oregon," naturally wrote a good deal of Capt. Thomas McKay, Some excerpts

"The mission on the Willamette had become crowded. 'We visit the states and lay this matter before the churches.' All eyes that had become a favorite halt-turned to Jason Lee. "Tom McKay's Shoshonie brigade set out for its summer hunt. Fort Walla Walla, 100 horses were packed with Indian goods McKay's little son, the 'Billy boy' for the interior. How easily the of Fort Vancouver.

Harvest Time in the Far East

Interpreting the News

By MARK SULLIVAN

nouncement contains the regula-"At the same time Lieutenant tions .pertaining .to tobacco.

> "Each farm operator will be given a marketing card showing the amount of tobacco he can I call attention to the last > three words, "sell without penalty." AAA propagandists sometimes say that a farmer can raise as much of any crop as he pleases. They say that and they stop with saying that. They create the impression that they are not limiting crops-though how anyone can hope to get away with that impression I cannot, imagine, Selling Is Catch True, as to tobacco, a farmer can plant and raise all he pleases It's when he tries to sell that they catch him. He can raise all he pleases-but he can't sell all he pleases, except by paying a penalty. AAA tells him how much he can raise and sell, fixes a quota for him. On whatever he sells above his quota he must pay the penalty. If he smokes all above his quota himself, or chews it all, AAA will not crack down on him. May be if he taught his horses and cattle to smoke and chew, he could avoid the penalty. Yet I am not sure about that. In the case of corn, if a farmer raises more than his quota, and if he feeds some of the excess to his hogs, and if he thereafter tries to sell some these hogs fed with forbidden corn, AAA will penalize him. the tobacco regulations farmer is given a quota The card tells him how much tobacco he can raise and sell. Let us say his quota is 4,000 pounds. He can plant as many acres as he thinks will yield 4,000 pounds, and he can self his 4,000 pounds without penalty. But if he finds that he planted too much, or that nature was too generous, or that he worked too hard cultivating his crop-if for any reason his crop s more than 4,000 pounds, then he must pay a penalty.

Ten Years Ago

July 29, 1928 With impressive pageantry and seremony the ninth Olympiad of modern times opened this afternoon in the great brick stadium at Amsterdam.

Reserve officers from Salem who have been attending training camp near Vancouver are Col. Carle Abrams, Captain T. A. Brown and Frank Durbin, jr

Bean picking on irrigation project near West Stayton will begin on practically all the yards this week. About 150 acres of Kentucky Wonder beans have ing spot for Tom McKay.

"'What are you going to do with William?' inquired Dr. Whitman, patting the dark locks of WASHINGTON. July 28-I | penalty is set out in the regu-"The penalty is 50 per cent before he could execute his I here set down some reflec- of the sale price; or 3 cents a Penalty Is Severe

That penalty-59 per cent of until the supreme court invalidated the original AAA act-the penalty for raising and selling more than your quota was fine and imprisonment. And there was also a penalty of fine and imprisonment for anyone who bought potatoes raised in excess of a farmer's quota, "bootleg" potatoes.

But I proceed to another provision of the tobacco regulations. quote a paragraph. Don't try to understand it-I doubt if you can. I'll give the translation following the quotation:

"A farmer who has a quota exceeding the tobacce available for marketing may authorize the transfer of that part of his quota not needed . . . if quotas are transferred from one farm to another through direct negotiations between the operators of the farms concerned, the consideration for the transfer may be whatever the operators agree upon. If a warehouseman acts as agent in the transfer, the rate of consideration is fixed at five cents per pound.'

