

Weddings Are Solemnized In the Capital During Holiday Week-End

Armistice day, with the double holiday following, was the appropriate time for weddings which several maids chose. Both church and home ceremonies were solemnized here.

Miss Kolbe Wed at Church Rites
A beautiful church wedding was solemnized Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the American Lutheran church when Miss Clarice R. Kolbe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Kolbe, became the bride of Mr. Thomas A. Allport, son of Mrs. Norman Allport, with Rev. P. W. Erikson officiating. The altar was banked with bouquets of pastel chrysanthemums, ferns and white tapers.

Miss Louigne Brietzke played the wedding marches and accompaniments. During the ceremony she played "To a Wild Rose." Mr. J. Manning Nelson sang "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly" and Mr. Virgil Mason sang "Until."

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, wore a bridal gown of white satin fashioned on princess lines and court train. The dress was trimmed with lace insertions on the shoulders of the sleeves and the yolk of the bodice with seed pearl trimming at the neckline. Her finger-tip length tulle veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms and bouvardia. The bride's only ornament was a gold locket and chain, a gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of shell pink rosebuds, white chrysanthemums and bouvardia with streamers of white ribbon.

Attending the bride were her two sisters, Mrs. W. M. Blair of Berkeley, Calif., and Mrs. L. J. Stewart. Mrs. Blair wore a frock of pink lace trimmed in blue and Mrs. Stewart's dress was of blue lace with pink trimming. They wore sprays of flowers in their hair and carried colonial bouquets of white chrysanthemums and rosebuds with net frills to match their frocks.

Little Miss Kay Lovell, niece of the groom, was flower girl and wore a yellow Kate Greenway dress with rosebuds. She wore yellow flowers in her hair and carried a nosegay of yellow chrysanthemums. Master Jimmy Stewart, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mr. Cecil Quesseth was best man for Mr. Allport and ushers were Mr. Don Lovell, Mr. Carl Allport, Mr. Lyle Ertsgaard, Mr. Oliver Martinson and Mr. Lawrence Allport.

The bride's mother wore a gown of teal blue matelasse trimmed in gold and the groom's mother wore a moss green Romaine crepe and both wore corsages of talisman roses.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church parlors. Mrs. Elton H. Thompson and Mrs. J. Albert Sholseth presided at the urns and Mrs. Lucille Harry of Portland cut the wedding cake. Miss June Aasheim passed out the groom's cake. Assisting in the serving were Miss Willa Ames, Miss Frances Grover, Miss Arlene Sholseth, Miss Louigne Brietzke, Miss Elizabeth Dotson, Mrs. Lloyd Pugh, Mrs. Carl Allport and Mrs. Don Lovell.

For going away the bride wore a wool frock of Persian green with black fur coat and black accessories. Her corsage was of roses and chrysanthemums. After a wedding trip the couple will return to Salem to reside.

Lamb-Grace Vows Said
Miss Ruth Abbott Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Theodore Grace, became the bride of Mr. Dwight Virgil Lamb, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lamb, at an impressive ceremony at the home of the bride's parents Thursday night. Rev. James E. Milligan performed the ceremony. Mrs. H. L. Mack of Corvallis played the wedding music.

The bride wore an afternoon gown of teal blue trimmed in gold and carried white chrysanthemums. The honor attendant was Miss Frances Tiest, who wore wine and carried bronze chrysanthemums. Mr. James Forrest acted as best man for Mr. Lamb.

At the reception following the wedding Mrs. Marvin Rench, sister of the bride, poured and Miss Maxine Miller of Molalla cut the cake. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. M. A. Mack of Monmouth, Miss Genevieve and Miss Gloria-gene Grace of Salem.

For traveling the bride wore a tailored tweed topcoat and Paris sand accessories and corsage of white gardenias. The couple will make their home at Willamina where Mr. Lamb has a teaching position.

Miss Weisser Bride of Mr. Scott
At a simple but impressive ceremony Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock Miss Erma Weisser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Weisser, became the bride of Mr. Hugh A. Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Scott of Portland. The vows were read at the home of the bride's parents with Dr. J. Hudson Ballard of Portland officiating in the presence of members of the two families.

Mrs. O. D. Adams sang "I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony and Mrs. W. H. East played the accompaniment and wedding march. The service was performed in front of two large windows at one end of the living room banked with an arrangement of chrysanthemums and tapers.

The bride, who was given away in marriage by her father, wore an afternoon frock of deep purple alpaca crepe fashioned with plain skirt flared in the back and short tufted jacket with lace trim at the neckline and puffed sleeves. She wore a corsage of white orchids. For traveling she wore a beige tweed lace coat fashioned princess style with full sleeves and collar and cuffs of Kolinsky fur. She wore a matching hat and brown suede accessories.

