Groups Herded In Jail Camps

Concentration Camp Lies on Site of old Palace of King Herod

(By the Associated Press) JERUSALEM, Oct. 20.—Small groups of Arab prisoners, rounded up and disbanded in the British occupation of the old city section of Jerusalem, were herded today into a concentration camp on the site of Herod's palace.

The concentration camp is on Frank mountain, between Jerusalem and Bethlehem to the south, where the Crusaders offered their last prolonged resistance to the Moslems.

Uneasy Peace

The Holy Land lapsed into an ominous uneasy peace while the coffee-stream guards regiment continued poking into the dark recesses of the old city to clean out the last vestiges of rebel rule.

The occupation started at dawn yesterday after Arab snipers held most of the old city for four days against the superior show of British armed force.

Arab casualties in connection with the occupation were announced officially as 19 killed and 25 wounded.

Arabs Hide Time

The lack of major incidents elsewhere in Palestine led to a general belief that Arab insurgents in other sections were biding their time and awaiting results of military measures in Jerusalem.

Authorities directing the operations of 20,000 British soldiers hastened plans for occupation of all areas ruled by the rebels, including Bethlehem, birth place of Christ.

Some observers believed the country might be brought back to near-normal condition within a month if the present pace of the "re-conquest" were maintained.

It will be a tremendous task for the rebel command, headed by General Abdul Haj Mohammed, has forced the headmen of all Arab villages to list able-bodied males for conscription, giving the irregulars a reserve force of some 20,000 between 20,000 to 30,000 men.

Twenty-Thirtians To Stage Dance

Proceeds of Affair to Be Held October 29 Will Buy Safety Signs

"Safety of school children at Salem school crossings is certainly a worthy project, and that is what the 20-30 club has taken as this year's theme," said the general chairman of the club's hard times dance to be held October 29 to raise funds for this project, stated yesterday.

One of the "Safety Sally" signs—a school girl emblem, designed to warn motorists of the need of safe driving near school areas—will be placed at all necessary points if the club can raise the funds. Introduced by the 2030 club in California, the signs have proved effective, Emmons said.

Assisting the chairman at the dance, to be held at Hazel Green, are Pete Dyer and Bill McClary on the music committee; Russ Gardner, George Herberger, Warren Keeney, Reuben Hiltner, Larry Engstrom and Dick Cooley, decorations; Hugh Scott and Carl Roth, publicity; C. S. "Pat" Emmons and Ralph Mapes, tickets and prizes, and Bud Cook, Ernest Kunney and Bill Dyer, refreshments.

Shark Livers Basis of Industry

Discovery of a high vitamin A potency in shark liver oil, particularly to poultry, has resulted in the development of a new Pacific coast industry, that of shark fishing. Shark "haunting" is already well under way in the San Francisco bay area, where fishing fleets are equipped with "long lines" for use in hauling in the ugly sea creatures which heretofore have raised havoc with other commercial fisheries. Top photo shows two fishermen unloading a catch of San Francisco's fisherman's wharf. Center photo pictures workmen in process of extracting shark livers for oil. Lower photo depicts livers timed for shipping to the refinery. Remainder of the fish is made into fertilizer.—MIN photo.

Silverton police have written the local club concerning use of the safety signs. Ken Lee, local club president, said. All attending the dance are requested to wear old clothes. Tommy Thomas' 11-piece orchestra will play.

Japanese Craft Met With Mines

SHANGHAI, Oct. 21.—(Friday)—Japanese gunboats pushing up the Yangtze river toward Shanghai were met with a flood of floating mines, released by Chinese attempting to hold off the advance.

One of the mines lodged near the United States gunboat Monocraft, stationed near Kiangling. The craft shifted its position hurriedly.

Japan Is Struck By Huge Typhoon

TOKYO, Oct. 21.—(Friday)—An unseasonable typhoon of major velocity struck Tokyo and Yokohama today. (Reuters-British news agency)—said 226 persons were killed and 560 injured in the storm.)

The Reuters report said thousands of homes collapsed and a sand dune washed away in floods in the Koshohma district of Kyushu, southernmost main island of Japan. The typhoon then struck the Tokyo and Yokohama district. An estimated 35,000 were said to have been rendered homeless.

The Japanese freighter Toten Maru and the British freighter Hatterlock snapped their lines and grounded, but the crews were believed safe.

Traffic and communications in Tokyo suburbs were suspended.