That means: Suppose a farmer has a quota of 4,000 pounds which he can raise and sell without penalty. Suppose he doesn't care to raise 4,000 pounds. Suppose he decides to take it easy and raise only 1,000 pounds. Right Is Valuable

That farmer now has a valuable right, duly attested by a card which he can carry in his picket. It's a negotiable instrument, convertible into cash. It is the right to sell 3,000 pounds of tobacco which he did not

Recovering

Winnie Ruth Judd, "trunk mu deress" of her two closest friends, who was recently reported recovering in Arizona 10:00—Jimmie Grier's Orchestra. state hospital from the effects of a sedative. Hospital officials insisted the tablets were KGW—JRIDAY—620 Kc. not taken in a suicide attempt. Mrs. Judd, who dismembered the bodies of Agnes A. Leroi and Hedvig Samuelson and shipped the parts in two trunks to Los Angeles, was condemned to hang, but was finally ad-judged insanc.

raise. This right he can sell. He can sell it to other farmers. For it he will get roughly 5 cents per pound for each pound not raised and sold. For not raising and selling 3,000 pounds the reward would be roughly $150.

right are the other farmers who were rash enough to plant more than AAA said they should, or who were so unwise as to cultivate their crops to diligently, or the price he gets when he sells who were so unfortunate as to party that was being listened in -is severe, obviously. Yet the suffer from the unanticipated on) with a special for Binnie second blood in the Cayuse war, marketing quota provisions of tobacco farmer ought to be grate- generosity of nature. The buyer Barnes, who since the entrance of Gray Eagle and Five Crows were the agricultural adjustment act ful. He ought to be glad AAA can use the right as an offset to 20th Century into the Fox camp There is much more has become lenient. Three years the AAA penalty for raising too has evidently been "rediscov-The farmer who didn't plant cate.

Educator Takes Annual Vacation in Harvesting

WALDO HILLS-Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Coffey of Portland gaged with it that, believe it or were guests Wednesday night and not, he neither smiled nor spoke. Thursday morning at the Com- Then there was a showing of the stock home. Mr. Coffey is with the Haberly threshing machine. This Howard Hughes, just back from is the way Mr. Coffey has taken a a flight around the world. One vacation each year since 1926 cannot help liking Hughes. He principal.

The persons who buy the

as much as AAA said he could, gets roughly five cents a pound for the pounds he never planted! Five cents a pound penalty for the farmer who planted more than AAA said he could, or who worked so diligently that he raised a large crop, or who was blessed by nature! "It's a mad world, my mas-

New York Herald-Tribune Syndi-

Dean, the "worth his weight in Anything can be sold if properly advertised.-Eastern publicgold" pitcher of the Chicago ity journal. A pretty broad state-Cubs. There are wise guys who ment, How about moth millers? say that "Diz" will bring the National league pennant to Chicago Epigram given out by a Salem this season. A long shot. woman during the week: "One does not need to be very old in In a long extended hot spell there are rifts, At one of the places in Salem -and there are not many of them where coffee and tea and

Sage of Salem Speculates

A-SUMMERING

By CAROLINE COX

They are off to the mountains

Off they go and long they stay-

Those favored mortals, who dare

Some of us have to stay home

We grow fretful and peevish;

To hold this old world and make

-3819 N. E. Wasco, Portland.

A Recent Picture

runs/largely to movies and the special leaning towards sports, I chanced to overhear a discussion of a film, then locally current, probably many of you know, is the cinema story of three Kansas girls, disappointed in the amount sole possession, a small poultry

a few "well, I'd have had it this ways," which of course always happens, that the picture was just perfectly too good (the reader probably knows just what perfectly too good means, but in case he does not know the information is hereby tendered that it means swell, no more, no less,

The story is full of surprises and bright lines, The cast is fine

(again voicing the opinion of the

The animated and conversational news reels of the early week were entertaining to a greater than customary degree.

in them which, after all, have tentional ones. There was a pic ture of President Roosevelt viewing the great parade of American naval power in San Francisco bay, an impressive spectacle. But stiff breeze was blowing, and the president wore a soft hat with a floppy brim. The brim flopped over the president's eyes and over his ears, and he took the darn thing off and put it on again,

and was otherwise so busily en-

New York reception to Aviator

A number of unintentional smiles slightly better flavor than in-

'Three Blind Mice," which, as

but we are bound

it go round-

these days to be 50.

