

Papermakers Win Way to Semi-Finals

No, it wasn't No-No Johnny Vander Meer who impressed City Recorder A. Warren Jones as the outstanding pitching prospect he saw in action while sojourning in Cincinnati and Chicago over the past two weeks; it wasn't loquacious former Dixie Dean, who has been having a tough time finishing a ball game recently; no, nor was it Larry French of the Cubs, a lifelong friend of Jones', who was pitching for Albany in the Williamsport valley league one day, way back in 1922 when Jones was calling 'em behind the plate, and who treated Jones to a sample of his prowess by shutting out Cincinnati in a game the local city judge saw from behind the Cubs' dugout; no, the monomania who made Jones' fancy was one Bill McGee of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Mudcat Member.
"Pitching in a night game against Cincinnati," said Jones, "McGee set the Reds down hitless until the seventh inning. The Gas House gang ultimately lost the ball game for McGee, Jones recounts, but the sturdy right-hander about whom we've heard so much in the past few days, as a flier he witnessed, McGee started out with the Cards in '37 but was shipped back to Columbus in the American association, where he won 17, lost 7 and led the league in earned run average for the second year in a row. McGee plays first (and only) violin in Pepper Martin's Mudcats band, and is not so dusty at sending it out over the mike."

Fans Same Everywhere.
Recent baseball is about the most snobbish institution in American social strata. This, was impressed upon "Jonesy," (as he's more intimately known about the city hall), in the same old baseball "habits" which were prevalent among big league crowds as out here in the bushiest of bush league ball. Big league crowds show the same enthusiasm for the little side-lights of baseball as they do in Popskin Center, Jones reveals. "Spectators will scramble all over each other in an effort to catch a ball knocked into the stands, they'll get the same fiendish glee over altercations that may arise between players or between officials and players and they'll derive the same genuine pleasure over "riding" an official or player as they do on the sandlots," he said.

May Oust Giants.
Pittsburgh has just about conceded champion of the National, Jones informed us, but there is a feeling either Cincinnati or Chicago may get over the hump to oust the Giants out of second place. "Before Hartnett, who by the way doesn't leave you with any doubt as to his standing, is the most popular ball player in the big show with both fans and players, got hurt. The Cubs looked like the club to do that little piece of ousting. But with Hartnett out of there, and with Dean apparently unable to do any further effective pitching this season, it would seem the Reds have the better chance."

Cards Praised.
Jones has plenty of good things to say about those Gas House boys of St. Louis, despite their residence but 15 games out of the cellar. "They're a tough club to get out of there at any time," remarked Jones, "and the rest of the circuit has plenty of respect for them." And, it's easy to see why the Cards' Ducky Medwick last year led the National league in hitting, total hits, total runs, total bases, slugging percentage, two-base hits, runs batted in, defensive outfielding, tied home run hitting, and was named the most valuable player in the league! "Mr., how he hits that apple!" remarked Jones with eloquence and emphasis. They fairly scream off his bat when he connects, according to the judge. Medwick, you remember, not only accomplished all of the afore-described championships, but also led both major leagues last year with a batting mark of .374 and a fielding average of .9883.

In Money Ten Times.
Larry French, who broke in with Pittsburgh in 1926, has added to his bank account no little by being a member of clubs that have finished in the world series money every single time in the past 10 years. But what a strain! French told Jones that invariably in those 10 years he was with a club which had to battle every inch over the stretch drive to stay in the money. "It takes a lot out of a guy, that stretch drive," French said. Through his long-time friendship with French, Jones had the opportunity of meeting Hartnett of the Cubs, McKeeble of the Reds and quite a number of both clubs' players.

"Vonder" Meer to Learn.
"They have a feeling around the circuit that Vander Meer still has to learn how to pitch," remarked "Jonesy." "He was new at first, and getting by in such remarkable fashion by throwing his new stuff by 'em. But the hitters are getting on to his 'alley' and are chasing him shower-ward pretty regularly. Now that the newness of his delivery and repertoire has worn off, it's the general consensus the sturdy general will have to begin to learn how to pitch."

Klamath Falls Is Eliminated

Extra Base Blows Pounded out as Makers Post 11 to 4 Victory

They rocketed right into the semi-finals of this state softball tournament last night, did those Salem Papermakers who let loose with a 12-hit barrage to eliminate Klamath Falls by a 11 to 4 score.

Though they hung one tally on the score board in the initial inning, it was in three big frames they really lashed 'em across.

Singles by Kitchen, Serdott, McCaffery and Roth, along with Scates' sacrifice and Steelhammer's pass, ranned three across in the third. A walk to Nicholson, Steelhammer's error on an error while sacrificing, McCaffery's triple and Roth's double made the score board tick over four more in the seventh.

Serdott's Smacks Homer

Nick Serdott, who smacked the ball right on the nose every trip up and who got three-for-five, blasted one of the longest home runs ever hit on Sweetland in the eighth to score Scates and Steelhammer ahead. Scates had singled and Steelhammer had walked.

Klamath Falls scored in the third on hits by Hammericksen and Bernadu, and a two-base error. Quinn's hit, an outfield fly and an error brought another over in the seventh, and three straight blows and an error poured the final two across in the eighth.

Crofoot Sent In

The Roth-McCaffery battery was lifted after those three straight blows in the eighth, Crofoot and Beard relieving. Crofoot struck out four of seven ensuing men to face him.

Though Roth and McCaffery were lifted, it was Roth's victory and it was the hitting of both that was largely responsible for the one-sided win. McCaffery's single and triple accounted for three runs and Roth's single and double scored two. Nick Serdott, however, led 'em all as he drove four smartly across the platter.