September Deaths By Cars Drop 10

Traffic fatalities in Oregon for September numbered 25 as compared to 35 in September, 1937, according to State Snell report.

Injuries dropped from 681 to 544 and the number of accidents from 3318 to 2343.

Snell said accidents, fatalities and injuries during September, 1938, were the lowest for three years.

Fatalities for the first nine months of 1938 total 231 as against 258 for the same period in 1937.

Roseburg Rooming House Blaze Fatal to Inmate

ROSEBURG, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Smoke from a fire that gutted a Roseburg rooming house early today took the life of Charles Blackford, about 70. He was suffocated. Firemen, searching the building after the blaze was extinguished, discovered the body.

$1500 Gift Given

PORTLAND, Oct. 20.—(AP)—A $1500 cash gift to the University of Oregon medical school from the Eleanor Peake estate was announced today by the trustees who said the money was to be used for the purchase of radium to treat charity patients.

Officials Invite Monarchs Here

Governor, Portland Send Official Bid to King George and Queen

Formal invitation to King George VI and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain to visit Oregon at the time of their proposed tour of Canada next summer was sent Wednesday by Governor Charles H. Martin, Mayor Joseph K. Carson, Portland, and Leslie M. Scott, president of the Portland chamber of commerce.

The invitation was sent to Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador to the United States. Attached to the invitation were seals of the state, City of Portland and the Portland chamber of commerce.

Governor Martin met King George VI and Queen Elizabeth in 1927 when he was army major general in command of the Panama Canal zone. At that time they were the Duke and Duchess of York, and were on their way to Australia.

"I danced and dined with the duchess and found her to be a charming young woman," Governor Martin said.

The invitation read: "We express the hope of the City of Portland and the State of Oregon that his majesty King George VI and her majesty Queen Elizabeth will honor our city and state by extending their North American tour to include the Pacific coast of the United States.

"Following their arduous travels in the Dominion of Canada and our national interest in the northwest country will offer a splendid opportunity for rest and recreation. Portland's location on the great Columbia and Willamette rivers with its background of Mount Hood, green hills and natural beauty, will be of scenic charm and historical interest to merit their Majesties' visit.

"Adopt, Excellency, the assurances of our highest consideration."

Oregon City Men Hit Sidewalk Cut

Postoffice Officials Fear Superhighway Project to Injure Them

Postoffice officials from Oregon City appeared before the state highway commission Thursday and protested against the proposal to reduce the width of the sidewalks on the south side of Fifth street from 10 to 6 1/2 feet.

State officials said it was necessary to acquire this additional space to provide a four-lane superhighway through Oregon City.

The demonstrators alleged that the proposal of the highway commission would play havoc with the postoffice surroundings. They suggested that additional space be acquired on the north side of Fifth street.

Action is Postponed

No action was taken pending a future conference to be held at Oregon City.

The commission issued a letter directing the city to refrain from contributing funds for any political activity during the present campaign.

The letter stressed certain provisions of the corrupt practices law.

A large number of minor routine matters were discussed by the commission. The next meeting will be held in Portland November 15.

The meeting of the commission was the first held in Salem in nearly a year.

Excellent Quality Walnuts Come in

M. Klorfenn, who this fall opened a filbert and walnut deal on South Liberty street, says that at the rate walnuts are coming in now, he expects to handle nearly 100 tons of meats this year, or more than twice the tonnage he handled last year.

Walnut handlers generally report the crop is of excellent quality with little evidence of blight and that the walnut will be twice as large as last year.

At the Klorfenn plant, where the largest independent operations are carried on, either meats or nuts in the shell are taken. A crew of 30 women will be employed in cracking operations.

Bulk of the walnut and filbert tonnage in this area goes through the nut growers' cooperative here, which takes care of the production of a large membership.

Santiam Highway Work not Distant

Indication that work toward extending the North Santiam highway up the Marion side of the river from Mehama, might not be far distant was seen yesterday in inquiry made by Mark McCallister, right-of-way agent for the state highway department, as to the state's securing rights to a mile from Mill City.

McCallister also inquired about stock pile locations at Gates and Stayton in connection with work on this road.

The county already owns the necessary right-of-way for the new highway route and several miles of it has been cleared of brush by federal relief workers between Mehama and Mill City.

Six Tell Views Of Candidates

200 Hear Spokesmen Tell Qualities of Major Candidates

Spokesmen for six candidates for major offices in Oregon addressed a meeting sponsored by the Good Government league, of which Fred W. Jobelmann is president, Thursday night at the old high school auditorium, with an audience of more than 200 persons present.