A-Summering.

and down to the beach,

To rest—to row and swim;

to play-

A-Summering.

and work,

chin.

By D. H. TALMADGE

While the aweat drips off of our | and was entertained, not very Beware ye of cooling breezes bearing gifts! Trust not o'ermuch in coolness breezes bring, Best not to the winds your full ing public speeches and they are semewhat numerous-would love

Mr. Hughes for the speech he made on this occasion. He took off all right, but came down almost immediately, without damage. And there were pictures of Queen Marie of Roumania, whom we in the Pacific northwest re-member kindly, because of a visit she gave us several years ago, successfully, by Sam Hill at his "dream castle" on the Columbia. Queen Marie was a granddaughter of Queen Victoria of England.

and almost to the day of her death recently at the age of 62.

was a power in European affairs.

And, finally, there was "Dizzy discretion fling. Brother's tooth is grumbling. chocolate are served and the talk sister's back is lame news of the time, with perhaps a Mother has a snuffle, father has the same, Likely we'll keep doing mostly as we please-

And it is a comfort just to sit girls, disappointed in the amount Our logic goes haywire at of money left them by a deceased times. He was a wise old doctor aunt and disgusted and disheart- who said, "Get the notion out of ened by the results from their your head that because one spoonful of a remedy is helpful. ranch, went to Santa Barbara to two spoonfuls will be doubly so." catch a rich husband, one of the I reckon he meant by this, among girls posing as an heiress. It was other things, that when we are the opinion of the company, with overheated it is not well to be overly affectionate with a cool

The American and Irish governments have decided to drop any charges they may have pending against Aviator Doug Corrigan. After all, what else could they do? Young Mr. Corrigan made a bet with himself that he could do a bit of flyin' and clear himself with a bit of a fib and won it.

Statesman Readers

TO THE EDITOR: Medford lady who that the trees were cut down around the state house, is not the only one who grieves. There were thousands of us, men and women in Salem. Then, too, there are many trees which were transplanted from distant countries, name plates on them, so those interested may read. Our hope is they will, at least leave the grand old Sequoia, redwood on north Summer street. MRS. J. A. MILLS

Slate Drivers' Exam

SCIO-Representatives of the secretary of state plan a drivfrom his duties as high school was plainly half scared to death. er's examination at Scio Aug-Folks who have trouble in mak- ust 1.

Radio Programs

KSIM-FRIDAY-1870 Kc. 7:30-News.

7:45-Time O' Day. 8:00-The Ballodeer. 8:15-Count Your Blessings. 8:30-Hits and Encores.

8:45-News. 9:00-The Pastor's Call. 9:15-Friendly Circle. 9:45-Bob Young.

10:00-Women in the News. 10:15 -Hawaiian Paradise. 10:30-Morning Magazine. 10:45-This Woman's World. 11:00-News.

11:30-Vocal Varieties. 12:00-E. Clark Bobbett, Traffi 12:15-News. 12:30-Voice of the Farm. 12:45—Hillbilly Serenade.

11:15-Organalities.

man.

1:00-Rannie Weeks. 1:15-Country Editor. 1:30-Musical Salute. 1:45-Johnson Family. 2:00-Chief Navy Officer Ehr

2:15-Community Hall. 2:45-Marce Vido. 3:00-Feminine Fancies. 3:30-Dr. Van Wyck. 3:45-News. 4:00-Dramas of Youth.

4:45-Martial Airs. 5:00-Jimmy Grier's Orchestra 5:30 -The Coach. 5:45-Fulton Lewis, jr. 6:00-Popeye.

4:30-20 Fingers in Harmony.

6:15-Dinner Hour Melodies. 6:45-News. 7:00-Waltz Time, 7:30-The Lone Ranger, 8:00-United Press News. 8:15-Salon Echoes.

8:45-Sons and Daughters the Pioneers. 9:00-Newspaper of the Air. 9:15—Swingtime. 9:30—Carl Ravazzo's Orchestra.

