Capra and Cast of His Latest Comedy Now at Grand

Instrument Class Will Open Friday

LIBERTY—Band and orchestra music instruction classes will be started here under adult education next Friday at 7 p. m., at the hall. L. W. Robertson of Turner will be the teacher. Both children and adults are eligible to join the classes. Two classes are expected, a beginner's and an advanced class. The instruments are not furnished.
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walker have just completed moving from their home to that of their son, Laurie Walker, where they will occupy the new wing of the house.

Nebraska Man Seeking Location; Revivals in Progress at Unionvale

A. D. Williams returned the first of the week from Washington where he went to attend the funeral Saturday of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Hall in Centralia. He also visited relatives in Raymond and South Bend.
UNIONVALE—John Gillian of Lincoln, Neb., arrived Monday looking up a location with view to locating permanently in the Willamette valley.
Good attendance is being had at the series of special evangelistic meetings at the Unionvale Evangelistic church.

Lienings Return From Trip East

Rev. and Mrs. G. F. Liening, who live near Jefferson, have just returned from an interesting month's trip to visit relatives. Rev. Liening, formerly pastor of the First Evangelical church of Salem, is now retired.
Traveling by train the couple first visited their son G. F., junior in Spokane, who is minister of the First Evangelical church. They next visited relatives in Minot, N. D., then more in Buxton, N. D. In Madison, Wis., they visited their daughter, Mrs. Thomas E. Allen, the former Esther Liening of Salem.

Women of Milligan Family Aid to Milligan Family Who Lost Home in Fire

Returning, they stopped at Buxton and were joined by Mrs. Anna Glassman and Miss Clara Liening (sister and niece of Rev. Liening) and arrived in Salem on Thursday morning. The visitors will remain with them through the winter.
AIRLIE—The women of the neighborhood gathered at the Aid house Tuesday and quilted for the Milligan family who recently lost everything in a fire. Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin moved their family to the Wallace Wierert mill where he will act as night watchman.