The introductory remarks explained the purpose of the league as that of earnest study of candidates and issues from a non-partisan viewpoint.

William J. Pendergraft of Portland, representing Willis Mahoney, democratic candidate for United States senator, praised Senator Charles L. McNary as a fine, distinguished man but declared Oregon's representation should be balanced with a democrat. They outlined Mahoney's stand for the Townsend plan, opposition to foreign wars and insistence upon protection for the Oregon coast.

"Idle Rich"

A. C. Burk, democratic nominee for first district congressman, was described as a man "well qualified to represent any except the idle rich" by Kenneth Randall, who mentioned Burk's youth on the farm, his later employment as a steel worker and farming in Wyoming. Burk was the first man in Marion county to become interested in the Townsend plan, Randall said, since a fellow-shepherd, Mass. Clackamas, was first to broach the plan here.

Earl Snell, secretary of state, as a "cutting edge" in state business was the word picture offered by his spokesman, Kenneth Dalton, who pointed out the time and money-saving simplifications made in the matter of automobile and driver's licenses and gas tax refunds.

Watkins Speaks

Need of Oregon for a "business manager" governor was voiced by Elton Watkins, speaking for Henry Hess, democratic nominee. Watkins said Hess voted against one Townsend memorial in the state senate, but that the Townsend bill it supported was a faulty one and that at other times Hess had voted for the plan. He said "every big, bad business man" in the state was supporting Charles A. Sprague, the republican nominee.

L. A. Wilcox, after praising the academic and personal record of Rex Putnam, state superintendent of public instruction renominated as a democrat, said he believed the office should be non-partisan.

C. F. Hyde, democratic nominee for labor commissioner, was praised by Avery Thompson.

Oregon Seeding Double Acreage of Crested Grass

CORVALLIS, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Oregon, already a leading western state in production of crested wheat grass, will seed about 50,000 acres this fall, or about twice the acreage of last year, E. R. Jackman, extension crop specialist at Oregon State college, said today.

Corvallis, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The rude, rough picket offered to the poor policemen for socking him on the chin and everything was legally forgiven.

The brutal picket was tiny, 105-pound Beatrice Smith. Her victim was 230-pound policeman Clarence Byrne.

With the apology, Municipal Judge Herbert C. Kaufman told Miss Smith, "You are once more a free picket."

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Postman Joseph Yanevich's aching feet led him into jail today.

Charged with destroying mail, he was arraigned before US Commissioner Edwin K. Walker and ordered held under $500 bond.

Yanevich's arrest followed numerous complaints from housewives here who said that they were not getting all the mail they expected.

Commissioner Walker said Yanevich told him that sometimes when his feet ached he threw away part of his mail to lighten his load.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—It was no crime, Magistrate Matthew J. Troy decided today, for Mrs. Mary Cusick, 39, to blow up her little 7-year-old sedan.

Mrs. Cusick, you'll remember, was the woman who told police Tuesday she dropped a match in the car's gasoline tank because her husband took it to a "big blow-out" and left her home.

Dismissing arson charges, Magistrate Troy warned her, however that once was enough for a stunt like that.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Franklin King, young milk truck driver was in municipal court today on a charge of driving through a stop street.

He pleaded guilty, but made this explanation: "I had just proposed to my girl and just when we reached the place where the stop sign must have been—well—she said 'yes'."

T. Sauls made a quick decision. "Young man, under the same circumstances I guess I'd have forgotten to look for stop signs too. Case dismissed."

large tea to be held this afternoon at the Marion hotel. The affair, expected to be the largest attended of the women's political meetings to date, will open at 2 o'clock. All women interested are invited to attend, regardless of political affiliation.

And tonight at the armory occurs that republican club benefit dance, with Miss Betty Jackson who was once "Miss San Diego" as a special attraction.

Henry Hess, democratic candidate for governor, was at Ashland Thursday while his republican opponent spoke at More and is expected home sometime today. Incidentally, there has been a demand for copies of Mr. Sprague's radio address of last Monday night, and we are advised that there is now a supply at Sprague headquarters in the Marion hotel.

The Marion county legislative candidates are getting around the county at a pretty lively clip these days, but if any outstanding issues are appearing we've missed them. So far they seem to be campaigning on their own merits.

