Style-Smiles --- by Gretchen

"I imagine Ann will be ill next week... it's her turn to entertain the club!"

This cheerful little gossip may make light of people who side-step their social obligations, but we have a sneaking suspicion that her eagerness to be hostess has a mighty close connection with her new hostess gown. Well—pour yourself into its cozy, navy flannel folds, and you'll be inviting the girls in yourself. Its molded bodice closes on minute buttons from raised neckline to soft belt, while the puffed sleeves are abloom with colored wool embroidery.—Copyright, 1938, Esquire Features, Inc.

Better Looking Rugs Result From Care

First it's important to buy good equipment and furnishings for the home, but of equal importance to the well groomed house is the care given the furnishings.

Rugs of good quality wool, with firm construction and fast colors will look the price only if cared for properly. Less expensive rugs will look far better when the advice of cleaning experts is put into practice in care of the rugs in the home. The following information comes from the manufacturers of a well known brand of electric sweeper.

"Some people prefer to use the electric cleaner for about five minutes every day on each room-size rug. This cleaning schedule is undoubtedly more effective than longer periods of cleaning at less frequent intervals. Due to the nature of the materials of which it is constructed, carpet dirt is more readily removed from carpet if the cleaning is done soon after the dirt enters the rug.

"Whichever schedule is adopted, the electric cleaner should be used every day in the dining room to take up crumbs, and in other rooms if necessary to take up surface dirt.

Rug Shampooing To remove stains of various kinds and grimy film which dulls the carpet colors, it may be necessary to supplement this daily and weekly cleaning every few years with a thorough shampooing at a reliable rug cleaning establishment which is known to do a careful job. The process at the rug cleaning plant should include the removal of all dirt from the rug before the shampooing process. In general, soap and water shampoo is preferable to dry cleaning.

"Subjecting a rug too frequently to this severe treatment, however, removes the oil from the woolen fibers and tends to leave them lifeless and dull, although in some carpet cleaning establishments this is overcome by spraying or sprinkling the rug with oil after the final step in the shampooing process. Jute yarns which form the pile rug are liable to be weakened by shampooing unless extreme care is used in drying the rug.

"It is possible to wash or dry clean small rugs successfully at home, but shampooing or dry cleaning room-size rugs at home is not to be recommended. In washing any rug, proper rinsing is necessary to flush the dirt and to remove completely all traces of soap. Thorough drying at carefully controlled temperature is also necessary to prevent disintegration of the fibers through rug rot. It is generally impossible to rinse a large rug properly and dry it thoroughly under home conditions."

Meat Found Simple as Dinner Special

Frankfurters have been found by many housewives to be practical meats to serve the family frequently. They are already cooked, so heating only is necessary. The meat being highly seasoned takes kindly to combination with other foods. Here are two recipes:

FRANKFURTERS AND BABY BEANS Arrange a layer of cooked lima beans in a casserole, then a layer of frankfurters, split lengthwise and another layer of lima beans. Dot with butter and place in a moderate oven until heated through.

STUFFED FRANKFURTERS Split frankfurters lengthwise. Spread cut surfaces with prepared mustard, lay thin slices of mild cheese in center, and wrap frankfurters with bacon, fastening the ends with toothpicks. Broil until bacon is done and the frankfurters heated through.

Cheese Sandwiches Have Variety of Fillings

Probably in no other form is cheese so popular as in sandwiches, and probably in no other form is more variety possible. Many homes own sandwich grills that are popular lunch time equipment. Try dipping an ordinary cheese sandwich in egg and milk, and frying in a griddle. It's a whole course in itself.

Grated American cheese, minced ham, chopped sweet pickles, mayonnaise are combined in one sandwich.

Grated cheese, tomato catsup, chopped pecans center another.

Cottage cheese, chopped pimiento, chopped green olives, use another type of cheese.

Cream cheese, chopped cooked bacon, chopped parsley, takes still another.

Softened nippy cheese; chopped green pepper, make a favorite sandwich.

Today's Menu Meat Center of Meal, Vary it Frequently

Lima beans will be today's salad along with other cooked vegetables.

Lima bean-vegetable salad Cottage cheese sausages Baked potatoes Fresh beets in orange sauce Watermelon Cookies

COTTAGE-CHEESE SAUSAGES 1 cup cottage cheese 1 cup fine bread crumbs 1/4 cup peanut butter 1/4 cup coarsely chopped peanuts 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 egg 1 teaspoon sage 1 teaspoon pepper 1 teaspoon scraped onion 1 teaspoon minced parsley

Beat eggs, mix with peanut butter and cheese, add other ingredients, form into cakes like sausages, roll in fine bread crumbs. Fry slowly to a delicate brown, serve with mushroom sauce made from the drippings and a can of cream of mushroom soup.

The "sausages" are a popular meat substitute. Sage gives a meaty flavor.

Waffles Find Variety in Their Sauces Waffles, that favorite morning dish may be made just the same for time on end, with variety coming in the sweet that accompanies them.

Honey, just plain makes one accompaniment, a sauce made from the sweet is another.

HONEY CREAM SYRUP 1/2 cup strained honey 1/2 cup irradiated evaporated milk 1/2 cup butter

Combine ingredients. Cook over medium heat about 10 minutes, until it forms a smooth syrup. Serve hot or cold. Yield: 1 pint. This honey cream syrup, which is so delicious on waffles, makes an equally splendid spread for griddle cakes or French toast.

Maple, ginger, caramel and chocolate syrups give more variety to the breakfast waffles and might even make them a dessert dish for lunch or supper.

Cookies With Ginger Found Popular Molasses cookies are long keeping ones, providing the recipe is large enough or the cookie jar is successfully hidden. Most folk like to piece on molasses cookies because they are less rich, therefore easier on the figure. Here is one old-time molasses cookie.

STONE JAR MOLASSES COOKIES 3 cups sifted cake flour 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder 1 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon ginger 1 cup molasses 1/2 cup butter or other shortening

Season a beef pot-roast with curry powder. Garnish with lemon to serve.

Rub skillet with a cut clove of garlic before cooking pork chops. This adds a subtle but delightful flavor.

In making ground beef cakes flatten the cakes quite thin. Pile on top of half the cakes a spoonful of savory bread dressing to which ground or finely chopped peanuts have been added.

Place a cake on top of each and pinch edges together. Broil or panbroil cakes as usual.

Just before a baked ham slice is done, spread the top with a combination of drained crushed pineapple and brown sugar. Return to the oven to slightly brown the pineapple.

After browning veal cutlets, add a small amount of sour cream, cover tightly, and let cook slowly. The veal cooked in this way has a delicious flavor and the liquid makes an excellent sour-cream sauce.

Broiled lamb chops have an unusual but delicious flavor, if immediately after broiling they are spread with a Roquefort cheese sauce, made by mixing 2 ounces of Roquefort cheese with 2 tablespoons cream.

For dumplings served with veal stew, use tomato juice as the liquid. This gives the dumplings a pink color and an excellent flavor.

For a savory bread dressing, add browned pork sausage to bread crumbs and other seasonings.

1/2 teaspoon soda Sift flour, once measure, add baking powder, salt, and ginger, and sift again. Heat molasses, remove from fire; add shortening and soda. Add flour gradually. Chill until firm enough to roll. Roll 1/2 inch thick on slightly floured board. Cut with floured cookie cutter. Bake on greased baking sheet in moderate oven (350 degrees) 10 minutes. Cool. Store in stone jar. Makes 3 1/2 dozen cookies.