8:30-Freddie Nagel's Orch.

7:00-Originalities. 7:15-Trail Blazers.

8:00-Vaughn De Leath, 9:00-Carlton & Wayne. 9:15-Your Radio Review. 9:30-Words and Music.

2:00-Curbstone Quiz.

2:30-Woman's Magazine of Air | 11:15-Charles Runyan, 3:30-News.

3:45-Glen Shelley, Organist. 4:30-US Army Band. 5:00-Gene & Glenn. 5:15-Ricardo and His Violin.

5:30-March of Time. 6:00-First Nighter. 6:30-Jimmy Fidler.

7:00-Amos 'n' Andy. 7:15-Uncle Ezra's Radio Sta 7:30-Summer Symphony Talk.

7:45-Tune Types. 8:00-Death Valley Days. 9:00 -Circus. 9:30 - Fireside Hour.

10:00-News Flashes. 10:15-Glenn Shelley, Organist. 10:30 -Orchestra. 10:45-Fiddlers Three. 11:00-Orchestra.

KEX-FRIDAY-1180 Kc. 6:45 - Family Altar Hour. 7:30-Financial Service. 7:58-Market Quotations. 8:30-National Farm and Home 10:30-News. 10:45-Home Institute.

11:00 - Current Events. 11:15-Dot and Pat. 11:45-Con inental Varieties. 12:00 - Department of Agricul-12:30-News. 12:45-Market Reports.

12:50-Talk by O. M. Plummer. 1:30- Financial and Grain. 1:35-Little Variety Show. 2:25 News. 2:30-The Four of Us. 3:00—Down History Lane. 3:15—Music Is My Hobby.

3:30 - Goin' Places. 3:46-Three Fellas. 4:00-University Town Meeting 5:00 - Eddie Swartout's Music. 5:45-Government at our Serv

6:00—Design for dancing. 6:30—Sports by Bill Mock. 6:55-Musical Interlude. 7:00-Sons of the Lone Star. 7:15-Multnomah Club Ensem

7:30-On Wings of Melody. 8:00 News. 8:15 Orchestra. 9:00 Baseball.

10:15-Orchestra.

11:00-News.

11:20-Lonesome Club Orchestra KOAC-FRIDAY-550 Kc.

8:00-As You Like It. 9:00-The Homemakers Hour. 9:40-The School for 10:15-Story Hour for Adults.

11:00-The Bellman. 11:30-Music of the Masters. 12:00-News. 12:15-Farm Hour. 12:30-Market and Crop Reports.

1:15-Stories for Boys and Girla. 1:45 - Monitor Views the News. 2:00-2:30 - Problems of Pre-School Children.

6:30-Farm Hour, 6:30 - Agriculture Viewed by Editors. 6:45-Market and Crop

Reports. 7:45-8-News. KOIN-FRIDAY-940 Kc.

6:36 - Market Report. 6:35-KOIN Klock. 10:45 - This and That.

11:30 - Scattergood Baines. 11:45-News. 1:00 -Al Sur Del Rio Grande. 1:30 - When We Were Young. 1:45-So You Want To Be. 2:05 Enoch Light Orchestra. 2:15 - WPA Band.

2:30-Not So Long Ago. 3:00-Ray Heatherton, 3:10 -Canning Talk. 3:15-Newspaper of the Air.

4:00-Backgrounding the News. 4:15-Leon F. Drews. 4:45 -Boake Carter. 5:00-Hollywood Showcase.

6:00-Goldman Band. 6:30 - Barry Wood. 6:45 - American Viewpoints.

7:30 - Henry Busse Orchestra. 7:30 - Will McCane Orchestra. 8:06 - Paul Pendarvis Orches 8:30-Fishing Bulletin. 8:45-Little Show.

9:00-Buddy Ros 9:30 -Castillians. 10:00-Five Star Final. 10:15-Art of Conversation.

10:45—Henry King Orchestra. 11:00—Pasadena Civic Orchestra 11:30—Leighton Noble Orchestra