Mrs. Lee Weisser was honor attendant for her sister-in-law. She wore a frock of rust alpaca with gored skirt and trimmed in chenille embroidery. She carried a colonial bouquet of talisman roses and bouvardia. Mr. Allan Scott of Seattle acted as best man for his brother.

A wedding breakfast at Schneider's followed the ceremony and the table was centered with an arrangement of fruit and tapers. Following a wedding trip the couple will be at home at 735 North Capitol.

Mrs. Scott attended Salem schools and Willamette university and Mr. Scott is a graduate of the University of Washington. He is now connected with the secretary of state's office.

Miss Louise Ashcraft Bride
The First Christian church was the setting for a lovely wedding Friday night at 8 o'clock when Miss Louise Ashcraft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Ashcraft, became the bride of Mr. Warner Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jackson. Rev. Guy L. Drill performed the ceremony.

Mrs. John Schmidt, jr., played the wedding march and the accompaniments. Mr. John Schmidt sang "O Promise Me" and "Because" and Miss Ruth Reaser sang "I Love You Truly." Miss Bettyrae McGahan lighted the tapers and the altar was decorated with baskets of chrysanthemums, palms and ferns.

The bride wore a gown of white lace fashioned with full skirt and bolero jacket. She wore a fingertip tulle veil with a Juliet cap and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Theron Ashcraft of San Francisco, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a frock of teal blue net with corsage of roses and bouvardia and matching wreath in her hair. Miss Elene Douglas was the bridesmaid and wore rose pink net with matching corsage and flowers in her hair.

Mr. George Jackson, brother of the groom, was best man and Mr. Theron Ashcraft was the usher.

A reception in the church parlors followed the wedding with the wives of the elders and deacons in charge assisted by the Crusader girls including the Misses Josephine Hill, Erma Cole, Bettyrae McGahan, Opal Yates, Marian Minthorn, Gladys McKay, Bernice Caplinger, Ruth Reaser, Helen Rose Lee, Beth DeLapp, Hazel Crowley and Nola Clark.

After a wedding trip the couple will be at home in Salem. Mrs. Jackson is a graduate of Salem schools and the Oregon School of Beauty Culture. Mr. Jackson attended the Capital Business college and Salem schools. He is now with the Imperial Fruit Distributors.

Methodist Churches Will Meet

Women of both the First Methodist and the Leslie Methodist churches will join to discuss the accomplishments and aims of their church in a "safari" at the First church on Tuesday at 10 o'clock. The word "safari" comes from the African word for journey of exploration and this is the second such nation-wide undertaking of Methodist women.

Seen and Heard

By JERYME UPSTON

LOVELY Rose Bampton, metropolitan opera star, delighted Salem folk Tuesday night when she appeared in concert as the first guest artist of the Salem Community Concert association. A packed house... including music lovers and teachers, numerous children with their parents, Wilamette and high school students. Miss Bampton was a picture on the stage in her distinctive gown of white chiffon fashioned with pleated skirt, wide gold girdle, gold edging the bottom of the dress and gold slippers... with the gown she wore a short cape of tulle. Leaving the reception she was wearing a white evening wrap shot with gold threads and with white fur collar... Miss Bampton, a charming brunette, was very gracious with her encores and unusual with her graceful courtesies... She was presented with a bouquet of yellow, orange and gold chrysanthemums... In private life Miss Bampton is Mrs. Wilfred Pelletier... her husband being conductor of the Metropolitan and Montreal Symphony orchestra... She calls it a "commuting marriage," but in spite of the fact that their work keeps them apart many months of the year, they are the happiest of couples... A grand reception followed the concert with Miss Bampton greeting the guests... Also in the line were Mr. and Mrs. J. Lyman Steed, the latter wearing black lace with gardenia corsage, and the accompanist, Mr. Nils Nelson. Punch was served at two tables and presiding were Mrs. Horace J. Thomas in black taffeta and Miss Helen MacHilton in a quaint gown of black taffeta, puffed sleeves, full skirt and tiny embroidered flowers all over... The identical tables were decorated with an arrangement of fruit with cranberries extending from the center and at the other end tiny musical figures... Greeting guests were Mrs. William H. Lytle wearing a dinner gown of olive green crepe with gold belt, Mrs. George R. K. Moorhead and Mrs. George R. K. Moorhead and Mrs. George R. K. Moorhead in red and blue taffeta respectively... A few of the guests... Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Paulus... the latter just back from a trip to California, very chic wearing fox fur and a doll hat of teal blue with duobonnet trim... Mrs. David Bennett Hill in a becoming chubby jacket of skunk... Mrs. Ora F. McIntyre in black printed with large flowers... Mrs. Karl Beck in a wool frock of slate blue with black pony coat and hat with daughter, Miriam... Chatting with the William Burghards were Miss Elizabeth Lord and Miss Edith Schryver... Mrs. Bruce Spaulding talking a minute with Miss Bampton and receiving her autograph... In another group... Mrs. Charles Grey, Mrs. Reuben Boise and Mrs. Frank Snedecor... Mrs. Garlen Simpson wearing a becoming wine felt and dress... Robert Clarke escorting Mary Virginia Nohlgren who wore a good-looking green coat with red fox collar... Smartly dressed in all black were Mrs. D. A. Hodge and Mrs. Frank Power... Glimpsed at one time in the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Douglas and Dr. and Mrs. Chester A. Downs.