The victory put the Papermakers into the semi-finals Friday night against the winner of the Rotary Bread-Bend game.

Papermakers 11 2 3
Klamath Falls 4 9 3
Roth, Crofoot and McCaffery, Beard.

Longshots Pacers In Cleveland Golf
Defending Champ Among Victims as Unknowns Come to Fore

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24 (AP)—The longshots set a blistering pace which ran one favorite after another—among them the defending champion—out of the national public links golf championship race today.

The 1927 title winner, Bruce McCormick, of Los Angeles, headed a group of highly regarded entries who were blasted to the sidelines in first and second round match competition which saw "unknowns" take almost complete command of the annual working man's classic. As a result, the title battle was "wide open" as 16 survivors headed into tomorrow's third round and quarter final duels.

McCormick, the fire fighter who won the championship at San Francisco, was a first round victim, bowing to Lloyd Nordstrom of Davenport, Iowa, one up over 19 holes. Other "well liked" players to fade were Walter Burkemo, the curly-headed medalist from Detroit; Don Erickson, of Los Angeles, medalist and runner-up a year ago, and David A. Mitchell, of Atlanta, Ga., a former champion.

Pedro Montanez Stops Brouillard

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Pedro Montanez, Puerto Rican lightweight star got back on the boxing big time with a bang tonight by stopping Orville Brouillard of Windsor, Ont. In the fifth round of their ten-round bout before 6500 customers in Madison Square Garden. Weights were 138 1/2 for Montanez and 137 for Brouillard.

Referee Arthur Donovan halted the fight after 2:15 of the fifth round had elapsed to save the badly battered Canadian from further punishment. Montanez had fired a stiff right jolt to the body, quickly followed by a savage left to the head to send Brouillard to his knees when the referee intervened.

Silverton Posts Win in Girl's Tourney

McMinnville Is Winner 13-12

It was the Misses Caseys' day at bat yesterday on Sweetland—and how a pair of those Amazons delivered as the women's division of the state softball tournament opened with Silverton edging out a smooth Klamath Falls gang 3 to 2 and McMinnville staging a six-inning rally in the final frame to eliminate Montgomery-Ward of Portland 13 to 12.

Although heroines were born nearly every second in that final-inning, six-run spurge that gave McMinnville ladies their win, it was First Basemistress Myrtle Spraker who delivered the coup de grace.

Let's Two Go By

This petite little miss stood nonchalantly, with two away, the bases full and the score knotted at 12-all in the last of the final-inning, while two straight "strikers" were wailed out by Umpire "Fisco" Edwards. Evidently deciding that was far enough, she lashed into pitch No. 3 for a darling single across the keystone to score the winning run.

Spraker no doubt got the idea from Silverton's third base protector, Florence Zollner, for it was also in a dramatic setting that Zollner came through to win for her mates. Again the score was knotted, at 2-all this time, for those Klamath Falls gals were defensive gargantuans and battling brisly for every inch. The Misses Zollner lofted a high fly to left, scoring Salfield from third with the winning run. Salfield had reached scoring territory by dint of a single and a two-base error.

Semi-Final Tonight

As a result of yesterday's opening salvos, Silverton meets Gringsby's of Portland at 7:30 tonight and McMinnville faces Salem's Fide-Barrick team Friday night at the same time. Winners of these semi-final tilts meet at 8 o'clock Saturday night for the state championship.

Silverton 3 5 4
Klamath Falls 2 2 2
Knless and Moe; Sogge and Olson
McMinnville 13 11 8
Montgomery-Ward 12 17 6
D. Neuschwander, T. Neuschwander and Blenkinsop; Kalluski and Clark.

Pirates Wallop Boston 6 to 2

Young's Triple With Bases Loaded Sparks 4-Run Rally for Bucu

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates belted the Boston Bees 6 to 2 on seven hits today to take the series two out of three and reinforce their national league lead to six games over New York.

Pep Young tripled with the bases loaded in the fifth inning to spark a four-run rally which proved the margin of victory as Russ Bauers and Ira Hutchinson engaged in a slippshod pitching duel.

Boston 2 9 1
Pittsburgh 6 7 0
Hutchinson and Lopez; Bauers and Todd.

Cubs Drop Giants

CHICAGO, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Cubs tacked up Rookie Vance Page's four-hit pitching with a five-run rally in the fourth inning today to whip the New York Giants 6 to 1 in the second game of a two-game series.

The defeat dropped the Giants six games out of first place and only half a game in front of third.

New York 1 4 0
Chicago 6 10 2
Lohman, Brown, Wittig and Danning; Page and Oeda.

Davis Comes Close

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24 (AP)—Curt Davis, the veteran right hander who was tossed into the Dixie Dean deal just for good measure, came within a bunt and a couple of inches of a no-hit no-run game today as he pitched the Cardinals to a 5 to 0 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The only hit off him came on a drag bunt which Ernie Key beat out by inches in the second inning. Only one other man reached first base. He was Cookie Lavagetto who walked in the fifth and then was trapped off the bag. In all, Davis faced only 28 men, more than the absolute minimum in registering his tenth win of the season.

Brooklyn 0 1 1
St. Louis 5 9 0
Hamlin and Campbell; C. Davis and Owen.

Reds Sweep Series

CINCINNATI, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds combined five hits and four Philadelphia errors for a 5 to 1 victory today to sweep the two-game series and place them one-half game behind the Giants.

Philadelphia 1 6 4
Cincinnati 5 9 1
Mulchaey and Atwood; Grisom, Weaver and Lombardi.
