"Hello, operator? Find out where that call came from that my husband just made from his office!"

That's letting the operator in on one's suspicions—and letting you in on the latest in cold weather best-seller. Get yourself, or have someone make you a present, of a quilted, white silk crepe jacket, printed with splashes of bright color, cut to fit snugly, with a bit of flare over the hips—but above all things, quilted. And a tie belt, just in front, for greatest comfort.

Prunes Featured Today's Menu Fruit to Can Or Preserve

Prunes are to be featured by canning experts this week and a few of the nice recipes to consider are these:

In the first place, remember those rich little dark colored Damson plums that make such nice preserves.

DAMSON PLUM PRESERVES 2 pounds Damson plums 4 cups sugar 1 cup water

Bring sugar and water to a boil, drop washed, unpeeled, unpitted fruit into the syrup. Cook until fruit is soft and syrup thick, seal hot.

PLUM CHUTNEY Cook 4 quarts plums in mild vinegar to cover until tender but not soft. Add 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup chopped raisins, 2 tablespoons mustard seed and 4 tablespoons scraped, preserved ginger, salt, pepper and paprika and the grated rind of 2 lemons and the juice of one. Cook slowly until thick, seal in jars.

PRUNE CONSERVE 4 pounds prunes 8 cups sugar Juice of 4 oranges 1 pound raisins 1/2 pound walnuts

Pit and slice prunes, add other ingredients and cook until thick adding the nuts the last 10 minutes of cooking. Makes about 5 quarts.

Mild Onions Marinated For Family Dish

Either Spanish or Bermuda onions are simply grand with their very mild flavor when sliced and allowed to stand with cucumbers. French dressing makes them taste fine, or just mix up a combination of vinegar and oil to the tune of three times the amount of oil as vinegar. Add a generous amount of salt and pepper for best seasoning. Coarse granulated pepper looks nice and has a kick in its taste.

ported on the Women's Missionary society convention held at Jennings Lodge.

Those present were Mrs. Milt Grant, Mrs. James Lettich, Mrs. Cecil Embree, Mrs. Walter Coy, Mrs. Henry Kilever, Mrs. Floyd Senter, Mrs. Amelia Ashton, Mrs. Robb, Mrs. William Young, Miss Dorothy Young, Mrs. Claud Hollingson, Mrs. Harry Card, Mrs. Charles Guy, Mrs. C. Scriber, Mrs. Sedar, Mrs. Hamm and Mrs. Hiebenshal.

Today's Menu Passion Fruit In Markets This Week

"Steak and Mushrooms" for dinner! But surprise, it's hamburger steak and canned mushrooms in gravy, just as good, but far less fashionable and a whole lot easier on the budget.

TODAY Cucumbers and onions Hamburger cakes Brown mushroom gravy Young turnips Buttered potatoes Blackberry tapioca

SUNDAY Pineapple and peach salad Corp on the cob Pot roast with Fresh tomato sauce French fried potatoes Huckleberry pie

MONDAY Fresh carrot-beet salad Chipped beef on biscuits Baked Danish squash Peach-coconut pudding

Instead of creaming the chopped beef, add it to some slightly thickened canned consommé and heat well through, serve over hot biscuits and garnish with a little green.

Dill Pickles Are Fine Winter Relish Dill pickles are easily made and certainly are popular for winter. This garlic dill tastes fine:

DILL PICKLES IN JARS Wash cucumbers and dill, fill half gallon jars with them and in each jar put 3 red peppers, 1 teaspoon mixed spices, a little dill and a small clove of garlic.

Pickled Fruit Served as Relish, Salad Crabapple sunshine will further add to the winter's supply of preserves.

CRABAPPLE SUNSHINE 6 pounds crabapples 12 cups sugar 1 cup vinegar Juice and ground rind of three large oranges

Boil vinegar, sugar and juice and drop in fruit and ground rind. Boil hard for 20 minutes.

Pear Honey Makes Winter Sweet Pears and pineapple make a sweet that looks very much like honey.

PEAR HONEY 8 pears 1 can crushed pineapple Chop pears and add an equal quantity of sugar, boil with pineapple for 10 minutes then bottle.

The markets abound in fruit offerings this week with peaches, and all their relations making colorful displays.

One market features passion fruit, which some imaginative clerk says "takes on the flavors of all the fruits, oranges, lemons, peaches a others." They're shriveled up looking fruits but with odd flavor for interesting variety.

Plums of all sizes appear. Damsons for preserves are featured. Prunes are about ready to can, yellow egg plums are great for winter sauce.

Netartines taste like plums or peaches, you say which. Ground cherries are still on the market.

Pears are another popular fruit. Blackberries and strawberries are in most markets, the latter looking very good and tasting better.

Huckleberries coming from the high mountains will keep for fine pies. Crabapples will make excellent preserves or pickled fruit.

Green apples are fine, looking good for pies. Lined oranges and grapefruit are citrus fruits always on hand.

Bananas are good as always. Grapes come in several varieties, ribber, tokays and Thompson seedless.

Among the vegetables are: Salad specialties such as celery, tomatoes, radishes and green cross.

Cucumbers appear in eating sized ones, in dill or small pickle sizes and some markets show lemon cucumbers.

Egg plant gives a spot of rich red color to the market displays. Turnips, beets, onions and carrots are old standbys. Spinach looks green and good.

Shell beans or green beans or yellow beans, all will furnish vegetable dishes for family or company meals.

Peas are still green, they come from the coast. Squash comes in varieties unlimited.

Red peppers have appeared alongside their green cousins to make both look brighter.