TOWN CLUB dance was a brilliant affair of a week ago at the Marion hotel with numerous couples of the younger set attending. Informal parties preceded the affair and several guests from out-of-town were noted... The Rex Adolphs had as their guests Dr. and Mrs. Charles O. Sturdevant of Portland, she in a striking gown of black velvet trimmed in lace and a square neckline, her only ornament was a strand of pearls at the neck... Just back from their European honeymoon are Dr. and Mrs. Terry King (Laneta Bellinger)... Laneta with her hair high wore an all white gown... Here from Eugene for the occasion were Dr. and Mrs. John Griffith... Mrs. Harold Olinger was stunning in a gown of black crepe with gold kid applique girdle for contrast and the front of the skirt was pleated... Two becoming up sweep coiffures worn by Mrs. Reynolds Allen and Mrs. Bradford Collins... the former in a chic frock of Eleanor blue satin, red shoes for color and feathers in her hair... the latter wearing black taffeta with lace trim... Mrs. Waldron Byers was lovely to look at in a gown of black velvet made with a low V neckline and white lace insertions... Mrs. Carl Collins also wore black velvet with pink and blue plumes arranged in her coiffure... Mrs. Alden Adolph chatting with Mrs. Howard Adams and wearing teal blue taffeta with girdle of gold.

INFORMALITY reigned at the delightful and one of the loveliest parties this fall a week ago when Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips and their son, William, were at home to a large group of their friends... the occasion-marked the birthday of William, jr... Gorgeous flower arrangements and lighted tapers adding a warm note to the guest rooms... Different rooms were lavishly decorated with five small bouquets of fuschias arranged in a row in the center... The serving table... centered with a beautiful bouquet of mulberry chrysanthemums and flanked by six white tapers in crystal holders... at one end a tiered birthday cake admired by many. Punch was served in the game room... Mrs. Phillips was stunning in a gown of black printed satin fashioned with jacket and about the rooms were Mrs. Wallace Bonesteel wearing black and wore her hair high... Assisting white taffeta... Mrs. Merrill Ohling in black with wine em-broidery trim... At the serving table Mrs. Roy Keene and Mrs. Charles Olson, sister of the hostess... Many of the guests included mothers and fathers with their children, both young and old having a grand time chatting together... Among them were Congressman and Mrs. James Motz and their attractive daughters Mr. and Mrs. George Otten and Patty... Mrs. Jerrold Owen and Marianne... Mrs. Frank Grey, Mrs. Josephine Stewart, Mrs. Margaret Cosper, Mrs. Frank Spencer, Mrs. Jennie Bulck.

National Book Week Begins Today

Salem plans to observe book week, a national celebration, under the sponsorship of the Salem public library beginning today.

A feature of our local week's program will be the presence of Nora Burglon, author of "Sticks Across the Chimney," "Children of the Soil" and other works for children. Miss Burglon will speak in the children's room of the Salem public library Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the children.

Adults will have an opportunity to hear Miss Burglon Friday night when she will speak informally in the fireplace room of the library at 7:30 o'clock. The writer, who spends much time abroad, has just returned from Czechoslovakia where she had gone for material for a forthcoming book. She happened to be in the Sudetenland at the time of the dispute. Miss Burglon will appear in costume and will speak informally giving her impressions of the countries she visited, stressing the crafts in which she is much interested. She will be introduced by Miss Mabel G. Robertson, member of the board of trustees of the public library. Tickets for the lecture, which is free, may be had at the circulation desk.

Also on the program for the week are two appearances of Miss Elizabeth Carey, children's librarian, who will talk over KSLM. On Monday at 4:15 she will tell the story of "Mr. Popper's Penguins" and on Wednesday at 4:15 she will tell the story of Nora Burglon's "Sticks Across the Chimney."

"New books, new worlds" is the slogan for national book week. Throughout the United States, renewed efforts are made to further the cause of good reading. Book week originated twenty years ago when it was suggested by Franklin Matthews, chief librarian of the Boy Scouts, who saw the need for a campaign to improve children's reading. Now, book week is concerned with adult as well as juvenile literature and schools, organizations, publishers and booksellers are cooperating with libraries in observing the week.

Mrs. Reuben Boise was hostess to members of the OT club at a 1 o'clock luncheon Friday afternoon at her North Summer street home. Cards were in play during the afternoon. Additional guests were Mrs. Charles McGarr, Mrs. Charles Grey, Mrs. Frank Snedecor and Mrs. Josephine Parrish Stewart.
