Board Is Seeking Heat Plant Block

Advertising for offers of a site for the proposed $114,000 cen-tral heating plant for the state capitol group was voted yester-day by the state board of control.

The site must be at least 140 by 60 feet and will probably be near existing capitol buildings. The PWA will pay $56,132 and the capitol reconstruction com-mission the remainder. The site will be provided through an ap-proprietion by the emergency board.

Construction will be started about January 1.

Placing of the plant on the grounds of the blind school, pen-itentiary or state hospital is in-advisable, the board indicated, because of the expense of laying pipe lines from those points.

East Optimistic, Says Salem Buyer

Sol Schlesinger of Milgrim's store has returned from a three-week buying trip in the east and reports that "optimism is the key-note in the women's ready-to-wear field."

The war scare being given much thought in the present is creat-ing little or no stir in the east, Mr. Schlesinger said, most manu-facturers believing Europe really is not in a position economically to undertake a major strife.

"In every instance I found manufacturers in New York and elsewhere predicting a brisk rise in business during the autumn months, and many feel this will be a forerunner of an extended period of prosperity," he said.

"The women of Salem are due for many pleasant surprises in the ultra-smart creations that fall style centers will be featuring," he promised.

Townsend Groups Slate Joint Meet

Townsend national chartered clubs of Salem will hold a joint mass meeting Wednesday night, August 17, at Bush school audi-torium.

The main speaker will be Mrs. Marion Nagle of Lacombe, deputy national representative. A short musical program will be present-ed featuring the Hildebrandt sis-ters of Independence and the Sa-lem Townsend male quartet.

The public is cordially invited to attend. The program will com-mence at 7:30 p. m.

Outstanding Examples Successful Irrigation Projects Are Found in This County, Ninth Tour Shows

Marion county now has some of the outstanding exam-ples of successful farm irrigation systems and these were the chief attraction yesterday during the second day of the ninth annual Willamette valley irrigation tour, report those who returned here last night after the trip ended in Clackamas county.

Spud Referendum Slated This Week

A referendum for potato grow-ers upon approval of the market-ing program involving uniform in-spection of all potatoes destined for interstate shipment and pro-hibition upon shipment of cull po-tatoes across state lines, will be taken during the coming week ac-cording to information received by Harry L. Riches, county agent. The program involves only those two policies.

The polls will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. as follows:
Saturday, August 20, at the county agents office in Salem;
Monday, August 22, in the city hall at Hubbard; Tuesday, August 23, in the city hall at Mt. Angel.

All persons who produce pota-toes for the market are eligible to vote.

Safety Exhibits Shown in Trailer

The "Safety School on Wheels," a 25-foot, custom-built trailer bearing safety exhibits is sched-uled to reach Salem today as one point in its itinerary of a trans-continental safety tour that began early in June.

Parked near the city hall or court house today from 1 p. m. un-til 8 p. m. the safety school person-nel will demonstrate the value of careful driving, importance of normal reaction time and unre-stricted vision. The problem of the "drinking" driver will be touched upon, and "intoxication tests" will be demonstrated.

The school has been endorsed by Judge Harry Porter and Don-ald S. Berry, of the National Safety council. Owners of the carav-an, Mr. and Mrs. James A. W. Killip of Philadelphia, will be as-sisted by William Williams of Wilkes-Barre, Penn.

Drilling to Start For Blue Ridge Oil

C. A. Regan, drilling superin-tendent for the Blue Ridge Oil company in which several local people are interested, will leave here today for Converse county, Wyoming, to assemble equipment and men preparatory to start drilling on the company's prop-erty there.

Regan, who has been visiting Verne McIntyre here while ar-ranging details of drilling opera-tions, predicted that it would take about six weeks to ascertain whether oil could be produced from the well. It will be nec-essary to drill only 700 feet. A 15-000-foot cubic feet gas well has been brought in on 40 acres ad-joining the Blue Ridge property.

Regan has drilled for oil all over the world and has brought in wells in India, Australia, Can-ada and Mexico.

