Fascism Forum Due Wednesday

First of 10 Discussions Set in Series, Taking World Subjects

Salem people will have an opportunity to hear and participate in discussions on fascism Wednesday night when the opening meeting of a series of 10 under a public forum program will be held in the old Salem high school auditorium at 7:45 p. m.

The public forum program is being sponsored by the Salem school board, the Portland forum center and the US office of education headed by Dr. J. W. Studebaker.

Dr. Schaefer Speaker Dr. Marvin Schaefer, professor of sociology, College of Puget Sound, has selected "Fascism Laughs at the W rld" as the topic for the first of the sessions here. He will also had the second and third bi-weekly forums on subjects that may deal with cooperatives, American views of the European situation, crime, pacifism or relief.

The forum program is intended to give the public an opportunity to hear men infor-d on public problems and trained in forum leadership and to enter into the discussions. Dr. Schaefer served in 1931-32 on the president's unemployment committee, in 1935 on the Washington state planning commission's survey of the state men of the churches. ### First Lot Lumber Taken From Kilns

Drying Units Repaired to Mark Another Step at Spaulding Mill

Another step in the reopening of the Charles K. Spaulding Logging company sawmill here was completed yesterday when the first lot of lumber was removed from the reconditioned dry kilns. Work on the kilns, whose roofs had sagged badly during the plant's seven-year shutdown, was started September 6, the day the mill resumed a commercial operations under the management of Ralph Martin, vice-president of the company.

Two Planers Operating Two of the four planers included in the reconstruction plan are now running and the third soon will be ready for use. The fourth, to turn out finished timbers, will be located between the sawmill and the dry kilns and put into operation in the near future.

To supplement the supply of logs rafted down the river, the company has put in a truck dump at the downstream end of the mill yards. Until the recent rains slowed down logging operations, 50,000 feet of logs a day were being brought in by motor truck ference of Congregational church- from the company's holdings above Dallas.