An Earl Snell for reelection club was formed at Albany this week with C. H. Wieder as chairman, Mrs. G. McClellan as vice-chairman, Robert L. Marks secretary, John Dooley treasurer and E. B. Williams, Dr. J. C. Gray, Dr. L. M. Bain, Melvin Good, R. M. Russell, R. R. Cronise and Mrs. C. H. Murphy on the executive board.

Remember, if you've got a political meeting to promote, the What's Doing department is the place to get it mentioned. The mention may be brief but if you're lucky it will be on the front page. We're playing no favorites.

Hi-Y Club Formed By Silverton Boys

Moore was accompanied here by Carl McLeod, Don Barnick, Virgil Stewart, Bob McKee and Clinton Wampler.

The building will be occupied by the school of arts and letters, service department of home economics and the university cooperative bookstore.

Its completion will represent a three-year building program of $1,000,000.

Power Buyers Save $46,000

Mountain States Company Files New Tariffs to Apply Next Year

Willamette valley division patrons of the Mountain States Power company will save in excess of $46,000 annually, as the result of new tariffs filed with State Utility Commissioner N. G. Wallace yesterday.

The first of these tariffs affects the commercial lighting schedules with 2400 customers involved. Savings under this tariff will aggregate slightly in excess of $40,000 a year. This tariff became operative Thursday.

Commercial Rate Cut

The top step in the commercial lighting rate, formerly 6 cents per kilowatt hour, has been reduced to 5 cents, with corresponding reductions in other blocks of this rate. This schedule affects lighting service for stores, commercial institutions, garages, service stations, schools and churches.

Street Lighting Cheaper

The other tariff is for street lighting service to municipalities. Under this schedule reduced rates are offered to cities where the street lighting system is company-owned, and to municipalities where ownership of the lighting system rests with the city.

Wallace estimated that the savings in street lighting rates would total $200 annually.

The Willamette valley division of the Mountain States Power company includes service in Polk, Linn, Lane, Marion and Benton counties.

Double Liability's Repeal Advocated

Requirement Discourages New Banks, Cox Asserts in Lions Address

Repeal of the state law imposing double liability on holders of bank stock was urged here yesterday by Chester M. Cox, member of the executive board of the Oregon State Bankers association. A measure to that effect will appear on the November ballot.

The double liability requirement discourages organization of new banks, especially in smaller communities, Cox declared, and little reason for its continuance has existed since formation of the federal deposit insurance corporation. Under the federal insurance system 98 per cent of the nation's bank deposits are now fully insured and the remaining 2 per cent are protected up to $5000, he pointed out.

Only 17 banks in Oregon are now subject to the double liability requirement. Their aggregate capitalization is $2,500,000 and deposits approximately $33,000,000. The law applied only to state banks organized since 1913.

"Democratic" Tea Is Albany Event

ALBANY—At what was designated as a "democratic tea party" Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Floyd Bilyeu, a women's Hess-for-governor club was organized by the women of the Albany community.

Nellie Compton was elected president, Alice Schoel and Mrs. Lester Conser vice chairmen, and Pearl Grosghon and Mable Grove publicity committee. The first meeting of the newly organized club is to be held Tuesday of next week.

Senator Cortis D. Stringer was present and gave a talk on Hess and his record in the state legislature.

Hess Tells Group At SONS of Plans For new Colleges

ASHLAND, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Henry L. Hess, democratic nominee for governor, was roundly applauded today when he told Southern Oregon Normal school students of plans before the state system of higher education for the eventual founding of state universities here and at La Grande to augment present normal schools.

Three speeches were made today by Hess, who made a radio address at Medford last night. Clarence Wagoner, Portland, followed Hess on the air and predicted that "Hess would be defeated 2-1 in his home county." Hess predicted a 3-1 victory for himself there.

Lively Upturn Strikes Grain

Wheat and Corn Both Are up Over Cent Bushel as Trading Ends

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Lively upturn of corn and wheat values, 1 1/2 cents a bushel maximum, took place today, starting with a sudden outburst of speculative buying of corn.

Eastern interests led the buying, with previous sellers actively reversing their market position. Talk was current that a noted individual trader who has had a sensationably checked career both in grains and securities, was operating on a large scale in corn.

Movement Slow

Death of offerings of corn futures early today, together with indications of persistent efforts at Washington to aid agricultural prices, did much to stimulate market gains.

At the close, Chicago corn futures were up 1 1/2 cents to 3 1/2 higher compared with yesterday's finish. Wheat 46-46 1
