Lewis' Death Grieves Many

Governor Martin Declares Replacement Task Will Be Difficult

State officials were shocked when advised of the death of Warden James Lewis of the Oregon state penitentiary here Fri-

Governor Charles H. Martin said: "I always have found Warden Lewis sound, sensible and familiar with prison discipline. He was firm but just and free from that misdirected emotionalism which at times wrecks such institutions. It is going to be a difficult task to find a warden so thoroughly equipped by character and training to succeed him.

Holman Shocked State Treasurer Holman: "I was deeply shocked at Jim Lewis' death. It is a serious loss to the state. Lewis was a splendid gentleman and an honest and courageous warden. Lewis was at all times a square shooter with the convicts and they respected him, I considered Lewis my personal friend."

Secretary of State Snell: "Jim Lewis was not only one of the hest wardens Oregon has ever but he was outstanding in such service in the entire United States. He had the unusual faculty of gaining the admiration and respect and absolu.9 -confidence of the prison inmates. His word was as good as his bond. Oregon has suffered a serious

Poles Don't Want Jews Sent Them

WARSAW, Oct. 28 .- (AP)-Poland tonight announced "energetic Polish intervention" in Berlin against Germany's deportation of Polish Jews.

It was reported in Warsaw that negotiations were under way by which Poland hoped to get Germany to rescind deportation measures taken against Polish Jews and to permit those actually expelled from Germany to take their property with them.

(Germany rounded up several thousand Polish Jews today to send them back to their homelaud and as many more were expected to be started toward the Polish frontier soon.)

An authoritative informant declared the drive against Polish Jews resulted from "a misunderstanding" of Poland's new citizenship law which requires revalidation of all Polish passports held by residents abroad.

(Continued from page 1) will spend the coming week in the upper Willamette villey, with tion by telephone to democratic headquarters lere. The date for the democratic rally in Silverton will be announced tday, but assurance was given that Mr. Hess would attend it. He will also attend the big democratic rally at the armory here Wednesday night, November 2. Democratic headquarters reports that according to a survey conducted by Hess workers during the past two days, the sentiment generally is similar to that in the Roosevelt campaign of 1936.

Undoubtedly the Salem Ad club does not comprise a cross section of public sentiment in Oregon, nor necessarily of sentiment in Salem. But here are the results of its straw vote: Holman 13, Mahoney 2.

A noisy Willis Mahoney-for-Senator caravan of Salem, Stayton and Portland cars, with a sound truck, made a big circle through Marion county Friday. Stops were made and Mr. Mahoney spoke at the following places: Jefferson, Turner, Marion, Aumsville, Stayton (where luncheon was held with the Federated Women's club), Sublimity, Silverton, Mt. Angel, Gervais, Hubbard, Aurora. Mr. Mahoney then went to Hillsboro where he spoke at a major democratic rally.

A straw ballot taken on the streets of Jefferson Friday Indicated trends decidedly different from those which this column has reported heretofore. Thirty-two persons were asked to vote and the only republicans shown winners were Charles A. Sprague for governor, Earl Snell for secretary of state, Ronald Jones and Douglas McKay for state senator, Hannah Martin and Walter Fuehrer for the legislature. Here are the figures on the major offices:

Sprague 17, Hess 15. Mahoney 20, Holman 12. Burk 24, Mott 8. Snell 21, Edson 11.

Jones 22, McKay 19, Livesley 3. White 10. Leaders in the representative list were Richards 29, Cooter 26, Martin 24, Fuehrer 20.