Hazel Dell Dairy Plant Work Done

RICKEY — William Sheridan, proprietor of the Hazel Dell dairy, has been improving his plant.

Mrs. Edith Wilson and Miss Lettie Barker were guests of Mrs. Wilson's brother, B. E. Webb, at Sweet Home.

Miss Zelda Mead of California has been a recent house guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker.

Travels in China Told by Teacher

Dean Milam's Party Only US Group to Travel in Peiping in 1937

How she and an associate con-ducted the only touring party of Americans which reached Peip-ing, China, in the summer of 1937 was told in Salem Monday by Dean Ava B. Milam, director of home economics for the state sys-tem of higher education. Dean Milam was the speaker at the Sa-lem chamber of commerce lunch-oon.

Heard Guns Firing
Through private advice, avail-able to her because of her previ-ous residence in the orient, Dean Milam was informed that it was safe to visit Peiping although the travel bureau opposed it, she ex-plained. Members of the party heard sounds of the first fighting around Tientsin but never con-sidered themselves in danger.

However, they were delayed 10 days beyond their scheduled de-parture from Peiping for Mukden, and missed the boat on which they were scheduled to return home. They managed to take a later boat that got them back to America in time to resume school work.

Most of the members of the party of 22 were home economists from various colleges throughout the United States. Their trip was more than usually educational be-cause the itinerary was arranged with a view to studying home con-ditions, arts and crafts. Thirteen of those on the trip recently held a reunion in Corvallis.

Many of the points they visited are now in ruins due to the war, Miss Milam said.

Rodgers Reunion Is Sunday Event

Descendants of Eli and Hannah Rodgers, natives of Carolina, who pioneered to Oregon in 1864, met in Bryant park in Albany Sunday, August 14, with about 50 in atten-dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers left Carolina about 1858 and stopped in Indiana and Missouri. They ar-rived in Oregon in 1864 and set-tled on Rodgers Mountain in 1866. A son, George Rodgers, still owns the original land claim and resides on the mountain. Five generations of the family have lived on the mountain.

Officers elected for next year's gathering were L. Arnold of Leb-anon, president; J. L. Rodgers of Albany, vice-president; D. Bos-hart of Scio, secretary, and Mrs. Virgil Horton and Mrs. J. L. Rod-gers, program committee.

False Alarms Are Worrying Firemen

Members of the city fire and police departments are becoming perturbed at the number of false fire and burglar alarms from the new state capitol building.

Yesterday for the second time in five days the city fire depart-ment ran out two pumpers and an aerial ladder truck in answer to a false alarm at the new building.

Saturday, according to police officers, several false burglar alarms came into the police sta-tion via the automatic alarm sys-tem there.

Nelsons Going on Month Trip East

SILVERTON—Mrs. Alf O. Nel-son and Miss Frances Nelson plan to leave the last of this week for the east for a month's visit. From Silverton they will go to Minne-apolis, where Mrs. Nelson will stop off for a visit with relatives.

Miss Nelson will continue on to Washington, DC, to visit friends, and to New York to visit an aunt and the two will meet again in New Orleans for the home jour-ney.

Exceptional interest in irriga-tion has developed this year be-cause of the extremely dry sum-mer, reports Harry Riches, county agent, who says many farmers are definitely planning installations of farm systems to have ready for next year.

200 Bean Pickers Needed in Fields

Two hundred bean pickers are needed in the Stayton fields for the remainder of the season, John E. Cooter, farm placement super-visor said last night. The bean season is at its peak so fair wages are assured.

The shortage of pickers is caused by former workers moving into early hop harvest. Many pick-ers were turned away from the bean yards last week but all can be given jobs now, Cooter said.

Jewell Is Held on Statutory Charge

J. C. Jewell, carnival worker, was arrested yesterday by Constable Buchholz of Mt. Angel on a charge of contributing to the delin-quency of a minor. Buchholz brought the man to the county jail to await arraignment.

Jewell was charged specifically with having molested a 12-year-old girl at 11 p. m. last Thursday night in Mt. Angel.

