

Campers Entertained By Dr. Thompson

Dr. Will J. Thompson entertained 19 boys at his home on the river south of Riverdale Friday night. Swimming and boating occupied the youthful guests part of the evening, and following a showing of several films by Dr. David B. Hill the boys enjoyed a weiner roast cooked over the campfire under the direction of Dr. Kenneth Waters. Best of the boys were those which the Kiwanis club has sponsored in the recent camp on the Silver Creek Falls recreation area. This party was given following the camping trip, they were also entertained by Dr. Thompson just prior to the camp.

Style - Smiles - - - by Gretchen

"Judging from the way Parker's running after Jane, I don't think it'll be much longer before she lands him!"

Whether you land "him" or not, you'll make no mistake in running after this year's mode in fur coats. They've never been more flattering to all figures. That touch of blousness in the bodice, seen in many styles, is so easy to wear, and particularly adapted to the rich looking but not costly black caracul. The tie sash, like the crescent bag, is black suede. You'll see much of the smooth, straight line, too, with squared shoulders as in the gray Persian lamb on the right.—Copyright, 1938, Esquire Features, Inc.

Tea at Sixtons Is Charming Affair

The tea given on Saturday afternoon by members of Delta Zeta alumnae at the home of Mrs. Virgil Sexton proved one of the most charming affairs of the week.

The house was attractive with many flowers, pink gladstoll and dwarf dianthus were used. The tea table was arranged against the wall, above hung a large round mirror and three silver sets held silvered ivy bowls and vigil candles. The arrangement of petunias and greenery extended almost the length of the table. Delta Zeta mothers presided at the tea table.

Descendants of S. W. R. Jones will meet on Sunday, August 23, at Champeog for a picnic reunion.

Miss Julia Johnson has as her house guest this weekend Miss Lois Ann Shelby of Portland.

Laura Wheeler Fruit and Baskets Suitable for Cloths and Scarfs

The luxury of lace is yours for the making. These squares, so appropriate for cloths and scarfs, are in the easiest filet crochet. Made in string the design is set off by the large mesh of the background. Each square is also effective repeated alone; the two together would make an attractive border set on a linen scarf or cloth, either in string or in a finer cotton. Pattern 1351 contains charts and directions for making the squares; materials required; illustrations of squares and of stitches.

Send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) for this pattern to The Oregon Statesman, Pattern Dept., Write plainly PATTERN NUMBER, your NAME and ADDRESS.
