

Fourth Period Thrust Scores

Eight Straight Drives Through Tackle Ruin Bearcat Lead

(Continued from page 1) verser from Shaffer, dropped back and flicked an aerial that George Abbott speared on the nine-yard strip and bumped the remaining Pilot in his road over the goal line with him for the touchdown. Shaffer sent the conversion point high over the uprights. Intercepted Pass Brings First Score An intercepted aerial gave the Pilots their scoring opportunity in the second quarter, after a first quarter that was mostly Willamette. Chapman dropped back from his own 49 to toss a long one and it was intercepted by Westcott on his 11. He raced back with it to the Pilot 47, from where the Pilots tallied in three plays. Maloney got nine over center to the Willamette 45 and then lost three as he was thrown in an attempt to get off a pass. On the next play he dropped back and pitched straight down the center to Murray, who gathered it in on the Willamette 30 and sped down the west sidelines for the touchdown almost unimpeded. Engler's attempted conversion was blocked by Abbott. The game was partly a demonstration of quick-prowess, each team getting off some scorers. Frank Maloney, the Pilot sophomore king and passing sensation, got off one 56-yard fast one, as did Bennett for the Bearcats. Willamette averaged 41.6 on seven kicks and Portland averaged 41.8 on nine. The Pilots turned in eight first downs from scrimmage and four from passes for a 12 total, while the Bearcats got but four from scrimmage, three from passes and two from penalties for a nine total. Portland passed and ran to a net gain of 277 yards, Willamette getting but 197. Attempting an equal number of passes, 11, the Pilots completed six to four for the 'Cats, and two of the latter's were intercepted.

May Says Politics Halt Development

So long as Bonneville remains a political football, its possibilities for industrial development of the northwest will remain unrealized. Walter W. R. May, director of industrial development for the Portland General Electric company, declared in a talk before the Salem Ad club Friday on the subject, "Facts and Fallacies of Bonneville." May urged that citizens inform themselves of the truth about Bonneville's possibilities, and declared it was especially important that congress be informed so that remedial legislation permitting industrial development may be passed. The rates recently set do not provide power at any lower rate than was previously provided in the northwest, except in the case of a high inflation and steady use, May said.

Snell Addresses Realtor's Group

Declaring "you can be a good driver today and be just a cold accident statistics tomorrow." Secretary of State Earl Snell told the Salem Realty board yesterday noon he was convinced that accidents were caused principally by automobiles driven out of control and by discourtesy on the highway. "At all times and under all conditions drive that car under control," Snell advised his hearers. "Be able to stop that car safely within the distance you can see and act quickly, ready for any emergency." Success to date of the statewide safe-driving campaign being waged under Snell's direction has been gratifying; he said, but urged that "we not let up, make Oregon the safest state in which to drive in the entire nation."

The Sacs blasted out 23 hits as the battle ended in a comedy with Manager O'Doul pitching in the final stanza. Oregno and Barton hit homers and Cullip singled in his first five trips to the plate. Four errors by Shortstop Ted Jonnunas sent the Sacs on their way with a 7 run splurge in the third. Bill Schmidt coasted in for the Soions. Soviets Disfavor Accord at Munich

MOSCOW, Sept. 30—(AP)—"France has lost her greatness." This statement broadcast by the Comintern radio station today about Russia's ally, summarized the disfavor with which soviet circles viewed the four-power accord reached in Munich. The soviet attitude is that British Prime Minister Chamberlain has betrayed the interests of the British people for the sake of the interests of the British ruling class. This class, the feeling is here, values its security, its power and its privileges even higher than national security. In official quarters the news of the Munich settlement plainly was unwelcome. It did not come as a surprise, though, since Moscow newspapers had been predicting that Chamberlain would "stretch a bargain with Hitler" if it was humanly possible. The front page of the Red Star, army newspaper, meanwhile published a graphic reminder that Soviet Russia has an eastern as well as a western outlook. The page was dominated by a young machine-gunner who was credited with having killed more than 100 Japanese in the July-August conflict over Changkufeng hill, on the Siberian-Manchoukuo-an frontier.

Father Alcuin of Mt. Angel college urged the several hundred members of the Marion County Teachers' association, who convened for a business meeting at Salem high school yesterday, to "guard the liberties guaranteed under the constitution of the United States," as he spoke freely concerning the German-Czechoslovakian question. No Compromise There can be no compromise between religion and the national socialist government of Germany, he asserted, basing his statements from a recent trip through Europe. Father Alcuin stated there is a strong probability some concerted action may be necessary to check the situation which is developing in Germany under the Hitler regime. Davis Chosen Head Harold Davis, principal of the Silverton Junior high school and formerly vice-president of the association, was elected president, Bethel Taylor of Scotts Mills, vice-president, and Mathilda Gillis, of White school, secretary. Assessments on Railroads Drop Tentative $2,345,205 Cut From Last Year Seen; for 15 Carriers Tentative assessments of 15 major railroads in Oregon, tabulated by the state tax commission Friday, show a decrease of $2,345,205 when compared with the actual assessments for 1937. The assessment decreased from $124,108,727 in 1937 to $121,763,522 in 1938. Carriers Suffer Losses The decrease was due largely to the unsatisfactory financial condition of the railroads during the past year, the tax commissioners said. The commissioners declared that the precarious condition of the carriers had been recognized by the interstate commerce commission, virtually all state tax commissions and President Roosevelt. Total Increase Cancelled The reductions in railroad valuations, while they do not quite balance the increase made this year in power company valuations, will reduce or entirely wipe out what would otherwise be an increase in total utility assessments for 1938, especially if further reductions are made at state board of equalization hearings now in session here.
