Dr. Schaefer Hits At Unemployment

Forum Speaker Bitter at Failure to Put Idle Into Production

"Oldsters have taken the stage for themselves while youths who must ultimately support them continue to attend the school of idleness," declared Dr. Marvin S. Schaefer, federal forum leader and professor of social sciences at the College of Puget Sound, in the public forum meeting in the old high school auditorium Wednesday night.

"We as a people, accept responsibility at the point of a gun, fail to recognize the necessity of adjusting our economic system to give our youth, the technologically displaced, and the victims of the abandonment of business enterprise, the opportunity to become economically productive again," continued Schaefer.

Relief No Remedy

He referred to the present relief situation as a riddle which if left unsolved would mark the demise of both capitalism and democracy. Expressing the belief that "we have never developed a plan nor a social mind adapted to our type of economy and social organization," Schaefer pointed to the serious implications of our failure to recognize relief as a social-economic rather than a political problem, since both of our major political parties have experimented at length with the problem and in the main the riddle remains unsolved.

Three 4H Projects Are Started at Eldridge

ELDRIEDGE—Three 4H club projects were organized last week and this work will begin soon in the upper grade room at Eldridge where Mrs. Etta Avin is in charge. Club work chosen was boy's handicraft, clothing projects I and II and cooking I and II.

The county health nurse was summoned Thursday to visit Eldridge.

Lebanon Hunters Have Trying Trip Home Due to Load of Their Kill

LEBANON — Phil Landline, Mrs. Lanning and George Peterson had a trying experience in returning from Valley Falls with two bucks in their car.

The load proved too heavy, for the brakes went out of control as Mrs. Lanning was shifting gear and the car left the road and they were compelled to spend an uncomfortable night there as they were far from shelter and had to wait until morning to get a Lebanon wrecker to come to their aid and take in the wrecked car.

Watkins Speaks In Hess' Favor

"With a governor unfriendly to Roosevelt, we may expect the end of national development in Oregon," said Elton Watkins of Portland in an address over radio station KSLM here Thursday night.

"Common sense tells us that no administration is going to help a state unless its people invite it."

Watkins spoke on behalf of Henry Hess, democratic nominee for governor, and in the conclusion of his talk said that Hess would win, with the support of all democrats in the state "with but the exception of a baker's dozen."

The speaker declared that Hess was a believer in the CCC, the PWA and the WPA, and believed also that the state should take the initiative and apply for projects.

"Common decency would forbid Mr. Sprague asking Roosevelt to do anything for Oregon," he said in referring to the republican candidate.

Musical Service At Congregational

A musical worship service is planned by the pastor and choir of the Knight Memorial Congregational church for Sunday morning.

The chorus choir will present three numbers, "We Love the Place, O God," "Flieger," "Sunset and Evening Star," Wilson, and "How Excellent is Thy Name," Wooler; a three part chorus of women's voices "Abide With Me," Lincoln; and a solo, "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears," Caro Roma, sung by Richard Smart. The service includes also a brief address on "The Song of God's Statutes," by Rev. H. C. Stover.