$10,424 Is Asked From McArthur's

Poinsett Relatives Object to Final Accounts of Administrators

Demand for $10,424.83 from D. E. and Ida E. McArthur, former administrators of the Robert Poinsett estate and from their sure-ty was made in probate court in connection with a long list of ob-jections to their amended final ac-count filed August 9. The objec-tors, all nieces and nephews of Poinsett, are George P. and Wil-liam P. Harris, Stella L. Benjam-in, Leon, Howard, Harvey and Clara Barker, Laura Hnd and Anna Malsbury.

Petitions Allowed
The court allowed a petition for payment of $500 to Robin D. Day as attorney for the objecting heirs and for Ladd & Bush Trust company, administrator de bonis non, and of $350 each to the heirs, from $4625.68 cash on hand. The estate was appraised at $450 in real and $14,299.73 in personal property, the objectors claim.

The objections include assertions the former administrators allowed the statute of limitations to run against a long series of notes, did not take proper action on certain mortgages and securi-ty, and did not handle funds in the Bank of Woodburn satisfactor-ily. Payments to appraisers, a church organization and others also are objected to.

WU Registration Increase Is Seen

The 1938-39 school year at Willamette university will see buildings and campus crowded to capacity, advance applications by prospective students indicate. These applications number over 100 more than at the same time last year, although many of those applying will not complete their registration.

Increased facilities will greet students when they arrive on the campus for "freshman days" which start September 19. The law building, converted from the old Salem postoffice building, is being placed and will be ready for occupancy while the new library has been in use all summer. Laws around these two additions as well as around the new resi-dence of President Bruce R. Bax-ter will be put in shortly after the fall rains start.

Freshmen will register during the two-day period September 19-20, upper classmen on September 21 and classes will open Septem-ber 22.

Auto Crash Basis Of Damage Action

DALLAS — A suit to collect $15,000 — general damages and $250 special damages was filed in the circuit court of Polk county here Monday by Henry Wiedeman against Virginia Henry and Russell Henry.

Wiedeman charges that he was seriously injured while riding in a car operated by Russell Henry when a tire on the right back wheel blew out and he was thrown out of the car. The ac-cident took place in Polk county on May 30, 1938. Wiedeman charges negligence on the part of Russell in that prior to May 30 the right front door was sprung and would easily fly open while driving and that the back right tire of the coach was old and rotten.

Bruce Spaulding of Dallas and William P. Lord and T. Walter Gillard of Portland are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Woman Arrested On Arson Count

Says Spirits Told Her to Tell Truth About Fire That Razed Home

Loretta Augusta Rasmussen, 50, of the Broadacre district in north Marion county, was ar-rested by Arson Investigator Sam Malehorn of the state police yester-day afternoon on a charge of setting fire to her house with intent to injure the insurer.

LT. Malehorn said the woman admitted having touched a match to loose wallpaper above the fire in the kitchen on August 11. The resulting fire destroyed the house and contents and caused a loss estimated at $600. The house be-longed to the state land board.

"Then she called in her neigh-bors and told them what she had done," the officer quoted Mrs. Rasmussen as telling him. "She said the spirits told her to tell the truth."

The woman's husband signed an insanity complaint against her and she was committed to the state hospital.

3 Hurt in Crash Of Auto, Caboose

Three persons were injured early Sunday morning when Roy Maden accompanied by Mrs. Maden and Lester Honey drove his car into the caboose of a south bound Oregon Electric freight train near State and Front streets.

Maden, 1660 South 12th, was taken to the Salem General by the Salem tax ambulance, suffer-ing with a broken rib and num-erous cuts and abrasions along the body.

One of Maden's broken ribs pun-ctured a lung, according to hospital attendants last night, making use of an oxygen mask necessary. He was reported as in a serious condition.

Mrs. Maden, along with Honey, were taken to the Salem Deacon-ess by the city first-aid ar-bors, who suffered scalp abra-sions, was shortly released, but Mrs. Maden, sustaining severe face lacerations and fractured ribs, is still undergoing hospital treatment.

Witnesses, who said Maden was traveling about 25 miles an hour, believed Maden did not see the caboose until too late.
